Kaddish for a Child Not Born Imre Kertész, 1997 A Jew's lament to explain why he has not fathered a child after the Holocaust it is impossible for a Jew to have a normal life But as his lament continues it becomes clear the roots of his nihilism lie in his childhood By a Hungarian writer author of Fateless Comparative Central European Holocaust Studies Louise Olga Vasvári, Steven Tötösy de Zepetnek, 2009 The work presented in the volume in fields of the humanities and social sciences is based on 1 the notion of the existence and the describability and analysis of a culture including e.g. history literature society the arts etc specific of to the region designated as Central Europe 2 the relevance of a field designated as Central European Holocaust studies and 3 the relevance in the study of culture of the comparative and contextual approach designated as comparative cultural studies Papers in the volume are by scholars working in Holocaust Studies in Australia Germany Hungary Israel Serbia the United Kingdom and the US The Broken Voice Robert Eaglestone, 2017 Robert Eaglestone explores the interweaving of complicity responsibility temporality and the often problematic powers of narrative which make up some part of the legacy of the Holocaust He examines a range of texts by significant writers as well as work by victims and perpetrators of the Holocaust and of atrocities in Africa Diversity in Narration and Writing Kornélia Horváth, Judit Mudriczki, Sarolta Osztrólczyk, 2022-01-10 The essays in this volume focus on different prose and audiovisual narratives and their academic and cultural significance as seen in the twenty first century Their diverse interpretations of the novel as a genre provide a current academic overview on the variety of interpretive cultures and traditions Divided into three sections the book consciously takes an international perspective in both narrative theory and novel studies in order to deepen the reader's understanding of classic American and European authors including Gustave Flaubert Lewis Carroll James Joyce Doris Lessing Jack London J M Coetzee and David Lodge In addition it also offers a profound contribution to international scholarship as it covers works of classic and contemporary Hungarian and Central European writers that have not been discussed in English before With its unprecedented insights into the depth and diversity of narrative prose traditions the book will inspire innovative approaches to the concept of the novel in European academic criticism today The Conflagration of Community J. Hillis Miller, 2011-08-01 After Auschwitz to write even a single poem is barbaric The Conflagration of Community challenges Theodor Adorno's famous statement about aesthetic production after the Holocaust arguing for the possibility of literature to bear witness to extreme collective and personal experiences J Hillis Miller masterfully considers how novels about the Holocaust relate to fictions written before and after it and uses theories of community from Jean Luc Nancy and Derrida to explore the dissolution of community bonds in its wake Miller juxtaposes readings of books about the Holocaust Keneally's Schindler's List McEwan's Black Dogs Spiegelman's Maus and Kertsz's Fatelessness with Kafka's novels and Morrison's Beloved asking what it means to think of texts as acts of testimony Throughout Miller questions the resonance between the difficulty of imagining understanding or remembering Auschwitz a difficulty so often a theme in records of the Holocaust and the exasperating resistance to clear conclusive interpretation of these novels The Conflagration of Community is an eloquent study of literature's value to fathoming the unfathomable
