Shakespearean Adaptation, Race and Memory in the New World Joyce Green MacDonald, 2020-08-24 As readers head into the second fifty years of the modern critical study of blackness and black characters in Renaissance drama it has become a critical commonplace to note black female characters almost complete absence from Shakespeare's plays Despite this physical absence however they still play central symbolic roles in articulating definitions of love beauty chastity femininity and civic and social standing invoked as the opposite and foil of women who are fair Beginning from this recognition of black women's simultaneous physical absence and imaginative presence this book argues that modern Shakespearean adaptation is a primary means for materializing black women's often elusive presence in the plays serving as a vital staging place for historical and political inquiry into racial formation in Shakespeare's world and our own Ranging geographically across North America and the Caribbean and including film and fiction as well as drama as it discusses remade versions of Othello Romeo and Juliet Antony and Cleopatra and The Taming of the Shrew Shakespearean Adaptation Race and Memory in the New World will attract scholars of early modern race studies gender and performance and women in Renaissance drama A Century of South African Theatre Loren Kruger,2020 Theatre is not part of our vocabulary Sipho Sepamla's provocation in 1981 the year of famous anti apartheid play Woza Albert prompts the response yes indeed it is A Century of South African Theatre demonstrates the impact of theatre and other performances pageants concerts sketches workshops and performance art over the last hundred years Its coverage includes African responses to pro British pageants celebrating white Union in 1910 such as the Emancipation Centenary of the abolition of British colonial slavery in 1934 organized by Griffiths Motsieloa and HIE Dhlomo through anti apartheid testimonial theatre by Athol Fugard Maishe Maponya Gcina Mhlophe and many others right up to the present dramatization of state capture inequality and state violence in today's unevenly democratic society where government has promised much but delivered little Building on Loren Kruger's personal observations of forty years as well as her published research A Century of South African Theatre provides theoretical coordinates from institution to public sphere to syncretism in performance in order to highlight South Africa's changing engagement with the world from the days of Empire through the apartheid era to the multi lateral and multi lingual networks of the 21st century The final chapters use the Constitution's injunction to improve wellbeing as a prompt to examine the dramaturgy of new problems especially AIDS and domestic violence as well as the better known performances in and around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Kruger critically evaluates internationally known theatre makers including the signature collaborations between animator designer William Kentridge and Handspring Puppet Company and highlights the local and transnational impact of major post apartheid companies such as Magnet Theatre Cinema at the Periphery Dina Iordanova,David Martin-Jones,Belén Vidal,2010 Highlights the industries markets identities and histories that distinguish cinema beyond the traditional hubs of mainstream Western cinema From Iceland to Iran from Singapore to Scotland a growing intellectual and cultural wave of production is taking cinema beyond the borders of its place of origin exploring faraway places interacting with barely known peoples and making new localities imaginable In these films previously entrenched spatial divisions no longer function as firmly fixed grid coordinates the hierarchical position of place as center is subverted and new forms of representation become possible In Cinema at the Periphery editors Dina Iordanova David Martin Jones and Belén Vidal assemble criticism that explores issues of the periphery including questions of transnationality place space passage and migration Cinema at the Periphery examines the periphery in terms of locations practices methods and themes It includes geographic case studies of small national cinemas located at the global margins like New Zealand and Scotland but also of filmmaking that comes from peripheral cultures like Palestinian stateless cinema Australian Aboriginal films and cinema from Quebec Therefore the volume is divided into two key areas industries and markets on the one hand and identities and histories on the other Yet as a whole the contributors illustrate that the concept of periphery is not fixed but is always changing according to patterns of industry ideology and taste Cinema at the Periphery highlights the inextricable interrelationship that exists between production modes and circulation channels and the emerging narratives of histories and identities they enable In the present era of globalization this timely examination of the periphery will interest teachers and students of film and media studies Covert Racism ,2011-06-09 Covert racism subtle in application often appears hidden by norms of association affiliation group membership and or identity As such covert racism is often excused or confused with mechanisms of exclusion and inclusion ritual and ceremony acceptance and rejection Covert racism operates as a boundary keeping mechanism whose primary purpose is to maintain social distance between racial majorities and racial minorities Such boundary mechanisms work best when they are assumed natural legitimate and normal These boundary mechanisms are typically taught subconsciously or even unconsciously within social institutions and groups This volume deals with the theories institutions and experiences associated with covert racism India and South Africa Javed Majeed,Isabel Hofmeyr,2017-10-02 South Africa and India constitute two key nodes in the global south and have inspired new modes of non Western transnational history Themes include anti imperial movements Gandhian ideas comparisons of race and caste Afro Asian ideals Indian Ocean public spheres This volume extends these debates into the cultural and linguistic terrain The book combines the methods of Indian Ocean studies and Comparative Cultural Studies both