

Helping Homeowners with Financial Hardships: Two Cases

Family A: Standard HAMP Modification

- In 2006: Family A took out a 30 year fixed mortgage with a balance of $250,000 and an interest rate of 9%. Their monthly payment was about $2000 per month. Family A had monthly income of $6500 per month at that time.
- Today: Family A has reduced income of $4500 per month because one family member lost a job and had to switch to a lower paying job.
- With a HAMP modification: Family A's payment will be set at 31% of monthly income, or about $1400 per month. This will reduce their monthly payments by about $600, and save the family $36,000 in interest payments over 5 years.

	Existing Mortgage	Loan Modification
Balance	$240,000	$240,000
Remaining Years	26	26
Interest Rate	9%	5.1%
Monthly Payment	$2000	$1400

Family B: Unemployment Assistance

- In 2006: Family B took out a 30 year fixed mortgage with a balance of $250,000 and an interest rate of 9%. Their monthly payment was about $2000 per month. Family B had monthly income of $6500 per month at that time.
- Today: All members of Family B have been unemployed for 4 months. They are collecting unemployment benefits equal to $2000 per month.
- With Unemployment Assistance: For up to 6 months, Family B's payment will be temporarily set at 31% of current monthly income, or lower (about $620 per month). This will reduce their monthly payments by nearly $1,400 per month, and postpone payments of $8,280 for six months while they look for new jobs.
- At the end of the 6 months, Family B may become re-employed and resume their regular $2000 per month payment, plus the capitalized postponed payments. If Family B is re-employed with lower paying jobs, or otherwise have a continuing financial hardship, they will be considered for a permanent HAMP modification excluding any temporary income. If they receive this modification, their payment will be set at 31% of their new lower monthly income, as shown in example above for Family A.
