Transnational European Cinema Huw D. Jones, 2024-01-03 This book explores how audiences in contemporary Europe engage with films from other European countries It draws on admissions data surveys and focus group discussions from across the continent to explain why viewers are attracted to particular European films nationalities and genres including action adventures family films animations biopics period dramas thrillers comedies contemporary drama and romance It also examines how these films are financed produced and distributed how they represent Europe and other Europeans and how they affect audiences Case studies range from mainstream movies like Skyfall Taken Asterix Obelix God Save Britannia and Sammy's Adventures A Turtle's Tale to more middlebrow and arthouse titles such as The Lives of Others Volver Coco Before Chanel The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo Intouchables The Angels Share Ida The Hunt and Blue Is the Warmest Colour The study shows that watching European films can sometimes improve people's understandings of other countries and make them feel more European However this is limited by the strong preference for Anglo American action adventures that offer few insights into the realities of European life While some popular European arthouse films explore a wider range of nationalities social issues and historical events these mainly appeal to urban dwelling graduates They can also sometimes accentuate tensions between Europeans instead of bringing them together The book discusses what these findings mean for the European film industry audiovisual policy and scholarship on transnational and European cinema It also considers how surveys focus groups databases and other methods that go beyond traditional textual analysis can offer new insights into our understanding of film

Queer Cinema Harry M. Benshoff, Sean Griffin, 2004 Queer Cinema the Film Reader brings together key writings that use queer theory to explore cinematic sexualities especially those historically designated as gay lesbian bisexual and or transgendered
