McNiven, Bruno David, 2023-12-05 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea reviews and brings together the latest findings on the archaeology of the Australia New Guinea region In 42 new chapters commissioned for this book 77 leading researchers present the archaeological evidence for Australia and New Guinea s deep time history The stories told reveal the astounding richness of Australia and New Guinea s Indigenous cultural history stories of tens of thousands of years of Aboriginal Torres Strait Islander and New Guinean adaptation cultural know how and creative ingenuity Archaeology of Ancient Australia Peter Hiscock, 2007-12-12 Peter Hiscock presents an introduction to the archaeology of Australia from prehistoric times to the 18th century AD

The Pacific Islands Moshe Rapaport, 2013-05-31 The Pacific is the last major world region to be discovered by humans Although small in total land area its numerous islands and archipelagoes with their startlingly diverse habitats and biotas extend across a third of the globe This revised edition of a popular text explores the diverse landforms climates and ecosystems of the Pacific island region Multiple chapters written by leading specialists cover the environment history culture population and economy The work includes new or completely revised chapters on gender music logging development education urbanization health ocean resources and tourism Throughout two key issues are addressed the exceptional environmental challenges and the demographic economic political challenges facing the region Although modern technology and media and waves of continental tourists are fast eroding island cultures the continuing resilience of Pacific island populations is apparent This is the only contemporary text on the Pacific Islands that covers both environment and sociocultural issues and will thus be indispensable for any serious student of the region Unlike other reviews it treats the entirety of Oceania with the exception of Australia and is well illustrated with numerous photos and maps including a regional atlas Contributors David Abbott Dennis A Ahlburg Glenn Banks John Barker Geoffrey Bertram David A Chappell William C Clarke John Connell Ron Crocombe Julie Cupples Derrick Depledge Colin Filer Gerard J Fryer Patricia Fryer Brenden S Holland E Alison Kay David M Kennedy Lamont Lindstrom Rick Lumpkin Harley I Manner Selina Tusitala Marsh Nancy McDowell Hamish A McGowan Frank McShane Simon Milne R John Morrison Dieter Mueller Dombois Stephen G Nelson Patrick D Nunn Michael R Ogden Andrew Pawley Jean Louis Rallu Vina Ram Bidesi Moshe Rapaport Annette Sachs Robertson Richard Scaglione Donovan Storey Andrew P Sturman Lynne D Talley James P

Terry Randolph R Thaman Frank R Thomas Caroline Vercoe Terence Wesley Smith Paul Wolfram Pacific Island Heritage Jolie Liston, Geoffrey Richard Clark, Dwight Alexander, 2011-11-01 This volume emerges from a ground breaking conference held in the Republic of Palau on cultural heritage in the Pacific It includes bold investigations of the role of cultural heritage in identity making and the ways in which community engagement informs heritage management practices This is the first broad and detailed investigation of the unique and irreplaceable cultural heritage of the Pacific from a heritage management perspective It identifies new trends in research and assesses relationships between archaeologists heritage managers and local communities The methods which emerge from these relationships will be critical to the effective management of heritage sites in the 21st century A wonderful book which emerges from an extraordinary conference Essential reading for cultural heritage managers archaeologists and others with an interest in caring for the unique cultural heritage of the Pacific Islands

Archaeologies of Island Melanesia Mathieu Leclerc, James Flexner, 2019-08-08 The island world of Melanesia ranging from New Guinea and the Bismarcks through the Solomons Vanuatu and New Caledonia is characterised more than anything by its boundless diversity in geography language and culture The deep historical roots of this diversity are only beginning to be uncovered by archaeological investigations but as the contributions to this volume demonstrate the exciting discoveries being made across this region are opening windows to our understanding of the historical processes that contributed to such remarkably varied cultures Archaeologies of Island Melanesia offers a sampling of some of the recent and ongoing research that spans such topics as landscape exchange systems culture contact and archaeological practice authored by some of the leading scholars in Oceanic archaeology Professor Patrick Vinton Kirch Professor of Anthropology University of Hawai i Island Melanesia is a remarkable region in many respects from its great ecological and linguistic diversity to the complex histories of settlement and interaction spanning from the Pleistocene to the present Archaeological research in Island Melanesia is currently going through a vibrant phase of exciting new discoveries and challenging debates about questions that apply far beyond the region This volume draws together a variety of current perspectives in regional archaeology for Island Melanesia focusing on Vanuatu the Solomon Islands New Caledonia and Papua New Guinea It features both high level theoretical approaches and rigorous data driven case studies covering recent research in landscape archaeology exchange and material culture and cultural practices

