Leading from the Edge James Hilton, 2016-02-25 A guide to recognising managing overcoming and surviving the work related stress suffered by so many teachers and school leaders working in schools today This unique honest provocative and humorous analysis of the challenges of leading a 21st century school is filled with scenarios and strategies guaranteed to inspire reassure and help leaders overcome the pressures on them In addition to helping school leaders recognise and manage stress in themselves the book covers how to help and support members of staff to manage stress levels and the pressures of their job School staff suffering from and not being able to manage high levels of stress is a huge barrier to school improvement as well as successful sustainable educational leadership Stress in schools is on the increase as teachers and leaders have higher imposed targets than ever before and feel like they have less support A recent report stated that two fifths of teachers are leaving the profession within five years of starting and teachers taking leave due to stress is also on the increase it was reportedly up 10% over the last 4 years in 2012 and on the increase Stress in the teaching profession has often gone untalked about and headteachers especially feel unable to talk about it openly however it is very prevalent in the news at the moment especially since the head of Ofsted Sir Michael Wilshaw caused outrage when he said that teachers do not know what stress is. Leading From the Edge is unique because it looks at work related stress from a school leader's personal experience. James Hilton worked as a headteacher for 15 years in large schools. Following a nervous breakdown brought on by work related stress in 2006 and after a significant period of absence he returned to headship more self aware than before. Chris Roome the mental health therapist who taught him many of the positive strategies he learned in his recovery will act as a consultant on the book adding significant credibility to the work. Each chapter will conclude with learning points and a wealth of practical self help strategies. Foreword by Richard Gerver.

The Big Book of Independent Thinking Ian Gilbert, 2006-06-11. In 1992 Ian Gilbert author of the highly acclaimed Essential Motivation in the Classroom founded Independent Thinking Ltd (ITL). His aim was to enrich young people's lives by changing the way they think and so to change the world. He has done this by gathering together a disparate group of associates specialising in the workings of the brain, discipline, emotional intelligence, ICT, motivation, using music in learning, creativity and dealing with the disaffected. ITL achieve their objective by doing what no one else does or doing what everyone else does in a way no one else does. With a chapter from each of the associates plus an introduction and commentary by Ian Gilbert this is the definitive guide for anyone wishing to understand and use some of the thinking that makes ITL such a unique and successful organisation. If you're looking for a quick How to guide and a series of photocopiable worksheets you can knock out for a last minute PSHE lesson or because the INSET provider you had booked has let you down at the last minute and you're the only member of the middle management team who didn't attend the last planning meeting so you've ended up with the job of stepping in to fill in the gap then this is the book for you. As befitting a disparate group of people brought together under the banner of Independent Thinking these chapters are to get you thinking for yourself, thinking about what you do, why you do, what you do and whether doing it that way is the best thing at all. This book is meant to be dipped into with not every chapter being relevant for everybody all of the time. Some chapters are written with the classroom practitioner very much in mind, others with the students in mind, other still with an eye on school leaders. That said there is something here for everyone so we encourage you to dip into it with a highlighter pen in one hand and a notebook in the other to capture the main messages and ideas that resonate with you. So does the assembly you're about to give or that lesson on forces you're about to deliver or that staff meeting you're about to lead or that new intake parents evening you're planning look like everyone else's anywhere else? If so then what about sitting down with your independent thinking hat on and identifying how you can make it so that we couldn't drop you into a totally different school on the other side of the country without anyone noticing the difference? Have the confidence to be memorable: the world of education needs you to be great.
