Letters Home By Sylvia Plath:

Letters Home Sylvia Plath, 2011-02-03 Letters Home represents Sylvia Plath's correspondence from her time at Smith College in the early 1950s through her meeting with and subsequent marriage to the poet Ted Hughes up to her death in February 1963. The letters are addressed mainly to her mother with whom she had an extremely close and confiding relationship but there are also some to her brother Warren and her benefactress Mrs Prouty. Plath's energy, enthusiasm and her passionate tackling of life burst onto these pages providing us with a vivid and intimate portrait of a woman who has come to be regarded as one of the greatest of twentieth century poets. In addition to her capacity for domestic and writerly happiness, however, these letters also hint at Plath's potential for deep despair which reached its crisis when she holed up in a London flat for the terrible winter of 1963.

These are the letters of Sylvia Plath from her college days until her tragic death in 1963. Representing Sylvia Plath Sally Bayley, Tracy Brain, 2011-08-11

Interest in Sylvia Plath continues to grow as does the mythic status of her relationship with Ted Hughes but Plath is a poet of enduring power in her own right. This book explores the many layers of her often unreliable and complex representations and the difficult relationship between the reader and her texts. The volume evaluates the historical familial and cultural sources which Plath drew upon for material from family photographs, letters and personal history to contemporary literary and cinematic Holocaust texts. It examines Plath's creative processes, what she does with materials ranging from Romantic paintings to women's magazine fiction, how she transforms these in multiple drafts and the tools she uses to do this including her use of colour. Finally, the book investigates specific instances when Plath herself becomes the subject matter for other artists, writers, film makers and biographers.