Altered Ecologies Simon Haberle, Janelle Stevenson, Matthew Prebble, 2010-11-01 Like a star chart this volume orientates the reader to the key issues and debates in Pacific and Australasian biogeography palaeoecology and human ecology A feature of this collection is the diversity of approaches ranging from interpretation of the biogeographic significance of plant and animal distributional patterns pollen analysis from peats and lake sediments to discern Quaternary climate change explanation of the patterns of faunal extinction events the interplay of fire on landscape evolution and models of the environmental consequences of human settlement patterns The diversity of approaches geographic scope and academic rigor are a fitting tribute to the enormous contributions of Geoff Hope As made apparent in this volume Hope pioneered multidisciplinary understanding of the history and impacts of human cultures in the Australia Pacific region arguably the globe s premier model systems for understanding the consequences of humans colonization on ecological systems The distinguished scholars who have contributed to this volume also demonstrate Hope s enduring contribution as an inspirational research leader collaborator and mentor Terra Australis leave no doubt that history matters not only for land management but more importantly in alerting settler and indigenous societies alike to their past ecological impacts and future environmental trajectories      A Companion to Rock Art Jo

McDonald,Peter Veth,2012-06-22 This unique guide provides an artistic and archaeological journey deep into human history exploring the petroglyphic and pictographic forms of rock art produced by the earliest humans to contemporary peoples around the world Summarizes the diversity of views on ancient rock art from leading international scholars Includes new discoveries and research illustrated with over 160 images including 30 color plates from major rock art sites around the world Examines key work of noted authorities e g Lewis Williams Conkey Whitley and Clottes and outlines new directions for rock art research Is broadly international in scope identifying rock art from North and South America Australia the Pacific Africa India Siberia and Europe Represents new approaches in the archaeological study of rock art exploring issues that include gender shamanism landscape identity indigeneity heritage and tourism as well as technological and methodological advances in rock art analyses      New Perspectives in Global Public Archaeology Katsuyuki Okamura,Akira

Matsuda,2011-09-03 Since its very beginning archaeology has in many senses always related to a much wider constituency than just archaeologists This relationship between archaeology and the public has often been overlooked and constantly changes Public archaeology as a field of research and practice has been developing since the 1970s in English speaking countries particularly in the United States Britain and Australia and is today beginning to spread to other parts of the world Global expansion of public archaeology comes with the recognition of the need for a careful understanding of local contexts particularly the culture and socio political climate This volume critically examines the current theories and practices of public archaeology through relevant case studies from different regions throughout the world including Japan China South Korea New Caledonia South Africa Senegal Jordan Italy Peru Canada the United Kingdom the United States and Australia These case studies are examined from a wide variety of theoretical contexts to provide a thorough and comprehensive guide to the state of public archaeology today as well as implications for its future As the theory and practice of public archaeology continues to change and grow archaeology s relationship with the broader community needs to be critically and openly examined The contributions in this wide ranging work are a key source of information for anyone practicing or studying archaeology in a public context      The Cambridge World Prehistory Colin Renfrew,Paul Bahn,2014-06-09 The Cambridge World Prehistory provides a systematic and authoritative examination of the prehistory of every region around the world from the early days of human origins in Africa two million years ago to the beginnings of written history which in some areas started only two centuries ago Written by a team of leading international scholars the volumes include both traditional topics and cutting edge approaches such as archaeolinguistics and molecular genetics and examine the essential questions of human development around the world The volumes are organised geographically exploring the evolution of hominins and their expansion from Africa as well as the formation of states and development in each region of different technologies such as seafaring metallurgy and food production The Cambridge World Prehistory reveals a rich and complex history of the world It will be an invaluable resource for any student or scholar of archaeology and related disciplines looking to research a particular topic tradition region or period within prehistory

