Bongani Nyoka,2020-09-01 This comprehensive treatment of Archie Mafeje as a thinker and researcher analyses his overall scholarship and his role as a theoretician of liberation and revolutionary theory Social scientist Archie Mafeje who was born in the Eastern Cape but lived most of his scholarly life in exile was one of Africa's most prominent intellectuals This groundbreaking work is the first of its kind to consider the entire body of Mafeje's oeuvre and offers a much needed engagement with his ideas The most inclusive and critical treatment to date of Mafeje as a thinker and researcher the book analyses his overall scholarship and his role as a theoretician of liberation and revolution Author Bongani Nyoka's main argument is that Mafeje's superb scholarship developed out of his experience as an oppressed black person and his early political education which merged with his university training to turn him into a formidable cutting edge intellectual force There are three main parts to the book Part I evaluates Mafeje's critique of the social sciences part II focuses on his work on land and agrarian issues in sub Saharan Africa and part III deals with his work on revolutionary theory and politics The book engages in the act of knowledge decolonisation making a unique contribution to South Africa's sociological historical and political studies

University Knowledge, 2023-04-12 The discourse of decolonisation though littered with unresolved contestation in the university as an institution of higher learning has often been blamed on the impact of neoliberal globalisation philosophy The volume focuses on unfinished project of decolonisation with an aim on African knowledge and the historical question of canonicity by keeping the emancipative dialogue alive The authors place great scrutiny on the quality of curriculum offered in universities arguing that a sound relevant curriculum original to the continent can save Africa s citizenry from challenges bedevilling socio economic development This book proposes a disruption and potential end to western hegemonic epistemologies that manifest the neoliberal geopolitical terrain in the form of cultural imperialism epistemicide and linguicide through a decolonial approach to the curriculum in African universities It interrogates and challenges the neo colonial entanglement in regional higher education policy processes coupled with the excessive dependence of regional stakeholders on western external actors for higher education policy and envisages a decolonial alternative future for the regionalisation of higher education in Africa To this end the book brings in a more philosophical and practical hermeneutic of knowledge production and dissemination that unyokes post independence African universities from the bondage of erstwhile colonisers Race, Racism, and International Law Devon W. Carbado, Kimberlé Williams Crenshaw, Justin

Desautels-Stein, Chantal Thomas, 2025-08-19 What would it look like to place race at the center of international legal scholarship From its inception in the 70s and 80s critical race theory s target was the field of law revealing it to be a repository for racial power This particular critique of law was explosive because of law s putatively apolitical status making it a unique site for an intellectual sit in that has forever changed the way that race and racism are understood in American society Several decades later as indicators of populism and white nationalism spread across North America and Europe critical race theory remains markedly absent from discourses in global affairs and international law This volume opens the door for CRT to enter the international sphere Featuring contributions from 30 of today s leading scholars from around the world Race Racism and International Law explains how the concept of racial difference sits at the foundation of the legal political and social structures of hierarchy that shape the contemporary global order Helmed by four pioneering experts two in CRT and two in international law the volume s approach targets regimes of power and violence that implicate racism capitalism and colonialism This volume lays the groundwork for urgent and provocative new modes of critique and analysis

Nationalism, Politics and Anthropology Ilana van Wyk, Jimmy Pieterse, 2022-02-28 In this book Ilana van Wyk and Jimmy Pieterse interrogate the question of political subjectivity and its role in the making of anthropology and anthropologists by revisiting the pitched battles between so called liberal social anthropologists and conservative nationalist

volkekundiges in South Africa They pay particular attention to the social and cultural lives of two men who were central proponents of South African anthropology s two tales Kees van der Waal a former volkekundige and John Sharp once one of volkekunde s fiercest critics Through a series of conversations with Kees and John they show that the issues that once divided a local field still animate the ways in which centres and peripheries of global anthropology relate to one another and to foundational questions about the discipline s epistemology and political positionality Paulin Hountondji and the Science Question in Africa Zeyad el Nabolsy, 2025-07-18 This book offers a systematic reconstruction of Paulin Hountondji s contributions to the debate about the place of modern science on the African continent The book shows that Hountondji develops an account of modern science that is sociologically sensitive to the entanglement between modern science and colonialism on the African continent without falling into epistemic relativism about the claims of modern science It is argued that Hountondji s views on modern science express a strong historical materialist influence and that he develops a theory of science that draws both on the Hessen Grossmann hypothesis and dependency theory Thus this book brings together two strands of historical materialist thought about science that have hitherto been isolated from one another This book is of interest to scholars who specialize in African philosophy history and philosophy of science global philosophy and African studies

