Between Philosophy And Theology Contemporary Interpretations Of Christianity:

Between Philosophy and Theology Lieven Boeve, Christophe Brabant, 2010 Long past the time when philosophers from different perspectives had joined the funeral procession that declared the death of God a renewed interest has arisen in regard to the questions of God and religion in philosophy This book brings some of these philosophical views together to present an overview of the philosophical scene in its dealings with religion but also to move beyond the outsider's perspective Reflecting on these philosophical interpretations from a fundamental theological perspective the authors discover in what way these interpretations can challenge an understanding of today's faith

Continental Philosophy and Theology Colby Dickinson, 2018-06-12 Continental philosophy underwent a return to religion or a theological turn in the late 20th century And yet any conversation between continental philosophy and theology must begin by addressing the perceived distance between them that one is concerned with destroying all normative metaphysical order continental philosophy's task and the other with preserving religious identity and community in the face of an increasingly secular society theology's task Colby Dickinson argues in Continental Philosophy and Theology rather that perhaps such a tension is constitutive of the nature of order thinking and representation which typically take dualistic forms and which might be rethought though not necessarily abolished Such a shift in perspective even allows one to contemplate this distance as not opting for one side over the other or by striking a middle ground but as calling for a nondualistic theology that measures the complexity and inherently comparative nature of theological inquiry in order to realign theology's relationship to continental philosophy entirely

Eastern Christian Approaches to Philosophy James Siemens, Joshua Matthan Brown, 2022-10-05 With few exceptions the field of Eastern Christian studies has primarily been concerned with historical critical analysis hermeneutics and sociology For the most part it has not attempted to bring Eastern Christian philosophy into serious engagement with contemporary thought This volume seeks to redress the matter by bringing the Eastern Christian tradition into a meaningful dialogue with contemporary philosophy It boasts a diverse group of scholars specialists in ancient philosophy analytic philosophy and continental philosophy who engage with a wide range of pressing issues Among other things it addresses such topics as contemporary atheism the metaphysics of action religious epistemology the philosophy of language bioethics the philosophy of race and human rights In so doing it aims to introduce contemporary readers to unique perspectives and novel arguments often overlooked by mainstream anglophone philosophy

Between Faith and Belief Joeri Schrijvers, 2016-05-01 A contemporary philosophy of religion that offers a phenomenology of love What is to be done at the end of metaphysics Joeri Schrijvers's contemporary philosophy of religion takes up this question originally posed by Reiner Schürmann and central to continental philosophy The book navigates the work of thinkers who have addressed such metaphysical concerns including Martin Heidegger Emmanuel Levinas Jean-Luc Nancy Jean-Luc Marion Peter Sloterdijk Ludwig Binswanger Jacques Derrida and more recently John D. Caputo Mary Jane Rubenstein and Martin Hoggelund Notably Schrijvers engages both those who would deconstruct Christianity and those who remain within this tradition offering an option that is between Christianity and atheism between progressive and conservative between faith and belief Ultimately Schrijvers confronts the end of metaphysics with a phenomenology of love and community arguing for the radical primacy of togetherness Joeri Schrijvers's book is a tour de force ranging over a wide spectrum of contemporary thinkers in order to negotiate the distance between religion and religionlessness God and Godlessness ontotheology and its overcoming The result is a nuanced and careful study that repays close study John D Caputo Syracuse University Among the many lusters of Joeri Schrijvers's Between Faith and Belief is a beautiful recovery of Ludwig Binswanger's phenomenology of love Discussion of postmetaphysical theology is arid without philosophically informed and creative talk of love and Binswanger's is a voice that has been missing from the conversation for far too long To put Binswanger into dialogue with Caputo and Nancy in particular is at once fascinating and nourishing Kevin Hart University of Virginia Christian Approaches to International Affairs J. Troy, 2012-08-21 Troy analyses how the understanding of religion in Realism and the English School helps in working towards the greater good in international relations studying religion within the overall framework of international affairs and the field of peace studies Radical Theology and Emerging Christianity Katharine Sarah Moody, 2016-03-03 The theological turn in continental philosophy and the turn to Paul in political philosophy have occasioned a return to radical theology a tradition whose philosophical heritage can be traced to the death of God announced in the work of Nietzsche and Hegel John D Caputo's deconstructive theology and Slavoj Žižek's materialist theology are two radical theologies that explore what it might mean to pass through the death of God and to abandon this experience as specifically Christian Radical Theology and Emerging Christianity demonstrates how these theologies are transforming everyday religious practices through an examination of the work of Peter Rollins and Kester Brewin two figures at the radical margins of a contemporary expression of Western religiosity called emerging Christianity The author uses her analysis of all four figures to argue that deconstructive practices can enable religious communities to become part of a wider materialist collective in which the death of God continues to resonate Pushing the methodological boundaries of philosophy of religion by examining religious practices as the site of philosophical signification the book challenges scholars and practitioners alike to a new and more demanding dialogue between theory and practice The Adventure of Weak Theology ʘtefan ʘtofanić (1976–2014), 2018-10-16 tofan k provides a unique personal reading of weak theology and tries to inhabit the gap between it and its founder John D Caputo In this distinctive exploration of John D Caputo's work tofan k traces Caputo's journey of philosophical discovery from his earlier more conventional academic writings to his later almost confessional works of weak theology and his deep engagement with Derrida tofan k draws upon Caputo's life story to help explain sudden shifts in Caputo's thinking offers intricate readings of philosophical passages that have all too often been taken for granted and joins in Caputo's effort to find a theology that can be trusted and that does not rely upon dogmatic and hierarchical authority At the same time to fan k subtly disagrees with aspects of Caputo's view and turns to the work of Antoine de Saint Exupéry as a way to suggest that one cannot take leave of the tradition of theology as easily as Caputo thinks. At times The Adventure of Weak Theology reads like a letter to Caputo and to fan k's own passion for theology; his deep understanding of Caputo's work and his gift for writing makes this an immensely appealing book for both admirers and critics of Caputo. tefan has read my work with extraordinary care and he has done so with a very acute ear for my authorial voice: this person whom I impersonate when I write this persona I inhabit in my books. I am not sure if this fellow who appears in print is the real me or a put on the one who I really am or the one I want to be. Either way, he only emerges or emerges best of all when I write, and tefan had a pitch-perfect ear for that voice. He didn't miss anything. He caught it every time it was important from the Afterword by John D. Caputo.

