Science fiction and innovation Thomas Michaud,2008   Beyond Cyberpunk Graham J. Murphy,Sherryl Vint,2010-06-10 This book is a collection of essays that considers the continuing cultural relevance of the cyberpunk genre into the new millennium Cyberpunk is no longer an emergent phenomenon but in our digital age of CGI driven entertainment the information economy and globalized capital we have never more been in need of a fiction capable of engaging with a world shaped by information technology The essays in explore our cyberpunk realities to soberly reconsider Eighties era cyberpunk while also mapping contemporary cyberpunk The contributors seek to move beyond the narrow strictures of cyberpunk as defined in the Eighties and contribute to an ongoing discussion of how to negotiate exchanges among information technologies global capitalism and human social existence The essays offer a variety of perspectives on cyberpunk s diversity and how this sub genre remains relevant amidst its transformation from a print fiction genre into a more generalized set of cultural practices tackling the question of what it is that cyberpunk narratives continue to offer us in those intersections of literary cultural theoretical academic and technocultural environments American Dream, American Nightmare Kathryn Hume,2022-08-15 In this celebration of contemporary American fiction Kathryn Hume explores how estrangement from America has shaped the fiction of a literary generation which she calls the Generation of the Lost Dream In breaking down the divisions among standard categories of race religion ethnicity and gender Hume identifies shared core concerns values and techniques among seemingly disparate and unconnected writers including T Coraghessan Boyle Ralph Ellison Russell Banks Gloria Naylor Tim O Brien Maxine Hong Kingston Walker Percy N Scott Momaday John Updike Toni Morrison William Kennedy Julia Alvarez Thomas Pynchon Leslie Marmon Silko and Don DeLillo Hume explores fictional treatments of the slippage in the immigrant experience between America s promise and its reality She exposes the political link between contemporary stories of lost innocence and liberalism s inadequacies She also invites us to look at the literary challenge to scientific materialism in various searches for a spiritual dimension in life The expansive future promised by the American Dream has been replaced Hume finds by a sense of tarnished morality and a melancholy loss of faith in America s exceptionalism American Dream American Nightmare examines the differing critiques of America embedded in nearly a hundred novels and points to the source for recovery that appeals to many of the authors Arc 2.2: Chromewash Marek Kohn,Ned Beauman,Matthew De Abaitua,Brendan Byrne,Jane Rogers,Adam Rothstein,Joanna Kavenna,Tim Maughan,2014-04-22 The second volume of Arc continues with an issue that wants to peel back the futuristic shine So we bettered ourselves had us a couple of revolutions agricultural industrial and then before we knew it our inventions had raised the seas and fried the atmosphere reshuffled our knowledge and commodified our pleasures they even stole our privacy Our lives are good but not fair at all and signs are we re coming to a stormy end Our masters tell us they ll figure things out With predictions and scenarios models and forecasts they ll find a way through the coming storms and shortages But what if they can t What if it s all moonshine and they re just slapping on chromewash to cover their panic and powerlessness In Chromewash original stories scratch and scuff the oh so shiny prediction business Ned Beauman plays the markets Jane Rogers puts a market price on identity Tim Maughan games the art market and Matthew De Abaitua wonders what happens when creatives get destructive Also in this issue Joanna Kavenna learns to mistrust Al Gore s first person plural and M John Harrison examines the special weapons and tactics of English Heritage Medical ethicist Peter Hajek s modest proposal tackles an ageing planet Adam Rothstein spins a ghost story out of vapourware Marek Kohn decides that the past has a future too and Brendan Byrne recalls the moment modern statecraft went cyberpunk Storming the Reality Studio Larry McCaffery,1991 The term cyberpunk entered the literary landscape in 1984 to describe William Gibson s pathbreaking novel Neuromancer Cyberpunks are now among the shock troops of postmodernism Larry McCaffery argues in Storming the Reality Studio marshalling the resources of a fragmentary culture to create a startling new form Artificial intelligence genetic engineering multinational machinations frenetic bursts of prose collisions of style celebrations of texture although emerging largely from science fiction these features of cyberpunk writing are as this volume makes clear integrally related to the aims and innovations of the literary avant garde By bringing together original fiction by well known contemporary writers William Burroughs Thomas Pynchon Don DeLillo Kathy Acker J G Ballard Samuel R Delany critical commentary by some of the major theorists of postmodern art and culture Jacques Derrida Fredric Jameson Timothy Leary Jean Fran ois Lyotard and work by major practitioners of cyberpunk William Gibson Rudy Rucker John Shirley Pat Cadigan Bruce Sterling Storming the Reality Studio reveals a fascinating ongoing dialog in contemporary culture What emerges most strikingly from the colloquy is a shared preoccupation with the force of technology in shaping modern life It is precisely this concern according to McCaffery that has put science fiction typically the province of technological art at the forefront of creative explorations of our unique age A rich opporunity for reading across genres this anthology offers a new perspective on the evolution of postmodern culture and ultimately shows how deeply technological developments have influenced our vision and our art Selected Fiction contributors Kathy Acker J G Ballard William S