Americas Competitive Secret Women Managers:

America's Competitive Secret: Women Managers Judy B Rosener, 1997 The USA has a number of educated experienced professional women ready and willing to move into the boardrooms and executive suites of corporate America The author of this text argues that they are America's competitive secret America's competitive secret Judy B. Rosener, 1995 The USA has a number of educated experienced professional women ready and willing to move into the boardrooms and executive suites of corporate America The author of this text argues that they are America's competitive secret America's Competitive Secret Judy B. Rosener, 1995 The United States has a large number of well educated experienced professional women ready willing and able to move into the boardrooms and executive suites of corporate America Together they represent a great untapped economic resource a resource no other country in the world can claim This is America's competitive secret argues Judy B Rosener in this refreshingly pragmatic new book for managers who want to improve their bottom line A leading expert on women and men at work and a highly sought after speaker Rosener argues that not only are men and women different so are male and female managers Drawing on in depth interviews with top flight executives and middle managers and the latest research on working women and organizational change she describes the unique contribution of female professionals Her profiles of top women managers reveal that they cope well with ambiguity are comfortable sharing power and they tend to empower others leadership traits that Rosener contends lead to increased employee productivity innovation and profits As businesses today struggle with corporate reorganization and an increasingly diverse workforce America's Competitive Secret offers compelling evidence that the changes that help organizations more fully utilize the talents of women are the same changes that will give them an important edge in today's fast changing service oriented global workplace Rosener explains why the so called glass ceiling still prevents many competent women from reaching the upper echelons of management She analyzes why women and men are perceived and evaluated differently at work and provides new insight into the feelings of men who are asked to interact with women in new roles when there are few new rules Rosener shows that removing the glass ceiling can no longer be viewed solely in terms of social equity it is now an economic imperative Too many American businesses have limited their economic strength by viewing the promotion of women employees only within the context of federally mandated affirmative action laws and policies America's Competitive Secret redefines the issue for a new era showing that America's most successful competitive strategy is one that most effectively utilizes all its human resources Perspectives on Women in Management and the Global Labor Market Vieira, Elisabete S., Madaleno, Mara, Teodósio, João, 2023-04-17 As more women achieve management positions across the world it is essential to understand women's roles in management in different countries and economies as well as their relationships to the global market and the gender effect on management Women's leadership and the challenges that they face look very different globally It is important to research the role of women in management in order to strengthen equality and efficiency Perspectives on Women in Management and the Global Labor Market provides a clear idea of the effect of gender on the management decision making process and the respective consequences showing similarities and striking differences in the practices of different countries and economies This book serves as a compilation of ideas in the new trends associated with the presence of women in management and the global labor market Covering topics such as firm debt maturity change management and wage inequality this premier reference source is an excellent resource for business managers and leaders human resource managers entrepreneurs government officials sociologists students and educators of higher education librarians researchers and academicians