Thinking Faith After Christianity Martin Koci, 2020-06-01 Examines theological motifs in the work of Jan Patočka drawing out their implications for contemporary theology and philosophy of religion.

Deconstruction and the Spirit Esteban Solís, 2024-02-28 Deconstructive faith experiences are growing in number throughout global Christianity. Factors like globalization, individualism, education, post-colonial experiences, fundamentalism, connectivity, and others contribute to accelerate this trend and shape the environment of faith communities that find themselves amongst increasingly postmodern tendencies. Many pastors are deciding to ignore the situation by rejecting deconstruction altogether, while others are embracing it blindly. Since an overwhelming number of churches worldwide embrace Pentecostalism, Esteban Solís proposes a pastoral response from a distinctively Pentecostal perspective that engages deconstruction of faith critically while staying open to conceive it as a tool for Spirit-led discipleship that can produce a more mature faith. The book examines six affirmations made by Jacques Derrida that explain deconstruction. Each of these is contrasted with specific examples of cultural changes taking place in Costa Rica: Peter's experience at the house of Cornelius and a Pentecostal perspective. By exploring a variety of authors, Solís identifies different tools that can help pastors to better understand the experience of deconstruction while engaging in discipleship practices that can produce mature believers in a postmodern era.

Sovereignty and Event Calvin D. Ullrich, 2021-01-18 In this study Calvin D. Ullrich argues for the political significance of the philosopher-theologian John D. Caputo's radical theology. Against the backdrop of present debates, the author traces the notions of sovereignty and event by drawing on the political theology of Carl Schmitt and Caputo's evolving engagement with postmodern thought from its genesis in Martin Heidegger to its deeply involved association with Jacques Derrida. Calvin D. Ullrich shows that contrary to some misleading interpretations of his religious deconstruction, Caputo has always held nascent political concerns which culminate in his radical theology. Writing for scholars working in contemporary philosophy and theology, this book offers one of the first major in-depth analyses covering Caputo's writings of the last four decades and seeks to defend their relevance for discussions responding to ongoing political theological challenges.

Exploring the Boundaries of Bodiliness Sigrid Müller, Slavomír Dlugos, Gerhard

Marschütz,2013-12-11 Recent developments in technology have given rise to the impression that the boundaries imposed by our bodiliness can somehow be overcome The increasing philosophical interest in bodiliness as an unavoidable human condition can be seen as a response to this far too comfortable impression The essays in this volume address the topic of bodiliness from a theological point of view They show that our perceptions of and relationships with one another cannot be divorced from our bodily condition and that this existential reality affects significantly how we understand our relationship with God The contributions also address how we can best deal with the fragility of our bodily condition as well as the challenges that technological and medical procedures for altering the appearance and constitution of our bodies pose Special attention is given to how liturgical experience not only offers us a means to respond to these challenges but also to deepen our understanding of Christian communities as ineluctably bodily

