

Also: Did the causes of the Spanish American justify the United States' actions in 1898?

Essential Question: How did industrialization and immigration alter American domestic and foreign policies at the start of the 20th century?

END-OF-THE-SPANISH-AMERICAN-WAR: In 1898, the United States gained the following territories as a result of the Spanish American War: Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines. The United States also liberated Spanish Hawaii. This all happened as a result of Spain having to settle (give up) their sovereignty of these territories. The Spanish American War officially ended Spain's colonial influence in North America. However, this war marked the beginning of the United States being seen as an imperialist power.

Document 1: On December 2, 1823, President James Monroe issued his seventh State of the Union Address to Congress. In that address he emphasized that from that date forward, the United States would no longer accept further European colonization or interference with the newly independent nations of the Americas. He also pointed out that the United States planned to stay neutral in wars between European nations and their colonies. In this speech, he outlined how the United States would view any such actions by a European power.

Source: President James Monroe's seventh State of the Union Address, December 2, 1823

"...as a principle in which the rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization by any European powers... We gave it, therefore, to consider and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and those powers (European nations) to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety... It is only when our rights are invaded or seriously menaced that we resent injuries or make preparation for our defense."
