Working for Equality Harry Hudson,2015-06-15 When I went to work for Lockheed Georgia Company in September of 1952 I had no idea that this would end up being my life s work With these words Harry Hudson the first African American supervisor at Lockheed Aircraft s Georgia facility begins his account of a thirty six year career that spanned the postwar civil rights movement and the Cold War Hudson was not a civil rights activist yet he knew he was helping to break down racial barriers that had long confined African Americans to lower skilled nonsupervisory jobs His previously unpublished memoir is an inside account of both the racial integration of corporate America and the struggles common to anyone climbing the postwar corporate ladder At Lockheed Georgia Hudson went on to become the first black supervisor to manage an integrated crew and then the first black purchasing agent There were other firsts along the path to these achievements and Working for Equality is rich in details of Hudson s work on the assembly line and in the back office In both circumstances he contended with being not only a black man but a light skinned black man as he dealt with production goals personnel disputes and other workday challenges Randall Patton s introduction places Hudson s story within the broader struggle of workplace desegregation in America Although Hudson is frank about his experiences in a predominantly white workforce Patton notes that he remained an organization man who expressed pride in his contributions to Lockheed and the nation s defense effort
