Knowledge for a Sustainable World

The search for answers to the issue of global sustainability has become increasingly urgent. In the context of higher education, many universities and academics are seeking new insights that can shift our dependence on ways of living that rely on the exploitation of so many and the degradation of so much of our planet. This is the vision that drives SANORD and many of the researchers and institutions within its network. Although much of the research is on a relatively small scale, the vision is steadily gaining momentum, forging dynamic collaborations and pathways to new knowledge. The contributors to this book cover a variety of subject areas and offer fresh insights about chronically under-researched parts of the world. Others document and critically reflect on innovative approaches to cross-continental teaching and research collaborations. This book will be of interest to anyone involved in the transformation of higher education or the practicalities of cross-continental and cross-disciplinary academic collaboration. The Southern African-Nordic Centre (SANORD) is a network of higher education institutions from Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Botswana, Namibia, Malawi, South Africa, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Universities in the southern African and Nordic regions that are not yet members are encouraged to join.

Insidious Capital

With a team of anthropologists and geographers, Insidious Capital explores “value and values” in what may well be the last phase of capitalist globalization. In a global perspective of fast transforming social spaces that move from East to West, the book explores the struggles around the exploitation and valuation of labor, environmental politics, expansion of the ground rent, new hierarchies, the contradictions of higher education, the off shoring of “immaterial” labor, the illiberal right, and the mobilizations against it. This is a book about the variegated frontlines of value within an uneven, but not random, geography of capitalist expansion.

Mahapatra, 2016-09-15 Sustainable practices within the mining and energy sectors are assuming greater significance due to uncertainty and change within the global economy and safety security and health concerns This book examines sustainability issues facing the mining and energy sectors by addressing six major themes Mining and Mineral Processing Metallurgy and Recycling Environment Energy Socioeconomic and Regulatory and Sustainable Materials and Fleets Emphasizing an integrated transdisciplinary approach it deliberates on optimizing mining productivity and energy efficiency and discusses integrated waste management practices It discusses risk management cost cutting and integration of sustainable practices for long term business value It gives a comprehensive outlook for sustainable mineral futures from academic and industry perspectives covering mine to mill optimization waste risk and water management improved efficiencies in mining tools and equipment and performance indicators for sustainable developments It covers how innovation and research underpin management of natural resources including sustainable carbon management Focuses on mining and mineral processing metallurgy and recycling the environment energy socioeconomic and regulatory issues and sustainable materials and fleets Describes metallurgy and recycling and uses economic environmental and social parameter analyses to identify areas for improvement in iron steel aluminium lead zinc copper and gold production Discusses current research on mining performance indicators for sustainable development sustainability in mining equipment risk and safety management and renewable energy resources Covers alternative and conventional energy sources for the mineral sector as well water treatment and remediation and energy sustainability in mining Provides an overview of sustainable carbon management Offers an interdisciplinary approach with international focus Postcolonial Legality: Law, Power and Politics in Zambia Jeremy Gould, 2023-03-24 This book interrogates the ideology and practices of liberal constitutionalism in the Zambian postcolony The analysis focuses on the residual political and governmental effects of an imperial form of power embodied in the person of the republican president termed here prerogativism Through systematic long term ethnographic engagement with Zambian constitutionalist activists lawyers judges and civic leaders the study examines how prerogativism has shaped the postcolonial political landscape and limited the possibilities of constitutional liberalism This is revealed in the ways that repeated efforts to reform the constitution have sidelined popular participation and thus failed to address the deep divide between a small elite stratum from which the constitutional activists are drawn and the marginalized masses of the population Along the way the study documents the intimate interpenetration of political and legal action and examines how prerogativism delimits the political engagements of elite actors Special attention is given to the reluctance of legal activists to engage with popular politics and to the conservative ethos that undermines efforts to pursue a jurisprudence of transformational constitutionalism in the findings of the Constitutional Court The work contributes to the rising interest in applying socio legal analysis to the statutory domain in postcolonial jurisdictions It offers a pioneering attempt to deconstruct

the amorphous and ambivalent assemblage of ideas and practices related to constitutionalism through detailed ethnographic interrogation It will appeal to scholars students and practitioners with an interest in theorizing challenges to political liberalism in postcolonial contexts as well as in rethinking the methodological toolbox of socio legal analysis A

