

Culture and gender roles

Cultural differences (nurture) are a set of behaviours and attitudes that are considered typical of and atypical of the other

Give an example of a piece of research that investigated gender findings from this research

Research - The Tchambuli women were dominant and organised village life and the men were passive and considered to be 'decorative' (the reverse of the gender type in the West)

What does this research tell us about the origin of gender behaviour?

That there may not be a direct biological relationship between sex and gender, and that gender roles might be culturally determined