Exploring Curriculum Landscapes in Africa Oscar Koopman, Karen J. Koopman, Wally Lumadi, Samuel Amponsah, 2025-06-13 This book examines post colonial curriculum transformation across seven African nations These are South Africa Egypt Cameroon Nigeria Zimbabwe Namibia and Ghana It investigates whether these educational systems have truly decolonized their curricula or still remain rooted in Western frameworks despite achieving political independence Through analysis of curriculum policies and teaching practices the authors explore educational reform dynamics in post colonial African contexts The book evaluates how successfully these systems have incorporated indigenous knowledge and local ways of knowing versus continuing to propagate Western paradigms The work provides both theoretical and empirical analysis of challenges and opportunities in rebuilding African education systems that reflect local cultural values while addressing modern educational needs

Reconfiguring Transregionalisation in the Global South Ross Anthony, Uta Ruppert, 2019-11-01 This volume examines the Africa Asia relationship from a transregional perspective namely as a set of emergent social political and economic practices spanning a number of analytical and spatial scales Drawing on a host of countries from both regions the contributions illustrate how encounters increasingly transcend fixed territorial categories at local national and regional levels While large scale political and economic considerations tend to dominate in Asia Africa related literature for instance in China Africa BRICS and South South discourses the current volume seeks to foster dialogue between these broader levels of analyses and more localized social practices and experiences including the role of civil society cultural production and migration With an emphasis on the trans aspects of inter regional exchange the volume contributes to a better understanding of new forms of space making between these two increasingly important regions

The Palgrave Handbook of African Political Economy Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba, Toyin Falola, 2020-06-23 This handbook constitutes a specialist single compendium that analyses African political economy in its theoretical historical and policy dimensions It emphasizes the uniqueness of African political economy within a global capitalist system that is ever changing and complex Chapters in the book discuss how domestic and international political economic forces have shaped and continue to shape development outcomes on the continent Contributors also provoke new thinking on theories and policies to better position the continent's economy to be a critical global force The uniqueness of the handbook lies in linking theory and praxis with the past future and various dimensions of the political economy of Africa City Life in Africa Katja Werthmann, 2022-07-27 This book introduces readers to the anthropology of urban life in Africa showing what ethnography can teach us about African city dwellers own notions practices and reflections Social anthropologists have studied city life in Africa since the early 20th century Their works have addressed a number of questions that are relevant until today What happens to rural people who move to the city What kinds of livelihoods do they pursue How does city life affect moralities and practices connected with gender roles marriage parenthood and intergenerational relations In which social situations are ethnic and other collective identifications relevant How do people make a home in the city What forms of authority and leadership become relevant in urban governance How do people talk about city life This book asks what anthropologists have come to learn about Africans views on city life It provides a critical acclaim of ethnographies in English French and German and elucidates anthropology's contribution to understanding city life in Africa It highlights the significance of female African and Diaspora scholars for an emerging urban anthropology of Africa The chapters are organized according to everyday activities of city dwellers moving connecting governing working dwelling and wayfinding The book will be an essential read for students and researchers of social anthropology African and urban studies but also for professionals in research and development organizations thinktanks and other institutions concerned with urban Africa Africa Rising? Ian Taylor, 2014 Africa is said to be rising turning a definitive page in its history heralding new and exciting possibilities for the continent This discourse maintains that with upsurge in economic growth comes improved governance and endogenous dynamics that the emerging economies and especially the BRICS Brazil Russia India China South Africa have been instrumental in diversifying Africa's international relations perhaps leading to a radical change in the global order favourable to the developing world But to what extent is this true and how deep and how broad has been the impact on society at large This book takes a critical look at the prevalent Africa Rising discourse and explores the nature and implications of Africa's rise and the role that the BRICS have played in it The author argues that Africa has still to undergo any structural transformation that there is strong evidence that deindustrialisation and jobless growth have accompanied the upsurge of interest in the continent and that far from making a radical turn in its developmental trajectory Africa is being pushed into the resource corner as commodity exporters to the North and now the BRICS with little scope for industrial progress or skills advancement Hope that the

