First Peoples in a New World David J. Meltzer, 2009-05-27 More than 12 000 years ago in one of the greatest triumphs of prehistory humans colonized North America a continent that was then truly a new world Just when and how they did so has been one of the most perplexing and controversial questions in archaeology This dazzling cutting edge synthesis written for a wide audience by an archaeologist who has long been at the center of these debates tells the scientific story of the first Americans where they came from when they arrived and how they met the challenges of moving across the vast unknown landscapes of Ice Age North America David J Meltzer pulls together the latest ideas from archaeology geology linguistics skeletal biology genetics and other fields to trace the breakthroughs that have revolutionized our understanding in recent years Among many other topics he explores disputes over the hemisphere s oldest and most controversial sites and considers how the first Americans coped with changing global climates He also confronts some radical claims that the Americas were colonized from Europe or that a crashing comet obliterated the Pleistocene megafauna Full of entertaining descriptions of on site encounters personalities and controversies this is a compelling behind the scenes account of how science is illuminating our past

After the Ice Steven Mithen, 2011-12-08 A fantastic voyage through 15 000 years of history that laid the foundations for civilisation as we know it by award winning science writer Steven Mithen Twenty thousand years ago Earth was in the midst of an ice age Then global warming arrived leading to massive floods the spread of forests and the retreat of the deserts By 5 000 BC a radically different human world had appeared In place of hunters and gatherers there were farmers in place of transient campsites there were towns The foundations of our modern world had been laid and nothing that came after the Industrial Revolution the atomic age the internet have ever matched the significance of those events AFTER THE ICE tells the story of climate change s impact during this momentous period one that also saw the colonisation of the Americas and mass extinctions of animals throughout the world Drawing on the latest cutting edge research in archaeology cognitive science palaeontology geology and the evolutionary sciences Steven Mithen creates an evocative original and remarkably complete picture of minds cultures lives and landscapes through 15 000 years
