Mixed Method Design Janice M Morse, 2016-07-08 The use of mixed methods designs for conducting research has become a major trend in social science research. Renowned methodological experts Janice Morse and Linda Niehaus present a guide to intermediate and experienced researchers on the possibilities inherent in mixed method research. They offer the basic principles of conducting this kind of study then examine a wide variety of design options available to the researcher including their strengths and weaknesses and when to use them. Providing examples from a variety of disciplines examining potential threats to validity and showing the relationship between method and theory the book will be a valuable addition to the methodologist's library and a useful text in courses in research design.

Reclaiming English Language Arts Methods Courses Jory Brass, Allen Webb, 2014-09-04 Reclaiming English Language Arts Methods Courses showcases innovative work in teacher education that fosters teachers' capacities as reflective practitioners and public intellectuals, extends traditional boundaries of methods courses on teaching the English language arts literacy children's and young adult literature and embodies democratic and critical politics that go beyond the reductive economic aims and traditional classroom practices sanctioned by educational policies and corporate educational reforms. Featuring leading and emerging scholars in English language arts teacher education, each chapter provides rich and concrete examples of elementary and secondary methods courses rooted in contemporary research and theory, on-line resources and honest appraisals of the possibilities, tensions and limits of doing teacher education differently in a top-down time of standards-based education, high-stakes testing, teacher assessment and neoliberal education reforms. This book offers important resources and support for teacher educators and graduate students to explore alternative visions for aligning university methods courses with current trends in English and cultural studies, critical sociocultural literacy, new literacies and web 2.0 tools and teaching the English language arts in multiethnic, multilingual and underserved urban communities.
