Beyond The Walls New Perspectives On The Archaeology Of Historical Households:

Beyond the Walls Kevin R. Fogle, James A. Nyman, Mary C. Beaudry, 2019-03-01 This collection showcases the work of leading household archaeologists and scholars studying domestic production and consumption patterns across a spectrum of time periods areas and cultures in North America

Households in Context Caitlín Eilís Barrett, Jennifer Carrington, 2024-01-15 Households in Context shifts the focus from monumental temples tombs and elite material and visual culture to households and domestic life to provide a crucial new perspective on everyday dwelling practices and the interactions of families and individuals with larger social and cultural structures A focus on households reveals the power of the everyday the critical role of quotidian experiences objects and images in creating the worlds of the people who live with them The contributors to this book share contemporary research on houses and households in both Ptolemaic and Roman Egypt to reshape the ways we think about ancient people s lived experiences of family community and society Households in Context places the archaeology and history of Greco Roman Egypt in dialogue with research on dwelling daily practice and materiality to reveal how ancient households functioned as laboratories for social political economic and religious change Contributors Youssri Abdelwahed Richard Alston Anna Lucille Boozer Paola Davoli David Frankfurter Jennifer Gates Foster Melanie Godsey Darlene L Brooks Hedstrom Sabine R Huebner Gregory Marouard Miriam M ller Lisa Nevett B rang re Redon Bethany Simpson Ross I Thomas Dorothy J Thompson

Houses, Families, and Cohabitation Dag Lindström, Göran Tagesson, 2024-11-05 This book is an interdisciplinary study that draws on a combination of archaeological evidence building archaeological analysis archival sources to explore the dynamic relations between dwelling houses social organization of households and patterns of cohabitation during the eighteenth century The empirical focus of this book is on Swedish towns but it also addresses more general issues about urbanity and urban life space and social organization and materiality and individual agency Aggregated questions about urban life and urban space are combined with a micro historical method revealing aspects of daily life and urban change This study unveils a previously neglected history Swedish eighteenth century towns have commonly been identified as a territory characterized by its sleepy absence of change This study proves the opposite Houses were built larger with more diverse and complex inner structures Family structures changed households generally became smaller the share of households headed by a married couple declined and the number of single households increased Population density increased the number of families residing in the same house increased and rental accommodation became more prevalent This volume is essential reading for anyone interested in early modern housing urban change and interdisciplinary methods

Critical Public Archaeology Camille Westmont, 2022-09-13 Critical approaches to public archaeology have been in use since the 1980s however only recently have archaeologists begun using critical theory in conjunction with public archaeology to challenge dominant narratives of the past This volume brings together current work on the theory and practice of critical public archaeology from Europe and the United States to illustrate the ways that implementing critical approaches can introduce new understandings of the past and reveal new insights on the present Contributors to this volume explore public perceptions of museum interpretations as well as public archaeology projects related to changing perceptions of immigration the working classes and race Human Evolutionary Demography Oskar Burger, Ronald Lee, Rebecca Sear, 2024-06-14 Human evolutionary demography is an emerging field blending natural science with social science This edited volume provides a much needed interdisciplinary introduction to the field and highlights cutting edge research for interested readers and researchers in demography the evolutionary behavioural sciences biology and related disciplines By bridging the boundaries between social and biological sciences the volume stresses the importance of a unified understanding of both in order to grasp past and current demographic patterns Demographic traits and traits related to demographic outcomes including fertility and mortality rates marriage parental care menopause and cooperative behavior are subject to evolutionary processes Bringing an understanding of evolution into demography therefore incorporates valuable insights into this field just as knowledge of demography is key to understanding evolutionary processes By asking questions about old patterns from a new perspective the volume composed of contributions from established and early career academics demonstrates that a combination of social science research and evolutionary theory offers holistic understandings and approaches that benefit both fields Human Evolutionary Demography introduces an emerging field in an accessible style It is suitable for graduate courses in demography as well as upper level undergraduates Its range of research is sure to be of interest to academics working on demographic topics anthropologists sociologists demographers natural scientists working on evolutionary processes and disciplines which cross cut natural and social science such as evolutionary psychology human behavioral ecology cultural evolution and evolutionary medicine As an accessible introduction it should interest readers whether or not they are currently familiar with human evolutionary demography

Archaeology of Domestic Landscapes of the Enslaved in the Caribbean James A. Delle, Elizabeth C. Clay, 2022-08-02 While previous research on household archaeology in the colonial Caribbean has drawn heavily on artifact analysis this volume provides the first in depth examination of the architecture of slave housing during this period It examines the considerations that went into constructing and inhabiting living spaces for the enslaved and reveals the diversity of people and practices in these settings Contributors present case studies using written descriptions period illustrations and standing architecture in addition to archaeological evidence to illustrate the wide variety of built environments for enslaved populations in places including Jamaica the Bahamas and the islands of the Lesser Antilles They investigate how the enslaved defined their social positions and identities through house yard and garden space they explore what daily life was like for slaves on military compounds they compare the spatial arrangements of slave villages on plantations based on type of labor and they show how the style of traditional laborer houses became a form of vernacular architecture still in use today This volume expands our understanding of the wide range of enslaved experiences across British French Dutch and Danish colonies Contributors