The Trinitarian Wisdom of God: Louis Bouyer's Theology of the God-World Relationship Keith Lemna,2022-12-16 Christian theology in recent decades has seen an explosion in the number of books published seeking a renewal of Trinitarian ontology There has also been a proliferation of studies dedicated to the theology of Wisdom Few if any of these books on the Trinity or on Wisdom have drawn for inspiration on the comprehensive vision of French Oratorian priest Louis Bouyer 1913-2004 one of the greatest theologians of the modern age Bouyer produced a comprehensive work of theology that integrated these two seminal concerns based on a vast re sourcing of the Christian tradition Dr Keith Lemna explores Bouyer's achievement in depth showing that at the heart of his venture was a deep contemplative penetration into God's mediation to the world his creation sustenance and redemption of creation in the Wisdom of the Eternal Son Bouyer is a decisive resource for theologians wanting to develop the Christian understanding of the Trinity and creation based on tradition but in dialogue with modern cosmological thought The Trinitarian Wisdom of God Louis Bouyer's Theology of the God-World Relationship gets to the heart of Louis Bouyer's theology of the God-World relationship more deeply than any other has done before In doing so Lemna recovers a great theologian at his best

Theology After Postmodernity Tina Beattie,2013-10-03 Engaging the theology of Thomas Aquinas with the psychoanalytic theory of Jacques Lacan Tina Beattie shows how Thomism exerted a formative influence on Lacan and how a Lacanian approach can bring new insights to Thomas's theology Lacan makes possible a renewed Thomism which offers a rich theology of creation incarnation and redemption

Religious Atheism Erik Meganck, 2023-11-01 Calls into question the traditional polarity of theism and atheism Feuerbach Marx Kierkegaard Nietzsche Freud Russell Wittgenstein Heidegger Sartre Levinas Lyotard Derrida Why were these twelve so called atheist heavyweights unable to wipe God off the table once and for all Perhaps they did not intend to Perhaps their atheism was directed at something other than God and religion In that case suggests Erik Meganck we should look for a more fertile philosophical meaning of atheism to distinguish it from the shallow more popular definitions of the term Toward this aim Meganck offers a rereading of the twelve apostles in this book who are he demonstrates more religious than public opinion often holds God and religion do not disappear in their work but each of them tears down a pillar from the grand edifice that is traditional metaphysics Modern thought has gradually dismantled philosophical and theological systems theisms which means that we must look for God in the a rather than in theism Meganck s adventurous and daring exploration calls into question the traditional polarity of theism and atheism leading philosophy and theology away from metaphysical theism through the death of God and into a philosophical atheism that does not speak out on the existence of God but hears the Name This Name opens onto a promise of sense

The Question of Theological Truth, 2012-01-01 In today s world the boundaries within which Christian theologians operate are becoming ever more permeable and Christian theology is increasingly influenced and challenged by multiple outside factors In Western Europe two such factors stand out in particular the so called turn to religion in continental philosophy and religious diversity Theologians working with contemporary continental philosophers and theologians engaging the multireligious world tend to work quite separately from one another The aim of the present book is therefore to initiate a conversation between these two groups of theologians The question of truth was chosen because it is both a key issue in contemporary philosophical debates in the continental and analytic traditions and one that arises in complex and problematic ways in the praxis of and theoretical reflection on interreligious dialogue Some of the pressing questions that are addressed by the contributors to this volume are What is truth What is theological truth How does the issue of truth arise from interreligious encounter To what extent can or should the nature of truth be discussed explicitly during interreligious dialogue Or should the question of truth be rather postponed in the interest of successful interreligious encounter Is there a hermeneutical concept of truth and if so how can it be of help for theological reflection on the question of truth and on the role and place of truth in the context of dialogue between religions

Christianity after Christendom Martin Koci, 2023-09-07 What comes after the end of Christendom Christianity has ceased to function as the dominant force in society and yet the Christian faith continues How are we to understand Christianity in this after Bringing into conversation seven unorthodox or heretical continental philosophers including Jan Patocka Jean Luc

Nancy Gianni Vattimo and John D Caputo Martin Koci re centres the debates around philosophy's so called return to religion to address the current not Christian but not yet non Christian culture In the modern context of increasing secularization and pluralization Christianity after Christendom boldly proposes that Christians must embrace the demise of Christianity as a meta narrative and see their faith as an existential mode of being in the world Whilst not denying the religion's history this after of Christianity emancipates the discourse from the socio historical focus on Christendom and introduces new perspectives on Christianity as an embodied religious tradition as a way of being even as a faithfulness to the world In dialogue with a broad range of philosophical movements including deconstruction phenomenology hermeneutics and postmodern critiques of religion this is a timely examination of the present and future of post Christendom Christianity

Politics of Grace Christiane Alpers, 2019-10-31 Christiane Alpers discusses the contribution and role Christian theology plays in developing of the democratic life in post Christendom societies She discusses the three major approaches to this debate public theology Radical Orthodoxy and post liberal Protestantism in order to illustrate the shared assumption that such an enhancement should be understood in terms of solving existing political problems The volume builds on and combines public theology's aspiration to craft a non triumphant political theology fit for a post Christendom context Radical Orthodoxy's hesitancy to embrace secularism as neutral centre for present democracies as well as post liberalism's Christocentric outlook Alpers engages with a wide variety of thinkers such as John Milbank Graham Ward John Howard Yoder Kathryn Tanner and Edward Schillebeeckx to suggest that a political theology in the post Christendom context could build on the faith that Christ alone has redeemed the whole world