spite of persecution and waning in some areas of the world Christianity in Africa has continued to grow Yet alongside the flourishing of the church comes challenges of syncretism and pluralism In this ninth volume from the annual conference of the Africa Society of Evangelical Theology contributors explore the African Christians understanding of church through contextual ecclesiology These African theologians address irrefutable realities for the African church while covering an extensive range of topics such as the priesthood of all believers the functions and ministries of church in society and church growth strategies Presenting ecclesiology through the lenses of scriptural examinations historical theology systematic examinations and practical theology these essays work together to build a contemporary understanding of the burgeoning church in Africa through African voices Power and Informality in Urban Africa Laura Stark, Annika Björnsdotter

Teppo, 2021-12-16 Urban Africa is undergoing a transformation unlike anywhere else in the world as unprecedented numbers of people migrate to rapidly expanding cities But despite the growing body of work on urban Africa the lives of these new city dwellers have received relatively little attention particularly when it comes to crucial issues of power and inequality This interdisciplinary collection brings together contributions from urban studies geography and anthropology to provide new insights into the social and political dynamics of African cities as well as uncovering the causes and consequences of urban inequality Featuring rich new ethnographic research data and case studies drawn from across the continent the collection shows that Africa's new urbanites have adapted to their environs in ways which often defy the assumptions of urban planners By examining the experiences of these urban residents in confronting issues of power and agency the contributors consider how such insights can inform more effective approaches to research city planning and development both in Africa and beyond

Migration, Urbanity and Cosmopolitanism in a Globalized World Catherine Lejeune, Delphine Pagès-El Karoui, Camille Schmoll, Hélène Thiollet, 2021-05-10 This open access book draws a theoretically productive triangle between urban studies theories of cosmopolitanism and migration studies in a global context It provides a unique encompassing and situated view on the various relations between cosmopolitanism and urbanity in the contemporary world Drawing on a variety of cities in Latin America Europe Asia Africa and North America it overcomes the Eurocentric bias that has marked debate on cosmopolitanism from its inception The contributions highlight the crucial role of migrants as actors of urban change and targets of urban policies thus reconciling empirical and normative approaches to cosmopolitanism By addressing issues such as cosmopolitanism and urban geographies of power locations and temporalities of subaltern cosmopolites political meanings and effects of cosmopolitan practices and discourses in urban contexts it revisits contemporary debates on superdiversity urban stratification and local incorporation and assess the role of migration and mobility in globalization and social change

Hierarchies of Power Imam Ardhianto, 2022-04-11 This book focuses on a Pentecostal Evangelical Kenyah community in central Borneo a region that crosses the border between Malaysia and Indonesia The book argues that the Pentecostal Evangelical Pentecostal mode of religious authority and organization has the capacity to adapt to both the pre-existing hierarchical traditional institution such as Adat and modern egalitarian social forms It has been necessary within the context of Kenyah's experience of religious change as it enabled many actors from various social classes to obtain and perceive religious authority in a specific local and regional political religious situation while promoting their identity as egalitarian and autonomous modern subjects In contrast with other studies on the Pentecostal church that emphasize its egalitarian spirit as a factor that supports its impressive growth the book contends that its adaptive structural characteristics have enabled the development of this specific Christian denomination to expand rapidly and play a dominant position in contemporary social life in various parts of the world The book thus provides novel findings in the study of religious change in Southeast Asia by enriching the discussion of historical transformation in the region and analyzing the articulation of global and regional Christian movements with the socio-political characteristics of Bornean society

