Barrett, 2013-06-07 How we understand education quality is inextricably linked with perspectives on social justice Questions of inclusion relevance and democracy in education are increasingly contested most especially in the global South and improving the quality of education particularly for the most disadvantaged has become a topic of fundamental concern for education policy makers practitioners and the international development community The reality experienced by many learners continues to be of inadequately prepared and poorly motivated teachers struggling to deliver a rapidly changing curriculum without sufficient support and often using outmoded teaching methods in over crowded or dilapidated classrooms Education Quality and Social Justice in the South includes contributions from leading scholars in the field of education and development The text draws upon state of the art evidence from the five year EdQual research programme which focuses upon raising achievement in low income countries and demonstrates how systems of high quality universal education can be sustained By exploring recent research initiatives to improve education quality the importance of supporting local policy makers educators and parents as agents of change and students as active inquirers is highlighted and the challenge of taking successful initiatives to scale is explained The book is divided into three main parts Framing Education Quality Planning and Policies for Quality Implementing Quality in Schools Education Quality and Social Justice in the South argues that implementing a high quality of education using theories of social justice can inform the understanding of inclusion relevance and democracy in education The book should be essential reading for both students and researchers within the fields of international and comparative education along with educational policy poverty and development studies The Companion to Development Studies Vandana Desai, Rob Potter, 2014-03-21 The Companion to Development Studies contains over a hundred chapters written by leading international experts within the field to provide a concise and authoritative overview of the key theoretical and practical issues dominating contemporary development studies Covering a wide range of disciplines

Changing Educational Landscapes Dimitris Mattheou, 2010-04-08 Analyzing educational landscapes the fundamental values principles and institutions of the sector is a highly complex and demanding task for any researcher Like shifting desert sands these aspects of education are in a constant state of flux changing according to the unpredictable economic social cultural and geo political circumstances of late modernity Key aspects of the intricate fluid and multifarious contemporary setting can always escape the researcher's necessarily selective observation The contributors to this book share the view that it is wise therefore to take note of other people's ideas perceptions and perspectives to compare notes and reflect critically on them Thus the papers presented here are a critical and comparative analysis of today's changing educational landscapes They are an exploration of some of the forces and factors that induce these changes and also examine some of their most significant implications The work takes a fresh look at received ideology and institutional practices and delineates the increasingly internationalized educational discourses and policies Among other things the book discusses the obsession with quality in education and the alternative perceptions of educational equality the rising concern at the obstacles to truly multicultural education and the debate about the epistemological foundations both of knowledge and knowledge production Underlying all of the papers in the book is the authors intention to enhance our understanding of educational change in this era of transition and to further our appreciation of its multifaceted expressions across the world From the Global to the Local Andrea Schapper, 2013-11-07 From the Global to the Local develops a unique perspective on human rights governance in developing countries where the state often lacks the required resources capacities and expertise for implementing rights Considering how rights that have been agreed upon in the global arena of world politics are locally implemented this book then specifically explores how they reach the local children of Bangladesh's urban slums and poor rural areas Andrea

Schapper combines an analytical framework grounded in international relations scholarship on global governance with empirical field research methods that have their basis in sociology and anthropology Utilising this methodology the book examines three principles that represent a global consensus on children s rights the protection of children from the worst forms of child labor providing them with primary education and delivering basic health care services to them to illuminating the need for local and contextual solutions to transnational issues Exploring such concerns with vigor this book fills a gap in the study of human rights implementation and protection and will thus be of immense interest to students of Law of International Relations and of Development Studies

South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull,Jonathan D. Jansen,2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa s leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90 10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people s future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI
