Global Perspectives on Critical Architecture Gevork Hartoonian, 2016-03-03 Judging from the debates taking place in both education and practice it appears that architecture is deeply in crisis New design and production techniques together with the globalization of capital and even skilled labour have reduced architecture to a commodified object its aesthetic qualities tapping into the current pervasive desire for the spectacular These developments have changed the architect's role in the design and production processes of architecture Moreover critical architectural theories including those of Breton Heidegger and Benjamin which explored the concepts of technology modernism labour and capital and how technology informed the cultural along with later theories from the 1960s which focused more on the architect's theorization of his/her own design strategies seem increasingly irrelevant In an age of digital reproduction and commodification these theoretical approaches need to be reassessed Bringing together essays and interviews from leading scholars such as Kenneth Frampton Peggy Deamer Bernard Tschumi Donald Kunze and Marco Biraghi this volume investigates and critically addresses various dimensions of the present crisis of architecture It poses questions such as Is architecture a conservative cultural product servicing a given producer consumer system Should architecture's affiliative ties with capitalism be subjected to a measure of criticism that can be expanded to the entirety of the cultural realm Is architecture's infusion into the cultural the reason for the visibility of architecture today What room does the city leave for architecture beyond the present delirium of spectacle Should the thematic of various New Left criticisms of capitalism be taken as the premise of architectural criticism Or alternatively putting the notion of criticality aside is it enough to confine criticism to the production of insightful and pleasurable texts Struggles in the Concrete Mark Crinson, Luisa Lorenza Corna, 2025-05-06 What are Marxist architectural history and criticism What methods do they employ and what are their objects of critical analysis These questions have been asked before but now more than ever they require reassessment in light of the continuous expansion and revision of Marxism in response to new global crises Struggles in the Concrete Architecture and the Marxist Tradition embarks on this endeavour The eleven chapters not only reconsider classical Marxist categories and historical conjunctures but also devise new critical frameworks for analysing architecture and capitalism today The book reconsiders neglected figures like Marta Lonzi Sergio Ferro and Anthony D King as well as re engaging with major figures like Siegfried Kracauer Manfredo Tafuri and Stuart Hall Tool for critical thinking in the current architectural discourse on global crises Contributions by renowned architectural historians and theorists Claire Zimmerman Katie Lloyd Thomas Silke Kapp Nicholas Thoburn Onyeka Igwe Architecture, Media, Populism... and Violence Graham Cairns, 2022-10-07 The Storming of the Capitol was for many the culminating media performance of the four year presidency of Donald Trump His presidency and its final act bore all the hallmarks of a 21st century form of populism and media politico spectacle that may yet come to dominate the political scene in the US and worldwide for years to come The questions that such events raise are complex varied and operative across a multitude of disciplines This book engages with these vexed questions in the broad fields of politics and media but does so uniquely through the prism of architecture This book does not however limit its view to the recent events in Washington DC or the United States Rather it seeks to use those events as the starting point for a critique of architecture in the tapestry of mediated forms of protest and political action more generally Each chapter draws on case studies from across timeframes and across nations The book sharpens our critique of the relationship between direct political action its media representation and the role it assigns to architecture as played out globally in the age of mass media In doing so it opens up broader debates about the past present and future roles of architecture as a political tool in the context of international political systems now dominated by changing and unpredictable uses of media and characterised by an increasingly volatile and at times violent form of political activism It is essential reading for any student or researcher engaging with these questions On Power in Architecture Mateja Kurir, 2024-09-30 Architecture has always been a decisive manifestation of power This volume represents an attempt to question and reflect on the relationship between power and architecture from three philosophical perspectives materialistic phenomenological and post structuralist This collection opens an interdisciplinary investigation that aims to reflect on architecture and its interconnectedness with power within philosophy and cultural theory at large while presenting these concepts using practical examples from the built environment Internationally recognised authors philosophers architectural theorists and historians Andrew Benjamin Andrew Ballantyne Mladen Dolar Hilde Heynen Nadir Lahiji Jeff Malpas Dean Komel Elke Krasny Robert Pfaller Gerard Reinmuth Luka Skansi Douglas Spencer Teresa Stoppani and Sven Olov Wallenstein present their reflections in original unpublished essays and interviews In the presented works architecture is combined and transgressed by philosophy in a new discussion that focuses only on power The contributions in this collection open a variety of architectural questions one of the central among them being the impact of neoliberal capitalism on architecture Architecture with its implications on the complex contemporary political and social reality is severely changing our space and more globally our environment A reflection on the multilayered relation between architecture and power has never been as topical as it is today This book will therefore be of interest to students researchers and academics or professionals within the fields of architecture philosophy sociology political sciences and cultural sciences

The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume I Nikolina Bobic, Farzaneh

Haghighi, 2022-10-28 For architecture and urban space to have relevance in the 21st Century we cannot merely reignite the approaches of thought and design that were operative in the last century This is despite or because of the nexus between politics and space often being theorized as a representation or by product of politics As a symbol or an effect the spatial dimension is depoliticized Consequently architecture and the urban are halted from fostering any systematic change as they are secondary to the event and therefore incapable of performing any political role This handbook explores how architecture and urban space can unsettle the unquestioned construct of the spatial politics of governing Considering both ongoing and unprecedented global problems from violence and urban warfare the refugee crisis borderization detention camps terrorist attacks to capitalist urbanization inequity social unrest and climate change this handbook provides a comprehensive and multidisciplinary research focused on the complex nexus of politics architecture and urban space Volume I starts by pointing out the need to explore the politics of spatialization to make sense of the operational nature of spatial oppression in contemporary times The operative and active political reading of space is disseminated through five thematics Violence and War Machines Security and Borders Race Identity and Ideology Spectacle and the Screen and Mapping Landscapes and Big Data This first volume of the handbook frames cutting edge contemporary debates and presents studies of actual theories and projects that address spatial politics This Handbook will be of interest to anyone seeking to meaningfully disrupt the reduction of space to an oppressive or neutral backdrop of political realities Chapters 1 and 23 of this book are freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

Getting Political in the Neoliberal City Burcu Yiğit Turan, Melissa Cate Christ, Cristina Cerulli, 2025-06-25 In a world defined by ever deepening crises climate social economic and political urban spaces emerge as both battlegrounds of injustice and the arenas of possibility Getting Political in the Neoliberal City interrogates the roles of planners architects designers and urban citizens in challenging the pervasive inequities of neoliberal urbanism Drawing from critical case studies spanning continents and disciplines this volume reframes the intersections of spatial and social justice to illuminate how space becomes a site of power exclusion and potential resistance Through incisive essays and reflective scholarship this book explores how cities are shaped by market forces and neoliberal governance yet also serve as sites for insurgent practices at various scale grassroots movements and alternative imaginaries that resist dominant modes of urbanization and claim just ways of making cities Highlighting the emergences of new epistemologies subjectivities and critical agencies Getting Political in the Neoliberal City calls for a transformative rethinking of urban and environmental planning design and citizenship Featuring contributions from scholars and practitioners in diverse fields including architecture geography political science and anthropology the book maps the tensions between depoliticized scholarly and professional practices and the urgent need for politicized action With compelling examples from Australia Brazil Cyprus Denmark Germany Hong Kong the USA and Sweden this book offers fresh insights into ongoing research on the struggles for more equitable inclusive and environmentally just cities It also provides opportunities to understand the historical contextuality of each case and to reflect on the nuances similarities and global connections between different cases across different geographies

The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture Nadir Lahiji, 2014-04-10 The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture brings together a respected team of philosophers and architecture scholars to ask what impact architecture has over today's culture and society For three decades critical philosophy has been in discourse with architecture Yet following the recent radical turn in contemporary philosophy architecture's role in contemporary culture is rarely addressed In turn the architecture discourse in academia has remained ignorant of recent developments in radical philosophy Providing the first platform for a debate between critics architects and radical philosophers this unique collection unties these two schools of thought Contributors reason for or against the claim of the missed encounter between architecture and radical philosophy They discuss why our prominent critical philosophers devote stimulating writings to the ideological impact of arts on the contemporary culture music literature cinema opera theatre without attempting a similar comprehensive analysis of architecture By critically evaluating recent philosophy in relation to contemporary architecture The Missed Encounter of Radical Philosophy with Architecture presents a thorough understanding of the new relationship between architecture and radical philosophy

Towards a Critique of Architecture's Contemporaneity Gevork Hartoonian, 2023-02-14 Pursuing historical analogies between nineteenth century theories and the current practices captivated by digital reproducibility this book offers a critical take on architecture's contemporaneity through four essays tectonics materiality cladding and labor Fundamental to this proposition is the historicity of Gottfried Semper's theorization of architecture amidst the outpouring of new materials and construction techniques during the 1850s Starting with Semper's differentiation between theatricalization and the tectonic of theatricality this book examines thematic essential to architecture's self representation Even though the title of this book recalls the Semperian Four Elements of Architecture its argument encapsulates a unique historico theoretical project probing the tectonic of theatricality beyond Semper The invisible tie between technique and labor is the cord running through the four subjects covered in this book In exploring these subjects from the theoretical standpoint of Marxian dialectics this book's contribution is focused on but not limited to the topicality of labor today when its relationship with capital has been further obscured by the prevailing digitalization of commodity exchange value starting roughly in the 1990s Each essay examines Semper's theorization of architecture in contradistinction to the ways in which technology's mediation has dominated architecture's representation Burrowing through the invisible tie between technique and work asymptomatic of architecture's predicament in global capitalism Towards a Critique of Architecture's Contemporaneity advances the scope of architectural criticism beyond the exhausted formalism and architecture's turn to philosophy circa the 1980s and the present tendencies for presentism It will therefore be of interest to researchers and students of architectural history and theory

Analogical City Cameron McEwan, 2024-01-18 In Analogical City Cameron McEwan argues for architecture's status as a critical project McEwan revisits architect Aldo Rossi as a paradigmatic figure of the critical rational tradition studying a neglected aspect of his thought the analogical city to excavate its potential McEwan develops a grammar of the analogical city under the headings of Imagination Transformation City Multitude and Project McEwan argues that the analogical city is critical collective and emancipatory Analogical thought and understanding cities as analogical might open the conditions of possibility for rethinking the critical project in architecture At a time when the humanities and the sciences are threatened by irrational thought from climate denial to post truth narratives and when architecture has seemingly disavowed its critical capacity and political possibility through its commodification as an instrument of the neoliberal city McEwan offers critical strategies conceptual tools figures of thought and knowledge practices to articulate modes of thinking and acting differently within architectural criticism and practice Today knowledge is a common terrain of struggle and thought requires constant reinvention The task of architecture and critique more broadly must be to interpret the world in order to change it Consequently Analogical City proposes modes for imagining the city the subject and the world otherwise towards a more egalitarian and critical architecture of the city Ultimately the analogical city is not a fully developed theory nor is it only an intuitive poetic or purely formal practice as some critics propose McEwan argues that the analogical city is poetic and political it always refers beyond itself towards a collective and critical project of the city and yet it invites a series of formal spatial and graphic operations comprising erasure and negativity followed by substitution and remontage

