Masters series recasts familiar fairy tales in a richly imagined alternate Victorian world Ninette Dupond was a dancer with the Paris Opera Ballet She had been very lucky if she had not been pretty and a natural dancer she could only have become what her mother had been a washerwoman But Ninette's good luck ended the day that the lead dancer sprained her ankle and Ninette was chosen to dance her part at a matinee Her reviews had been very good too good Shortly thereafter Ninette

had been fired in an attempt to soothe the wounded ego of the ballet's primary soloist. Alone, unemployed and filled with despair, Ninette had returned to her apartment to find a thin, rangy tabby striped tomcat sitting on her windowsill. He seemed like just another stray until abruptly he spoke to her mind to mind. Ninette thought she was going mad, but the cat offered her an alternative to a life of destitution, albeit a very odd one. He proposed that she impersonate a renowned Russian ballerina, Nina Tchereslavsky, and go to work in a specific music hall in Blackpool, England. The cat also told her that he would take care of her in every way he would somehow convey the English and Russian languages to her, supply her with money, and guide her every move. With no other option open to her, she placed her life in his paws. What Ninette didn't know was that the cat was an Elemental Spirit sent to protect her and that the music hall in Blackpool was owned by an Elemental Master. But she also didn't know that the real Nina Tchereslavsky no longer existed. For the real Nina had been absorbed by an Elemental Spirit of the darkest kind that was now bent on Ninette's destruction.

Life at the Herald's Collegium in Haven has definitely improved for Mags. He's even become something of a hero since risking his own life to rescue Emily, daughter of Nikolai, the King's Own Herald, from Karsite kidnappers. But Mags still doesn't know who his parents were, and Bear, Mags' Trainee friend, was not one to let him forget. You gotta deal with your past, Mags. You have to. If you don't, it'll just keep coming back to haunt you, and one day it'll do something to you that you can't get out of. Mags began his special training as Nikolai's undercover partner and future spy for the crown. Disguised, they work at night in one of the seedier parts of Haven where Nikolai had set up a false identity as a pawnbroker and fence. Mags poses as his deaf-mute nephew, covertly watching and listening from behind the desk. He was especially good at the trait that had kept him alive as a child laborer in the gem mine: ferreting out hidden motives. Now Mags has graduated to a new role: Nikolai's partner and information broker. Mags channels his old cunning self from the mines and discovers that he's quite good at his new job. So good, in fact, that Nikolai decides to let him open the shop alone. One hot summer night, Mags has barely unlocked the shop when everything goes black in a blinding flash of pain. He wakes with an agonizing headache, bound blindfolded in a conveyance of some kind. But worst of all, he's head-blind. No mind-speech; he can't even sense Dallen. And if he can't sense or hear Dallen, then no one can sense him. And if no one can sense him, no one can come to his rescue.
