Covering the main theoretical approaches and key literary genres of the area, this volume includes Examination of ecofeminism through the literatures of a diverse sampling of languages including Hindi, Chinese, Arabic, and Spanish; native speakers of Tamil, Vietnamese, Turkish, Slovene, and Icelandic. Analysis of core issues and topics offering innovative approaches to interpreting literature including activism, animal studies, cultural studies, disability, gender essentialism, hegemonic masculinity, intersectionality, material ecocriticism, postcolonialism, posthumanism, postmodernism, race, and sentimental ecology. Surveys key periods and genres of ecofeminism and literary criticism including chapters on Gothic, Romantic, and Victorian literatures; children and young adult literature; mystery and detective fictions; including interconnected genres of climate fiction, science fiction, and fantasy; and distinctive perspectives provided by travel writing, autobiography, and poetry. This collection explores how each of ecofeminism's core concerns can foster a more emancipatory literary theory and criticism now and in the future. This comprehensive volume will be of great interest to scholars and students of literature, ecofeminism, ecocriticism, gender studies, and the environmental humanities.

Eros, Pleasure, Friendship, and The Good Life James J. Winchester, 2025-07-03. The book invites its readers to explore the role erotic love, pleasure, and friendship play in crafting a good life. These topics are enduring themes that capture the heart of human existence and have been the focus of many works of philosophy and literature. However, there remains scope for further examination. This book offers a compelling case to expand the exploration beyond the preponderance of white male canonical figures that have dominated the field in order to include an array of scholars that more accurately capture the diversity of humanity. It does so by drawing on Greek, Asian, African, Continental, and Feminist thinkers and exploring a myriad of literary works to illustrate and interrogate the theories.

Love and Narrative Form in Toni Morrison's Later Novels Jean Wyatt, 2017-03-01. In Love and Narrative Form in Toni Morrison's Later Novels, Jean Wyatt explores the interaction among ideas of love, narrative, innovation, and reader response in Toni Morrison's seven later novels. Love comes in a new and surprising shape in each of the later novels; for example, in Love, it presents itself as the deep friendship between little girls in Home; it acts as a disruptive force producing deep changes in subjectivity; and in Jazz, it becomes something one innovates and recreates each moment like jazz itself. Each novel's unconventional idea of love requires a new experimental narrative form. Wyatt analyzes the stylistic and structural innovations of each novel, showing how disturbances in narrative chronology, surprise endings, and gaps mirror the dislocated temporality and distorted emotional responses of the novels' troubled characters and demand that the reader situate the present-day problems of the characters in relation to a traumatic African American past. The narrative surprises and gaps require the reader to become an active participant in making meaning. And the texts' complex narrative strategies draw out the reader's convictions about love, about gender, about race, and then prompt the reader to reexamine them so that reading becomes an active ethical dialogue between text and reader. Wyatt uses psychoanalytic concepts to analyze Morrison's narrative structures and how they work on readers Love and Narrative Form devotes a chapter to each of Morrison's later novels Beloved Jazz Paradise Love A Mercy Home and God Help the Child

Spectrality in the Novels of Toni Morrison Melanie R. Anderson, 2013-03-30 At first glance Beloved would appear to be the only ghost story among Toni Morrison's nine novels but as this provocative new study shows spectral presences and places abound in the celebrated author's fiction Melanie R. Anderson explores how Morrison uses specters to bring the traumas of African American life to the forefront highlighting histories and experiences both cultural and personal that society at large too frequently ignores Working against the background of magical realism while simultaneously expanding notions of the supernatural within American and African American writing Morrison populates her novels with what Anderson identifies as two distinctive types of ghosts spectral figures and social ghosts Deconstructing Western binaries Morrison uses the spectral to indicate power through its transcendence of corporality temporality and explication and she employs the ghostly as a metaphor of erasure for living characters who are marginalized and haunt the edges of their communities The interaction of these social ghosts with the spectral presences functions as a transformative healing process that draws the marginalized figure out of the shadows and creates links across ruptures between generations and between past and present life and death This book examines how these relationships become increasingly more prominent in the novelist's canon from their beginnings in The Bluest Eye and Sula to their flowering in the trilogy that comprises Beloved Jazz and Paradise and onward into A Mercy An important contribution to the understanding of one of America's premier fiction writers Spectrality in the Novels of Toni Morrison demonstrates how the Nobel laureate's powerful and challenging works give presence to the invisible voice to the previously silenced and agency to the oppressed outsiders who are refused a space in which to narrate their stories Melanie R. Anderson is an Instructional Assistant Professor of American Literature at the University of Mississippi