BRICS might offer an alternative to the extant neoliberal order are misplaced for the BRICS have a stake in maintaining the current global inequality Africa must therefore fashion its own independent path while the emerging economies will be important relying on external actors may simply reproduce anew the current state of underdevelopment Ian Taylor is Professor in International Relations and African Politics University of St Andrews Chair Professor Renmin University of China Professor Extraordinary University of Stellenbosch South Africa Honorary Professor Institute of African Studies Zhejiang Normal University China and a Visiting Scholar at Mbarara University of Science and Technology Uganda Decolonizing the South African University Oscar Koopman, Karen J. Koopman, 2023-05-23 This book offers an important contribution to the field of curriculum studies and higher education by examining the impacts of colonialism and neoliberalism in the South African education system and addressing ways to decolonise curriculum and teaching Drawing on Pinar's work in curricular theory the authors call for integrating self reflective curriculum development into the national curriculum process to promote indigenous education and knowledge Africa and the World Kornegay Jnr, Francis, 2020-02-16 Africa and the World Navigating Shifting Geopolitics is one of the first books to analyse the global geopolitical landscape from an African perspective with a view to the opportunities and challenges facing the African continent Authors in this edited volume argue for the need to re imagine Africa's role in the world As a cradle of humanity a historical fountain of profound scientific knowledge an object of colonial conquest and today a collective of countries seeking to pool their sovereignties in order to improve the human condition Africa has a unique opportunity to advance its own interests Authors reflect on all these issues they outline how developments in the global political economy impact on the continent and inversely how Africa can develop a strategic perspective that takes into account the dynamics playing out in a fraught global terrain Central to this evaluation is the notion of island Africa a vast island with resources that extend into the oceans around it that is a strategic centre by virtue of its geographic location its endowments and its long term potential Authors assert that the positioning of island Africa presents unique political security and geo economic benefits Yet they also acknowledge that as has happened historically these very advantages can serve as a basis for new forms of domination and exploitation In addition this volume takes into account the socio psychological factors that influence how nations of the world receive and interpret the present and assess prospects for the future The authors go beyond analysis of what is to venture concrete proposals on what can be with Africa exercising its agency This requires the strengthening of continental integration and cohesion in pursuit of ideals that the African Union has enshrined in Agenda 2063 In this way Africa would be able to engage in a systemic and disciplined manner with external powers to assert the continent's own interests which in their framing are also the interests of humanity A continent united in both purpose and action can be an active agent in shaping the evolving global order This volume makes a strong case for precisely such a perspective and contributes to what should be an ongoing effort to analyse geopolitics with Africa as a critical frame of reference Social Memory as a Force for Social and Economic Transformation Muxe

Nkondo,2023-02-01 This volume of essays is a reflection on social memory as a force for social and economic transformation Written by scholars and organic intellectuals it focuses on the uses of social memory in particular the conflict between the legacies of colonialism and the movement for fundamental change The content addresses both experts and ordinary citizens alike with a view to advancing discourse on where we are right now and how we move on from here to achieve meaningful transformation As scholars and public representatives with a deep understanding of the social economic and political dynamics of modern history of South Africa the contributors offer their unique perspectives and reflections on history politics economics culture education ethics and the arts as well as the links that bind these aspects into an ecology of ideas and attitudes Elgar Encyclopedia of Corruption and Society Luís de Sousa,Susana Coroado,2024-05-02 Delving into the phenomenology of corruption and its impacts on the governance of societies this cutting edge Encyclopedia considers what makes corruption such a resilient complex and global priority for study This title contains one or more Open Access entries
