The State of Global Education Brad Maguth, Jeremy Hilburn, 2015-04-10 A battle is being waged in classrooms and capitals around the world over the goals and objectives of the future of global education While there is growing research in the area of global education much remains to be uncovered challenged and learned through sound empirical research and conceptual explorations What type of global citizens will schools promote What types of policies programs and instructional practices best promote effective global citizenship Will global education curricula advance an unwavering loyalty to neoliberal ideologies and interests over the strengthening of human rights and the environmental health of our planet This volume presents a series of research studies and innovative instructional practices centered on advancing global learning opportunities and literacies The authors in this volume initiate a much needed conversation on ways students in multiple contexts can and should learn with the world and its people Part I addresses global education in theory with a particular focus on development intercultural competence and global citizenship Part II addresses educational programs and practices that foster global learning and action to help build a better future for all citizens of our planet including experiential education university initiatives and conceptual approaches to teaching and learning This scholarship spans four continents in a multitude of educational contexts primary secondary and tertiary each with a focus on a different dimension of the possibilities and pitfalls in teaching about and with the world and its people

Human Diversity in Education Kenneth Cushner, Averil McClelland, Philip L. Safford, 2006 Addresses a range of human diversity found in schools including nationality ethnicity race religion gender class language sexual orientation and ability levels Based on the assumption that change begins with the individual teacher this text argues that prospective teachers need to incorporate issues of diversity in all of their work

Internationalisation and the Student Voice Elspeth Jones, 2009-12-04 This groundbreaking volume seeks to take the first steps in analyzing the impact of internationalization initiatives from student perspectives As programs are increasingly delivered overseas and we seek to offer domestic students an international experience how do we know what works for students and what does not Encompassing the fast growing global imperative is a significant challenge for higher education and this collection identifies opportunities for enrichment of the learning environment with all chapters based on direct research with students The book provides essential reading for anyone engaged in internationalization and wishing to learn more about the impact on students of a range of initiatives in order to apply the lessons in their own contexts Chapters include student responses to the following learning contexts traditional international contexts where students study outside their home country for shorter or longer periods trans national programs where students study at home or in another country and faculty from the awarding university fly in to deliver courses domestic students studying in their home country with staff seeking to internationalize the curriculum students having transformational international experiences in other countries through service learning volunteering or study abroad

The American Village in a Global Setting Michael E. Connaughton, Suellen Rundquist, 2009-03-26 In October 2005 a conference honoring the contributions of Sinclair Lewis to Midwest and American culture and celebrating the friendship between Sinclair Lewis and Ida K Compton was held at St Cloud State University in St Cloud Minnesota Sinclair Lewis would no doubt have been flattered and perhaps a bit surprised by the breadth of this conference in his honor The fact that scholars writers students and readers gathered to discuss his work and its broader influence would have pleased him He would have learned that readers still found stimulus for serious thought in his writing and that his works can serve as a springboard to discussion of today s societal issues some of which might surprise him considerably The papers selected from the conference entitled The American Village in a Global Setting consider elements of Lewis world through today s lens In Part I his version of community is compared to that documented in other ways including architecture and television Scholars address issues such as anti Semitism theocratic communities the Irish and outdoor life In Part II the concept of community is expanded to the visions of other authors including his contemporaries such as Martha Ostenso Josephine Donovan and Willa Cather as well as more recent writers In Part III today s social and cultural issues in America are addressed expressing the global and interdisciplinary intent of the conference And last Part IV continues the global theme addressing international communities and pedagogical philosophies through film and literature

Internationalizing Teacher Education in the United States Beverly D. Shaklee, Supriya Baily, 2012-03-08 As countries become increasingly interdependent student populations in the United States are becoming more culturally diverse These students transnational perspectives present significant challenges to teachers but a disconnect exists between the skills teachers need and those provided to them by colleges of education As teacher preparation programs continue to cater to historic models of diversity the programs show a glaring lack of recognition for the recent changes in school and community populations Internationalizing Teacher Education in the United States examines the impact of globalization on teacher education in the United States explains the current barriers to teacher education becoming more internationally minded and presents possible solutions for teacher education programs to consider Other books address the multi national challenges faced by American education in the 21st century but this book takes it one step further offering teacher educators practical and theoretical explorations of their vital role in the education of contemporary student populations in the United States , Human Diversity in Action Kenneth Cushner,2006 Honors in Practice ,2006

Student Perceptions of Self-identified Cultural Encounters During a Short-term Study Abroad Program Cathryn Johnson Brubaker,2006 International Educator ,2004 Reading Between the Lines Joanne Dowdy,Kenneth Cushner,2014-03-18 This book presents the work from a selection of contributors who aim to provide educators with hands on activities to encourage reflection awareness and dialogue related to social justice issues Highlighting the need for teachers to intentionally create spaces where students from all backgrounds can work together and appreciate their differences teachers and teacher educators showcase hands on literacy strategies that all educators can adapt and use in their own classrooms to enhance social justice awareness
