There is only one kind of memoir I can see to write and that's a slippery, playful, impish exasperating text, shaped, if it could be, like a question mark.

Thomas Couser, 2012-01-19 A compact pithy guide to the most popular form of life writing Memoir An Introduction provides a primer to the ubiquitous literary form and its many subgenres Lying Paul J. Griffiths, 2010-04-01 Most people would agree that compulsive lying is a sickness In his provocative Lying Paul Griffiths suggests that consistent truth telling might evoke a similar response After all isn't unrelenting honesty often associated with stupidity insanity and fanatical sainthood Drawing from Augustine's writings and contrasting them with the work of other Christian and non-Christian thinkers Griffiths deals with the two great questions concerning lying What is it to lie When if ever should or may a lie be told Examining Augustine's answers to these questions Griffiths grapples with the difficulty of those answers while rendering them more accessible With rhetorical savvy Augustine himself would applaud Griffiths aims to seduce rather than argue his readers into agreement with Augustine Augustine's historically significant characteristically Christian and undeniably radical thoughts on lying ignite Griffiths's searching discussion of this challenging and crucial topic Marvelously erudite and energetic Lying will draw Augustine enthusiasts students of ethics and anyone who is committed to living a more honest life The New York Times Book Reviews 2000 New York Times Staff, 2001 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context dating and sources character analysis comic elements and verbal conceits evidence of authorship performance analysis and feminist interpretations Alongside theater reviews production photographs and critical commentary the volume also includes essays written by practicing theater artists who have worked on the play An index by name literary work and concept rounds out this valuable resource The Effects of Lying Alyson Healy, Salem State University. Graduate School of English, 2010 The author examines Lauren Slater's memoir Lying a metaphorical memoir 2000 about Slater's claim to suffer from epilepsy This claim was debunked later but the author notes was only a part of a personality disorder suffered by Slater which caused her to exaggerate everything The author's thesis is that by admitting to be a liar Slater is really being an honest narrator This follows a trend in modern memoirists to make up horrific life stories to get public sympathy and attention known as creative nonfiction A Condition of Doubt Catherine Belling, 2012-06-28 This title seeks to change the way we think about hypochondria and to use hypochondria to sharpen our thinking about health care The book's four parts examine hypochondria as a condition of biology of medicine of culture and of narrative The Oxford History of Life-Writing Patrick

Hayes,2022 This volume is devoted to life writing in English from 1945 to the present day a period in which life writing became an increasingly popular and accessible form      Disability and/in Prose Brenda Jo Brueggemann,Marian E. Lupo,2013-09-13 Through a series of critical essays this book concerns the relationships and possibilities in and between prose and disability It covers a diverse range from the role of the disability memoir the effect of disablement on soldiers phantom limb syndrome and the suspicion of faking it that sometimes surrounds      Psychiatry Thomas Szasz,2008-09-08 For more than half a century Thomas Szasz has devoted much of his career to a radical critique of psychiatry His latest work Psychiatry The Science of Lies is a culmination of his life s work to portray the integral role of deception in the history and practice of psychiatry Szasz argues that the diagnosis and treatment of mental illness stands in the same relationship to the diagnosis and treatment of bodily illness that the forgery of a painting does to the original masterpiece Art historians and the legal system seek to distinguish forgeries from originals Those concerned with medicine on the other hand physicians patients politicians health insurance providers and legal professionals take the opposite stance when faced with the challenge of distinguishing everyday problems in living from bodily diseases systematically authenticating nondiseases as diseases The boundary between disease and nondisease genuine and imitation truth and falsehood thus becomes arbitrary and uncertain There is neither glory nor profit in correctly demarcating what counts as medical illness and medical healing from what does not Individuals and families wishing to protect themselves from medically and politically authenticated charlatanry are left to their own intellectual and moral resources to make critical decisions about human dilemmas miscategorized as mental diseases and about medicalized responses misidentified as psychiatric treatments Delivering his sophisticated analysis in lucid prose and with a sharp wit Szasz continues to engage and challenge readers of all backgrounds      Narrative Truthiness Annjeanette Wiese,2021-10 Narrative Truthiness presents a new model for understanding truth and shows how a specific vein of postmodern writing engages with the overall goal of enhancing our interpretations of the complexities of the human experience      Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature Danielle E. Price,2023-10-31 Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children s Literature brings a fresh perspective to a central literary question Who speaks by examining a variety of represented silences These include children who do not speak do not yet speak effectively or speak on behalf of others A rich and unexamined literary archive explores the problematics of children who are literally silent or metaphorically so because they cannot communicate effectively with adults or peers This project centers children s literature in the question of voice by considering disability gender race and ecocriticism Children s literature rests on a paradox at the root of its own genre it is produced by an adult author writing to a constructed idea of what children should be By reading a range of contemporary children s literature this book scrutinizes how such texts narrate the child s journey from communicative alterity to a place of empowered adult speech Sometimes the child s verbal enclosure enables privacy and resistance At other times silence is coerced or imposed or arises from bodily impairment Children may act as intermediaries speaking on behalf of species that cannot Recently we have seen children exercise their voices on the world stage and as authors In all cases the texts analyzed here reveal speech as a minefield to be traversed Children who talk too much too little or with insufficient expertise pose problems to themselves and others Implicitly and sometimes explicitly they attempt to hold adults to account inside and outside the text Speech and Silence in Contemporary Children's Literature addresses this underconceptualized subject in what will be an important text for scholars of children's literature childhood studies English disability studies gender studies race studies ecopedagogy and education