The Far Northeast Kenneth R. Holyoke, M. Gabriel Hrynick, 2022-03-22 The Far Northeast 3000 BP to Contact is the first volume to synthesize archaeological research from across Atlantic Canada and northern New England for the period spanning from 3000 years ago to European contact Recently notions of the Woodland period in the broader Northeast have drawn scrutiny from experts due to increasing awareness that its hallmarks such as horticulture village formation mortuary ceremonialism and the advent of various technologies appear to be less synchronous than once thought By paying particular attention to the Far Northeast and its unique yet sometimes marginal position in Woodland discourse this work offers a much needed in depth look at one of the best documented cases of hunter gatherer persistence and adaptation at the eve of European contact Penned by academic government and cultural resource management archaeologists the seventeen chapters in The Far Northeast 3000 BP to Contact draw on decades of research in considering this period both in terms of variability within the region and integration with broader cultural patterns in the Northeast and beyond Exploring

Ireland's Viking-Age Towns Rebecca Boyd, 2023-10-20 Exploring Ireland's Viking Age Towns discusses the emergence of towns urban lifestyles and urban identities in Ireland This coincides with the arrival of the Vikings and the appearance of the post and wattle Type 1 house These houses reflect this crucial transition to urban living with its attendant changes for individuals households and society Exploring Ireland's Viking Age Towns uses household archaeology as a lens to explore the materiality variability and day to day experiences of living in these houses It moves from the intimate scale of individual households to the larger scale of Ireland's earliest urban communities For the first time this book considers how these houses were more than just buildings they were homes important places where people lived worked and died These new towns were busy places with a multitude of people ideas and things This book uses the mass of archaeological data to undertake comparative analyses of houses and properties artefact distribution patterns and access analysis studies to interrogate some 500 Viking Age urban houses This analysis is structured in three parts an investigation of the houses the households and the town Exploring Ireland's Viking Age Towns discusses how these new urban households managed their homes to create a sense of place and belonging in these new environments and allow themselves to develop a new urban identity This book is suited to advanced students and specialists of the Viking Age in Ireland but archaeologists and historians of the early medieval and Viking worlds will find much of interest here It will also appeal to readers with interests in the archaeology of house and home households identities and urban studies Charting the Emerging Field of Japanese Diaspora Archaeology

Alliance Rises in the West Charlotte K. Sunseri, 2020-12 This volume explores how pluralistic communities thrived in California s mining hinterland as well as how immigrants and California Natives mobilized and mitigated power inequalities through their daily experiences of identity expression community cohesion and labor relations

This Is Our Home Whitney Nell Stewart, 2023-11-14 The cultural memory of plantations in the Old South has long been clouded by myth A recent reckoning with the centrality of slavery to the US national story however has shifted the meaning of these sites Plantations are no longer simply seen as places of beauty and grandiose hospitality their reality as spaces of enslavement exploitation and violence is increasingly at the forefront of our scholarly and public narratives Yet even this reckoning obscures what these sites meant to so many forced to live and labor on them plantations were Black homes as much as white Insightfully reading the built environment of plantations considering artifact fragments found in excavations of slave dwellings and drawing on legal records and plantation owners papers Whitney Nell Stewart illuminates how enslaved people struggled to make home amid innumerable constraints and obstacles imposed by white southerners By exploring the material remnants of the past Stewart demonstrates how homemaking was a crucial part of the battle over slavery and freedom a fight that continues today in consequential confrontations over who has the right to call this nation home

Inclusion, Transformation, and Humility in North American Archaeology Seth Mallios, Sara L. Gonzalez, Michael Grone, Kathleen L. Hull, 2024-01-06 In a dynamic near half century career of insight engagement and instruction Kent G Lightfoot transformed North American archaeology through his innovative ideas robust collaborations thoughtful field projects and mentoring of numerous students Authors emphasize the multifarious ways Lightfoot impacted and continues to impact approaches to archaeological inquiry anthropological engagement Indigenous issues and professionalism Four primary themes include negotiations of intercultural entanglements in pluralistic settings transformations of temporal and spatial archaeological dimensions as well as theoretical and methodological innovations engagement with contemporary people and issues and leading by example with honor humor and humility These reflect the remarkable depth breadth and growth in Lightfoot's career despite his unwavering stylistic devotion to Hawaiian shirts