Burroughs Pat Cadigan Samuel R Delany Don DeLillo William Gibson Harold Jaffe Richard Kadrey Marc Laidlaw Mark Leyner Joseph McElroy Misha Ted Mooney Thomas Pynchon Rudy Rucker Lucius Shepard Lewis Shiner John Shirley Bruce Sterling William Vollman Selected Non Fiction contributors Jean Baudrillard Jacques Derrida Joan Gordon Veronica Hollinger Fredric Jameson Arthur Kroker and David Cook Timothy Leary Jean Fran ois Lyotard Larry McCaffery Brian McHale Dave Porush Bruce Sterling Darko Suvin Takayuki Tatsumi Latin American Identity in Online Cultural Production Claire Taylor,Thea Pitman,2013-03-05 This volume provides an innovative and timely approach to a fast growing yet still under studied field in Latin American cultural production digital online culture It focuses on the transformations or continuations that cultural products and practices such as hypermedia fictions net art and online performance art as well as blogs films databases and other genre defying web based projects perform with respect to Latin American ist discourses as well as their often contestatory positioning with respect to Western hegemonic discourses as they circulate online The intellectual rationale for the volume is located at the crossroads of two equally important theoretical strands theories of digital culture in their majority the product of the anglophone academy and contemporary debates on Latin American identity and culture Postmodern Anarchism Lewis Call,2002-01-01 Delving into the anarchist writings of Nietzsche Foucault and Baudrillard and exploring the cyberpunk fiction of William Gibson and Bruce Sterling theorist Lewis Call examines the new philosophical current where anarchism meets postmodernism This theoretical stream moves beyond anarchism s conventional attacks on capital and the state to criticize those forms of rationality consciousness and language that implicitly underwrite all economic and political power Call argues that postmodernism s timely influence updates anarchism making it relevant to the political culture of the new millennium   Writing Travel John Zilcosky,2008-01-01 Examining a broad range of texts and travellers from across the world the contributors discuss canonical authors such as Homer Goethe and Baudelaire alongside lesser known writers such as Theodor Herzl Hans Erich Nossack and William Gibson This theoretically rich volume draws connections between travel and narrative and provides powerful insights into the relationship between travel and the spoken act of storytelling as well as the more ambivalent act of story writing   Shaping the Network Society Douglas Schuler,Peter Day,2003-01-01 How computer professionals and communities can work together to shape sociotechnical systems that will meet society s challenges Information and computer technologies are used every day by real people with real needs The authors contributing to Shaping the Network Society describe how technology can be used effectively by communities activists and citizens to meet society s challenges In their vision computer professionals are concerned less with bits bytes and algorithms and more with productive partnerships that engage both researchers and community activists These collaborations are producing important sociotechnical work that will affect the future of the network society Traditionally academic research on real world users of technology has been neglected or even discouraged The authors contributing to this book are working to fill this gap their theoretical and practical discussions illustrate a new orientation research that works with people in their natural social environments uses common language rather than rarefied academic discourse and takes a pragmatic perspective The topics they consider are key to democratization and social change They include human rights in the global billboard society public computing in Toledo Ohio public digital culture in Amsterdam civil networking in the former Yugoslavia information technology and the international public sphere historical archaeologies of community networks technobiographical reflections on the future libraries as information commons and globalization and media democracy as illustrated by Indymedia a global collective of independent media organizations   Professional Journal of the United States Army ,1998   World Weavers Kin Yuen Wong,Gary Westfahl,Amy Kit-sze Chan,2005-11-01 World Weavers is the first ever study on the relationship between globalization and science fiction Scientific innovations provide citizens of different nations with a unique common ground and the means to establish new connections with distant lands This study attempts to investigate how our world has grown more and more interconnected not only due to technological advances but also to a shared interest in those advances and to what they might lead to in the future Science fiction has long been both literally and metaphorically linked to the emerging global village It now takes on the task of exploring how the cybernetic revolution might transform the world and keep it one step ahead of the real world despite ever accelerating developments As residents of a world that is undeniably globalized science fictional and virtual it is incumbent on us to fully understand just how we came to live in such a world and to envisage where this world may be heading next World Weavers represents one small but significant step toward achieving such knowledge codependent and mutually defining Synthesizing the most provocative theories of postmodern culture with a truly encyclopedic treatment of the relevant media this volume sets a new standard in the study of science fiction a category that itself may be redefined in light of this work Bukatman not only offers the most detailed map to date of the intellectual terrain of postmodern technology studies he arrives at new frontiers providing a propitious launching point for further inquiries into the relationship of electronic technology and culture