committed to moving beyond the nation state Case studies explore classics and concomitant ideas of civilisation colonial linguistics and the history of languages and theatre Topics include the use of classics by colonisers and the colonised in British India and South Africa differences between South African Indian English and Indian English how the Linguistic Survey of India conflicted with colonial and nationalist mappings of India and its references to African languages the rise of Hinglish in contemporary India a South African play dealing with African Indian interactions This book was published as a special issue of African Studies Postcolonial Film Rebecca Weaver-Hightower,Peter Hulme,2014-02-24 Postcolonial Film History Empire Resistance examines films of the later twentieth and early twenty first centuries from postcolonial countries around the globe In the mid twentieth century the political reality of resistance and decolonization led to the creation of dozens of new states forming a backdrop to films of that period Towards the century s end and at the dawn of the new millennium film continues to form a site for interrogating colonization and decolonization though against a backdrop that is now more neo colonial than colonial and more culturally imperial than imperial This volume explores how individual films emerged from and commented on postcolonial spaces and the building and breaking down of the European empire Each chapter is a case study examining how a particular film from a postcolonial nation emerges from and reflects that nation s unique postcolonial situation This analysis of one nation s struggle with its coloniality allows each essay to investigate just what it means to be postcolonial Routledge Companion to Pakistani Anglophone Writing Aroosa Kanwal,Saiyma Aslam,2018-10-10 The Routledge Companion to Pakistani Anglophone Writing forms a theoretical comprehensive and critically astute overview of the history and future of Pakistani literature in English Dealing with key issues for global society today from terrorism religious extremism fundamentalism corruption and intolerance to matters of love hate loss belongingness and identity conflicts this Companion brings together over thirty essays by leading and emerging scholars and presents the transformations and continuities in Pakistani anglophone writing since its inauguration in 1947 to today contestations and controversies that have not only informed creative writing but also subverted certain stereotypes in favour of a dynamic representation of Pakistani Muslim experiences a case for a Pakistani canon through a critical perspective on how different writers and their works have at different times both consciously and unconsciously helped to realise and extend a uniquely Pakistani idiom Providing a comprehensive yet manageable introduction to cross cultural relations and to historical regional local and global contexts that are essential to reading Pakistani anglophone literature The Routledge Companion to Pakistani Anglophone Writing is key reading for researchers and academics in Pakistani anglophone literature history and culture It is also relevant to other disciplines such as terror studies post 9 11 literature gender studies postcolonial studies feminist studies human rights diaspora studies space and mobility studies religion and contemporary South Asian literatures and cultures Bridges, Borders and Bodies Christine Vogt-William, 2014-10-02 South Asian diasporas can be considered transcultural legacies of colonialism while constituting transcultural forms of postcolonial reality in today's globalised world The main focus of investigation here is South Asian women's fiction where diverse forms of identity negotiation undertaken by the protagonists in a number of contemporary novels from the 1990s to the early 2000s are read as transgressions The themes of early gendered experiences of South Asian indentured labour migration female genealogies and transmissions of cultural heritages down female lines as well as negotiations of patriarchal violence are read using a framework culled from postcolonial and feminist criticism The literary representations of South Asian diasporic female experience in these texts are forms of commentary and critique by contemporary South Asian diasporic women writers Hence these novels can be viewed as feminist strategies of textual creativity with distinct political aims of presenting transformative narratives addressing the tensions of diaspora and patriarchy This book is intended to contribute to the current spectrum of academic work being done in diaspora studies in that it brings together the concepts of diaspora transculturality contemporary women's writing and transnational feminist critical approaches to bear on South Asian women's diasporic literature Contrary to the celebratory notion of the concept in much theory transculturality as represented in these texts is fraught with ambivalence The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 Shakespeare in the Global South Sandra Young, 2020-11-26 Contemporary adaptations of Shakespeare's plays have brought into sharp focus the legacies of slavery racism and colonial dispossession that still haunt the global South Looking sideways across the Atlantic and Indian Oceans to nontraditional centres of Shakespeare practice Shakespeare in the Global South explores the solidarities generated by contemporary adaptations and their stories of displacement and survival The book takes its lead from innovative theatre practice in Mauritius North India Brazil post apartheid South Africa and the diasporic urban spaces of the global North to assess the lessons for cultural theory emerging from the new works Using the global South as a critical frame Sandra Young reflects on the vocabulary scholars have found productive in grappling with the impact of the new iterations of Shakespeare s work through terms such as creolization indigenization localization Africanization and diaspora Shakespeare s presence in the global South invites us to go beyond familiar orthodoxies and to recognize the surprising affinities felt across oceans of difference in time and space that allow Shakespeare s inventiveness to be a part of the enchanting subversions at play in contemporary theatre s global currents