Past Mobilities Jim Leary, 2016-05-13 The new mobilities paradigm has yet to have the same impact on archaeology as it has in other disciplines in the social sciences on geography sociology and anthropology in particular yet mobility is fundamental to archaeology all people move Moving away from archaeology's traditional focus upon place or location this volume treats mobility as a central theme in archaeology The chapters are wide ranging and methodological as well as theoretical focusing on the flows of people ideas objects and information in the past they also focus on archaeology's distinctiveness Drawing on a wealth of archaeological evidence for movement from paths monuments rock art and boats to skeletal and DNA evidence Past Mobilities presents research from a range of examples from around the world to explore the relationship between archaeology and movement thus adding an archaeological voice to the broader mobilities discussion As such it will be of interest not only to archaeologists and historians but also to sociologists geographers and anthropologists

Sentient Archaeologies Courtney Nimura, Rebecca O'Sullivan, Richard Bradley, 2023-07-15 Archaeology in the past century has seen a major shift from theoretical frameworks that treat the remains of past societies as static snapshots of particular moments in time to interpretations that prioritize change and variability Though established analytical concepts such as typology remain key parts of the archaeologist's investigative toolkit data gathering strategies and interpretative frameworks have become infused progressively with the concept that archaeology is living in the sense of both the objects of study and the discipline as a whole The significance for the field is that researchers across the world are integrating ideas informed by relational epistemologies and mutually constructive ontologies into their work from the initial stage of project design all the way down to post excavation interpretation This volume showcases examples of such work highlighting the utility of these ideas to exploring material both old and new The illuminating research and novel explanations presented contribute to resolving long standing problems in regional archaeologies across Africa Asia Australia Europe and Oceania In this way this volume reinvigorates approaches taken towards older material but also acts as a springboard for future innovative discussions of theory in archaeology and related disciplines

Landesque Capital N Thomas Håkansson, Mats Widgren, 2016-06-16 This book is the first comprehensive global treatment of landesque capital a widespread concept used to understand anthropogenic landscapes that serve important economic social and ritual purposes Spanning the disciplines of anthropology human ecology geography archaeology and history chapters combine theoretical rigor with in depth empirical studies of major landscape modifications from ancient to contemporary times They assess not only degradation but also the social political and economic institutions and contexts that make sustainability possible Offering tightly edited original contributions from leading scholars this book will have a lasting influence on the study long term human environment relations in the human and natural sciences

Archaeological Perspectives on Conflict and Warfare in Australia and the Pacific Geoffrey Clark, Mirani Litster, 2022-03-08

When James Boswell famously lamented the irrationality of war in 1777 he noted the universality of conflict across history and across space even reaching what he described as the gentle and benign southern ocean nations This volume discusses archaeological evidence of conflict from those southern oceans from Palau and Guam to Australia Vanuatu and Tonga the Marquesas Easter Island and New Zealand The evidence for conflict and warfare encompasses defensive earthworks on Palau fortifications on Tonga and intricate pa sites in New Zealand It reports evidence of reciprocal sacrifice to appease deities in several island nations and skirmishes and smaller scale conflicts including in Easter Island This volume traces aspects of colonial era conflict in Australia and frontier battles in Vanuatu and discusses depictions of World War II materiel in the rock art of Arnhem Land Among the causes and motives discussed in these papers are pressure on resources the ebb and flow of significant climate events and the significant association of conflict with culture contact The volume necessarily selective eclectic and wide ranging includes an incisive introduction that situates the evidence persuasively in the broader scholarship addressing the history of human warfare

