Beyond Belief Rosemary Crumlin, Margaret Woodward, National Gallery of Victoria, 1998 Francis Bacon Max Beckmann John Bellany Arthur Boyd Leonora Carrington Marc Chagall Max Ernst Frida Kahlo Henri Matisse Pablo Picasso George Segal Andy Warhol and other Beyond Belief: Modern Art and the Religious Imagination at the National Gallery of Victoria, 1998 Beyond Belief National Gallery of Victoria, 1998 Museums, Equality and Social Justice Richard Sandell, Eithne Nightingale, 2013-05-20 The last two decades have seen concerns for equality diversity social justice and human rights move from the margins of museum thinking and practice to the core The arguments both moral and pragmatic for engaging diverse audiences creating the conditions for more equitable access to museum resources and opening up opportunities for participation now enjoy considerable consensus in many parts of the world A growing number of institutions are concerned to construct new narratives that represent a plurality of lived experiences histories and identities which aim to nurture support for more progressive ethically informed ways of seeing and to actively inform contemporary public debates on often contested rights related issues At the same time it would be misleading to suggest an even and uncontested transition from the museum as an organisation that has been widely understood to marginalise exclude and oppress to one which is wholly inclusive Moreover there are signs that momentum towards making museums more inclusive and equitable is slowing down or in some contexts reversing Museums Equality and Social Justice aims to reflect on and crucially to inform debates in museum research policy and practice at this critical time It brings together new research from academics and practitioners and insights from artists activists and commentators to explore the ways in which museums galleries and heritage organisations are engaging with the fast changing equalities terrain and the shifting politics of identity at global national and local levels and to investigate their potential to contribute to more equitable fair and just societies The Oxford Handbook of Religion and the Arts Frank Burch Brown, 2018 This volume offers 37 original essays from leading scholars on the crucial topics issues methods and resources for studying and teaching religion and the arts The Image of Christ in Modern Art Richard Harries, 2016-03-03 The Image of Christ in Modern Art explores the challenges presented by the radical and rapid changes of artistic style in the 20th century to artists who wished to relate to traditional Christian imagery In the 1930s David Jones said that he and his contemporaries were acutely conscious of the break by which he meant the fragmentation and loss of a once widely shared Christian narrative and set of images In this highly illustrated book Richard Harries looks at some of the artists associated with the birth of modernism such as Epstein and Rouault as well as those with a highly distinctive understanding of religion such as Chagall and Stanley Spencer He discusses the revival of confidence associated with the rebuilding of Coventry Cathedral after World War II and the commissioning of work by artists like Henry Moore Graham Sutherland and John Piper before looking at the very testing last quarter of the 20th century He shows how here and even more in our own time fresh and important visual interpretations of Christ have been created both

by well known and less well known artists In conclusion he suggests that the modern movement in art has turned out to be a friend not a foe of Christian art Through a wide and beautiful range of images and insightful text Harries explores the continuing challenge present from the beginning of Christian art as to how that which is visual can in some way indicate the transcendent

'Tikkun Olam' --To Mend the World Jason Goroncy, 2013-12-04 Tikkun Olam To Mend the World is premised on the conviction that artists and theologians have things to learn from one another things about the complex interrelationality of life and about a coherence of things given and sustained by God The ten essays compiled in this volume seek to attend to the lives burdens and hopes that characterize human life in a world broken but unforgotten in travail but moving towards the freedom promised by a faithful Creator They reflect on whether the world wounded as it is by war by hatred by exploitation by neglect by reason and by human imagination itself can be healed Can there be repair And can art and theology tell the truth of the world s woundedness and still speak of its hope