Urban Nature Michelle L. Cocks, Charlie M. Shackleton, 2020-11-15 This book showcases the diversity of ways in which urban residents from varying cultural contexts view interact engage with and give meaning to urban nature aiming to counterbalance the dominance of Western depictions and values of urban nature and design Urban nature has up to now largely been defined planned and managed in a way that is heavily dominated by Western understandings values and appreciations which has spread through colonialism and globalisation As cities increasingly represent a diversity of cultures and urban nature is being increasingly recognised as contributing to residents wellbeing belonging and overall quality of life it is important to consider the numerous ways in which urban nature is understood and appreciated This collection of case studies includes examples from Africa Asia Europe North and South America and reflects on the multi dimensional aspects of engagements with urban nature through a biocultural diversity lens The chapters cover several themes such as how engagements with nature contribute to a sense of wellbeing and belonging the implications that diversity has on the provision design and management of urban environments and the threats inhibiting residents abilities to engage meaningfully with nature The book challenges the dominant discourse Western ideological understandings and meta narratives of modernisation and unilineal urban transitions A timely addition to the literature Urban Nature Enriching Belonging Wellbeing and Bioculture offers an alternative to Western ideological understandings of nature and values and will be of great interest to those working in human and environmental urban ecology It will also be key reading for students in the relevant fields of anthropology development studies geography social ecology and urban studies

Spaceship in the Desert Gökçe Günel, 2019-02-14 In 2006 Abu Dhabi launched an ambitious project to construct the world's first zero carbon city Masdar City In Spaceship in the Desert Gökçe Günel examines the development and construction of Masdar City's renewable energy and clean technology infrastructures providing an illuminating portrait of an international group of engineers designers and students who attempted to build a post oil future in Abu Dhabi While many of Masdar's initiatives such as developing a new energy currency and a driverless rapid transit network have stalled or not met expectations Günel analyzes how these initiatives contributed to rendering the future a thinly disguised version of the fossil fueled present Spaceship in the Desert tells the story of Masdar at once a utopia sponsored by the Emirati government and a well resourced company involving different actors who participated in the project each with their own agendas and desires

Police in Africa Jan Beek, Mirco Göpfert, Olly Owen, Johnny Steinberg, 2017-08-15 Often overlooked by journalists and scholars the police forces of the African continents are a significant and little studied phenomenon This book seeks to redress that lacuna The studies span the continent from South Africa to Sierra Leone keeping a strong ethnographic focus on police officers and their work

The Cow in the Elevator Tulasi Srinivas, 2018-05-10 In The Cow in the Elevator Tulasi Srinivas explores a wonderful world where deities jump fences and priests ride in helicopters to present a joyful imaginative yet critical reading of modern religious life Drawing on nearly two decades of fieldwork with priests residents and devotees and her own experience of living in the high tech city of Bangalore Srinivas finds moments where ritual enmeshes with global modernity to create wonder a feeling of amazement at being overcome by the unexpected and sublime Offering a nuanced account of how the ruptures of modernity can be made normal enrapturing and even comical in a city swept up in globalization's tumult Srinivas brings the visceral richness of wonder apparent in creative ritual in and around Hindu temples into the anthropological gaze Broaching provocative philosophical themes like desire complicity loss time money technology and the imagination Srinivas pursues an interrogation of wonder and the adventure of writing true to its experience The Cow in the Elevator rethinks the study of ritual while reshaping our appreciation of wonder's transformative potential for scholarship and for life

The Gaboye of Somaliland Elia Vitturini, 2023-07-27 The book explores the history of a minority group the Gaboye in Somaliland and using a historical ethnographic approach addresses two main issues First the analysis addresses the transformation and reproduction of the social boundary which separates an ascribed status based minority group within the society what symbolic political economic and social apparatuses have articulated the boundary and the belonging to this minority group How have these apparatuses changed Second the analysis adopts the trajectory of the minority members in the town of Hargeysa as a perspective on the history of north western Somali society from the point of view of an ascribed status based minority group what can we see of the social economic and political changes which occurred during the decades of slow colonial penetration into the area of urban expansion of postcolonial state consolidation and collapse civil war mass displacement peace building and the contemporary waves of diasporisation of this society

Mortuary Dialogues David Lipset, Eric K. Silverman, 2016-06-01 Mortuary Dialogues presents fresh perspectives on death and mourning across the Pacific Islands Through a set of rich ethnographies the book examines how funerals and death rituals give rise to discourse and debate about sustaining moral personhood and community amid modernity and its enormous transformations The book's key concept mortuary dialogue describes the different genres of talk and expressive culture through which people struggle to restore individual and collective order in the aftermath of death in the contemporary Pacific
