The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius Antoninus Marcus Aurelius (Emperor of Rome), Arthur Spenser Loat Farquharson, 1998. A. S. L. Farquharson's translation was originally published in 1944 as part of a major commentary on Marcus Aurelius' work. In this volume, Farquharson's work is brought up to date and supplied with an introduction and notes for the student and general reader. A selection of lively letters from Marcus to his tutor Fronto, most of which date from his earlier years, is also included.

Meditations of Marcus Aurelius Marcus Aurelius, 2021-01-11 A beautifully formatted, easy-to-read version of a timeless classic. The Meditations present the daily Stoic practice of Marcus Aurelius, emperor of Rome from 161 to 180 AD. Likely written during his years on various military campaigns across the empire, they reflect his efforts to improve himself by fully assimilating the basic principles of Stoicism as put forth by Epictetus, a Greek slave who became the greatest philosopher of his time. To read the Meditations is to see how a practicing Stoic again and again will formulate for himself the central dogmas of Stoicism that everywhere and at all times it is in your power to accept your present condition reverently to behave justly to those around you and to exert your skill to control your thoughts that nothing shall steal into them without being well examined VII 54 The primary philosophical influence on Marcus Aurelius was Epictetus who set forth the basic principles and dogmas of Stoicism and advised practicing Stoics that these are the things that philosophers ought to study it is these that they should write about each day and it is in these that they should exercise themselves Discourses I 1 25 To read Marcus Aurelius's Meditations is to witness just such study and exercise We see the emperor formulating the same small set of principles rules and themes over and over again The basic Stoic principle The only good is virtue or moral good VIII 1 The three rules disciplines of judgment action and desire Your present judgment founded on understanding and your present conduct directed to social good and your present disposition of contentment with everything which happens that is enough IX 6 The various dogmas or themes Tranquility is nothing else than the good ordering of the mind IV 3 Men do wrong because of their ignorance of what is good and evil II 1 All things happen according to the universal nature a man's wrongful act is nothing to you everything which happens always happened so and will happen so and now happens so everywhere the close kinship between you and the whole human race is not of a little blood or seed but of intelligence every man's intelligence is a god and is an efflux of the deity nothing is a man's own but that his child and his body and his very soul came from the deity everything is judgment opinion every man lives the present time only and loses only this a list of eight dogmas all from XII 26 Marcus did what his philosophical master Epictetus called for practicing Stoics to do He formulated and reformulated just these principles and themes and the result of this practice of writing is his Meditations Read and imitate his practice If you do you too might have these reflections at hand by night and day Write them down read them talk about them both to yourself and to somebody else Discourses III 24 103
