

The background of the cover is a photograph of a night scene. In the foreground, three people are silhouetted against a body of water. They are standing on a dark pier or dock. The person on the right has their arms raised in the air. In the background, a large, vibrant firework is exploding in the sky, with streaks of light in shades of purple, pink, and yellow. The overall mood is celebratory and romantic.

Have you been to a school lately Have you sat through the six hours and forty five minutes of excruciating tedium we send our kids to every day When we ask our kids What'd you do in school today and they mumble Nothin they're telling the truth Steve Perry is like no other educator you've ever met He gets it He understands why some parents are downright panicked about what's going on in their kids classrooms and how other parents whose kids supposedly attend the good schools still fear that their children are falling behind As Principal of one of the best performing schools in America one that sends 100% of its mostly minority students to four year colleges Perry delights in poking the system Present him with a truth about how education is supposed to work and count on it he'll show it to be false Dictatorial teacher's unions despise Steve Perry So do lazy teachers So do entrenched unimaginative school boards So do reactionary curriculum guardians who as a lure to get kids reading cling to the same old stodgy texts That's okay say Perry That means he's making a difference In this book his priority is to help kids who don't have the advantage of going to his school Capital Prep He wants to save your kid and the kid next door and the kid down the street from getting a typical third rate American education If you're a parent who has worried recently about how depressed your child seems when he dresses for school in the morning or how little of what happens during the school day seems to sink into her brain or how much of your child's homework is busywork you need this book If you're a teacher who is putting your heart and soul into the job but are surrounded by colleagues who are phoning it in you need this book If you're a committed forward thinking principal who wants to get rid of the faculty bad apples but are continually stymied by Mafia style teachers unions you need this book If you're a citizen who worries about the 1 trillion plus GDP loss that America suffers every year because our system of education doesn't measure up you need this book In this solution oriented manifesto Steve Perry covers the full range of issues holding back today's students He shows parents how to find great teachers and get rid of the bad ones how to make readers out of kids who hate to read how to make the school curriculum thrilling rather than sleep inducing how to conduct an all important education home audit how to organize if school boards and administrators aren't getting the message how to build a school of the future and much more The era of third rate education is over Steve Perry isn't going to let the fools and scoundrels get away with it any longer Push has come to shove Voices from the Margins Marilyn Ward, 2002-07-30 Young people who feel marginalized due to physical differences or disabilities may benefit from discovering fictional characters who face similar difficulties This unique bibliography surveys the field of children's and young adult literature published since 1990 identifying 200 quality books that