The Ethics of Nonfiction George H. Jensen, 2023-10-23 This book explores issues of identity ethics and epistemology that arise around the writing and reception of creative nonfiction It examines a range of different nonfiction forms including the personal essay and memoir and ethical questions that arise in relation to them such as truth claims the confessional mode counter narratives Drawing on the ideas of Bakhtin Nietzsche and Foucault examples from creative nonfiction writers such as Strayed and Knausgaard and the founding principles of the originators of the genre Seneca Augustine and Montaigne George Jensen argues that a limited conception of nonfiction leads to a limited view of its ethics Writing about the truth in an authentic way is more important than ever before and essential to this is the creation of the ethical subject Signifying Bodies G. Thomas Couser, 2009-10-22 Sheds new light on the memoir boom by asking Is the genre basically about disability

Disease and Discrimination Sourav Kumar Nag, 2024-06-25 This book examines disease in the context of gender discrimination It highlights and explores how socio economic political cultural and gender dimensions play a crucial role in understanding and defining disease Through two broad categories non literary and literary the volume discusses concerns such as media representation of gender racial violence domestic violence and healthcare discrimination during Covid 19 pandemic and focuses on the literary representation of gender discrimination related to diseases within and beyond South Asia The chapters are based on fieldwork demographic investigations and statistics that offer a clear and comprehensive insight into the problems This book will be beneficial to students and researchers of gender studies pandemic studies literature anthropology social sciences and disease humanities Troubling Women's Studies Ann Braithwaite, 2004 The four essays in this collection present a multifaceted conversation about what is at stake in passing on the institutionalized project of Women's Studies at this historic moment The authors come to this conversation from a diversity of histories commitments and investments in Women's Studies Framed by the argument that Women's Studies is a project fraught with uncertainty the authors explore what it means to live within this uncertainty and how one might respond to it intellectually emotionally politically institutionally and pedagogically In exploring their own responses and taking into consideration responses from other feminist intellectuals the authors subject their practices to the same kind of academic critique to which they subject the discipline its location theories methods and pedagogies The purpose of these essays is not to enact these responses nor to fix a firm direction for the future of the discipline but rather by looking back and attending to the now

inspire us to grapple with what might be possible

Literacy and Deaf People Brenda Jo Brueggemann, 2004 This compelling collection advocates for an alternative view of deaf people's literacy one that emphasizes recent shifts in Deaf cultural identity rather than a student's past educational context as determined by the dominant hearing society Divided into two parts the book opens with four chapters by leading scholars Tom Humphries Claire Ramsey Susan Burch and volume editor Brenda Jo Brueggemann These scholars use diverse disciplines to reveal how schools where deaf children are taught are the product of ideologies about teaching about how deaf children learn and about the relationship of ASL and English Part Two features works by Elizabeth Engen and Trygg Engen Tane Akamatsu and Ester Cole Lillian Buffalo Tompkins Sherman Wilcox and BoMee Corwin and Kathleen M Wood The five chapters contributed by these noteworthy researchers offer various views on multicultural and bilingual literacy instruction for deaf students Subjects range from a study of literacy in Norway where Norwegian Sign Language recently became the first language of instruction for deaf pupils to the difficulties faced by deaf immigrant and refugee children who confront institutional and cultural clashes Other topics include the experiences of deaf adults who became bilingual in ASL and English and the interaction of the pathological versus the cultural view of deafness The final study examines literacy among Deaf college undergraduates as a way of determining how the current social institution of literacy translates for Deaf adults and how literacy can be extended to deaf people beyond the age of 20

Burdens of Proof Susanna Egan, 2011-04-20 Autobiographical impostures once they come to light appear to us as outrageous scandalous They confuse lived and textual identity the person in the world and the character in the text and call into question what we believe what we doubt and how we receive information In the process they tell us a lot about cultural norms and anxieties Burdens of Proof Faith Doubt and Identity in Autobiography examines a broad range of impostures in the United States Canada and Europe and asks about each one Why this particular imposture Why here and now Susanna Egan's historical survey of texts from early Christendom to the nineteenth century provides an understanding of the author in relation to the text and shows how plagiarism and other false claims have not always been regarded as the frauds we consider them today She then explores the role of the media in the creation of much contemporary imposture examining in particular the cases of Jumana Hanna Norma Khouri and James Frey The book also addresses ethnic imposture deliberate fictions plagiarism and ghostwriting all of which raise moral legal historical and cultural issues Egan concludes the volume with an examination of how historiography and law failed to support the identities of European Jews during World War II creating sufficient instability in Jewish identity and doubt about Jewish wartime experience that the impostor could step in This textual erasure of the Jews of Europe and the refashioning of their experiences in fraudulent texts are examples of imposture as an outcrop of extreme identity crisis The first to examine these issues in North America and Europe Burdens of