The Ethics of a Potential Urbanism Camillo Boano, 2016-11-25 The Ethics of a Potential Urbanism explores the possible and potential relevance of Giorgio Agamben's political thoughts and writings for the theory and the practice of architecture and urban design It sketches out the potentiality of Agamben's politics which can affect change in current architectural and design discourses The book investigates the possibility of an inoperative architecture as an ethical shift for a different practice just a little bit different but able to deactivate the sociospatial dispositive and mobilize a new theory and a new project for the urban now to come This particular reading from Agamben's oeuvre suggests a destituent mode of both thinking and practicing of architecture and urbanism that could possibly redeem them from their social emptiness cultural irrelevance economic reductionism and proto avant garde extravagance contributing to a renewed critical encounter with architecture's aesthetic political function Architecture, Mentalities and Meaning Patrick Malone, 2017-06-14 In order to function architectural theory and practice must be shaped to suit current cultural economic and political forces Thus architecture embodies reductive logic that conditions the treatment of human and social processes which raises the question of how to define objectivity for architectural mentalities that must conform to a set of immediate conditions This book focuses on meaning and on the physical and mental processes that define life in built environments The potential to draw knowledge from aesthetics psychology political economy philosophy geography and sociology is offset by the fact that architectural logic is inevitably reductive cultural socio economic and political However despite the duty to conform it is argued that the treatment of human processes and the understanding of architectural mentalities can benefit from interdisciplinary linkages small freedoms and cracks in a system of imperatives that can yield the means of greater objectivity This is valuable reading for students and researchers interested in architectural theory as a working reality and in the relationships between architecture and other fields Variations of a Building Brett Mommersteeg, 2023-11-17 Variations of a Building tells the story of the making of a building Based on a multi-sited ethnography of the building project for Aviva Studios formerly Factory in Manchester U K a theatre cultural space designed by the architectural firm OMA it explores the challenges of sharing in the act of creation by following the everyday practices of designers Beyond the world of the architects this book foregrounds a variety of other practices and realities at stake in the building and offers a rare account of a building project from the point of view of the broader design and project team More than the making of a building it argues that it is also an experiment with and reshaping of a common world showing what design practices and building projects can teach us about sharing in acts of creation and knowing This book will be of interest to researchers and students of architecture design urban studies Actor Network Theory and Science and Technology Studies The Urban Uncanny Lucy Huskinson, 2016-04-28 The Urban Uncanny explores through ten engaging essays the slippage or mismatch between our expectations of the city as the organised and familiar environments in which citizens live work and go about their lives and the often surprising and unsettling experiences it evokes The city is uncanny when it reveals itself in new and unexpected light when its streets buildings and people suddenly appear strange out of place and not quite right Bringing together a variety of approaches including psychoanalysis historical and contemporary case study of cities urban geography film and literary critique the essays explore some of the unsettling mismatches between city and citizen in order to make sense of each and to gauge the wellbeing of city life more generally Essays examine a number of cities including Edmonton London Paris Oxford Las Vegas Berlin and New York and address a range of issues including those of memory death anxiety alienation and identity Delving into the complex repercussions of contemporary mass urban development The Urban Uncanny opens up the pathological side of cities both real and imaginary This interdisciplinary collection provides unparalleled insights into the urban uncanny that will be of interest to academics and students of urban studies urban geography psychoanalysis cultural studies social studies and film studies and to anyone interested in the darker side of city life Designing Reform Cole Roskam,2021-11-30

Investigating the rich architecture of post Mao China and its broad cultural impact In the years following China s Cultural Revolution architecture played an active role in the country s reintegration into the global economy and capitalist world Looking at the ways in which political and social reform transformed Chinese architecture and how in turn architecture gave structure to the reforms Cole Roskam underlines architecture s unique ability to shape space as well as behavior Roskam traces how foreign influences like postmodernism began to permeate Chinese architectural discourse in the 1970s and 1980s and how figures such as Kevin Lynch I M Pei and John Portman became key forces in the introduction of Western educational ideologies and new modes of production Offering important insights into architecture s relationship to the politics economics and diplomacy of post Mao China this unprecedented interdisciplinary study examines architecture s multivalent status as an art science and physical manifestation of cultural identity Radical Inclusivity. Krzysztof Nawratek,2015-05-12

The real strength of today s protest movements is not conflict but a reclaimed solidarity and newly rebuilt sense of community The real we are all in this together of people losing their homes jobs life savings and those who know how easily they can succumb to similar misfortune In the face of adversity the sense of community is reborn together with a selfless impulse to help Empathy and inclusiveness become key words A new community and the language it establishes emerge in cooperatives and movements working for the common good In this book we imagine the architecture and urbanism of this emerging community Tower to Tower Henriette Steiner,Kristin Veel,2024-05-21 A cultural history of gigantism in architecture and digital culture from the Eiffel Tower to the World Trade Center The gigantic is everywhere and gigantism is manifest in everything from excessively tall skyscrapers to globe spanning digital networks In this book Henriette Steiner and Kristin Veel map and critique the trajectory of gigantism in architecture and digital culture the convergence of tall buildings and networked infrastructures from the Eiffel Tower to One World Trade Center They show how these two forms of gigantism intersect in the figure of the skyscraper with a transmitting antenna on its roof a gigantic building that is also a nodal point in a gigantic digital infrastructure Steiner and Veel focus on two paradigmatic tower sites the Eiffel Tower and the Twin Towers of the destroyed World Trade Center as well as their replacement the One World Trade Center tower They consider among other things philosophical interpretations of the Eiffel Tower the design and destruction of the Twin Towers the architectural debates surrounding the erection of One World Trade Center on the Ground Zero site and such recent examples of gigantism across architecture and digital culture as Rem Koolhaas s headquarters for China Central TV and the phenomenon of the tech giant Examining the cultural architectural and media history of these towers they analyze the changing conceptions of the gigantism that they represent not just as physical structures but as sites for the projection of cultural ideas and ideals