This is the first book length study of the archaeology of Australia's deserts one of the world's major habitats and the largest block of drylands in the southern hemisphere Over the last few decades a wealth of new environmental and archaeological data about this fascinating region has become available Drawing on a wide range of sources The Archaeology of Australia's Deserts explores the late Pleistocene settlement of Australia's deserts the formation of distinctive desert societies and the origins and development of the hunter gatherer societies documented in the classic nineteenth century ethnographies of Spencer and Gillen Written by one of Australia's leading desert archaeologists the book interweaves a lively history of research with archaeological data in a masterly survey of the field and a profoundly interdisciplinary study that forces archaeology into conversations with history and anthropology economy and ecology and geography and Earth sciences

Food and Gender in Fiji Sharyn Jones, 2009-08-13 Food and Gender in Fiji is an ethnoarchaeological investigation of the social relations surrounding foodways on the island of Nayau in Fiji Writing from the perspective of an archaeologist Jones answers questions raised by her archaeological research using original ethnographic data and material culture associated women and fishing the intersection that forms the basis of the subsistence economy on Nayau She focuses on food procurement on the reef domestic activities surrounding foodways and household spatial patterns to explore the meaning of food amongst the Lau Group of Fiji beyond the obvious nutritional and ecological spheres Jones presents her findings alongside original archaeological data demonstrating that it is possible to illuminate contemporary food related social issues through historical homology and comparison with the lifeways of the Lauan people Offering a comprehensive and rigorous example of ethnoarchaeology at work this book has major implications for archaeological interpretations of foodways gender identity and social organization in the Pacific Islands and beyond Rethinking Agriculture Timothy P Denham, José Iriarte, Luc Vrydaghs, 2016-07 Although the need to study agriculture in different parts of the world on its own terms has long been recognized and re affirmed a tendency persists to evaluate agriculture across the globe using concepts lines of evidence and methods derived from Eurasian research However researchers working in different regions are becoming increasingly aware of fundamental differences in the nature of and methods employed to study agriculture and plant exploitation practices in the past Contributions to this volume rethink agriculture whether in terms of existing regional chronologies in terms of techniques employed or in terms of the concepts that frame our interpretations This volume highlights new archaeological and ethnoarchaeological research on early agriculture in understudied non Eurasian regions including Island Southeast Asia and the Pacific the Americas and Africa to present a more balanced view of the origins and development of agricultural practices around the globe Desert Peoples Peter Veth, Mike Smith, Peter Hiscock, 2008-04-15 Desert Peoples Archaeological Perspectives provides an issues oriented overview of hunter gatherer societies in desert landscapes that combines archaeological and anthropological perspectives and includes a wide range of regional and thematic case studies Brings together for the first time studies from deserts as diverse as the sand dunes of Australia the U S Great Basin the coastal and high altitude deserts of South America and the core deserts of Africa Examines the key concepts vital to understanding human adaptation to marginal landscapes and the behavioral and belief systems that underpin them Explores the relationship among desert hunter gatherers herders and pastoralists Oceanic Explorations Stuart Bedford, Christophe Sand, Sean P. Connaughton, 2007-11-01 Lapita comprises an archaeological horizon that is fundamental to the understanding of human colonisation and settlement of the Pacific as it is associated with the arrival of the common ancestors of the Polynesians and many Austronesian speaking Melanesians more than 3000 years ago While Lapita archaeology has captured the imagination and sustained the focus of archaeologists for more than 50 years more recent discoveries have inspired renewed interpretations and assessments Oceanic Explorations reports on a number of these latest discoveries and includes papers which reassess the Lapita phenomenon in light of this new data They reflect on a broad range of interrelated themes including Lapita chronology patterns of settlement migration interaction and exchange ritual behaviour sampling strategies and ceramic analyses all of which relate to aspects highlighting both advances and continuing impediments associated with Lapita research The Oxford Handbook of Public Archaeology Robin Skeates, Carol McDavid, John Carman, 2012-01-05 Divided into four distinct sections and drawing across various disciplines this volume seeks to reappraise the place of archaeology in the contemporary world by providing a series of essays that critically engage with both old and current debates in the field of public archaeology
