Archaeology And Geoinformatics Case Studies From The Caribbean Caribbean Archaeology And Ethnohistory:

Archaeology and Geoinformatics Basil A. Reid, 2008-05-08 Addressing the use of geoinformatics in Caribbean archaeology this volume is based on case studies drawn from specific island territories namely Barbados St John Puerto Rico Jamaica Nevis St Eustatius and Trinidad and Tobago as well as inter island interaction and landscape conceptualization in the Caribbean region Geoinformatics is especially critical within the Caribbean where site destruction is intense due to storm surges hurricanes ocean and riverine erosion urbanization industrialization and agriculture as well as commercial development along the very waterfronts that were home to many prehistoric peoples By demonstrating that the region is fertile ground for the application of geoinformatics in archaeology this volume places a well needed scholarly spotlight on the Caribbean Contributors Douglas V Armstrong Ivor Conolley Kevin Farmer R Grant Gilmore III Mark W Hauser Eric Klingelhofer David W Knight Roger H Leech Stephan Lenik Parris Lyew Ayee Bheshem Ramlal Basil A Reid Reniel Rodriguez Joshua M Torres

The Oxford Handbook of Caribbean Archaeology William F. Keegan, Corinne L. Hofman, Reniel Rodriguez Ramos, 2013-02-07 The Oxford Handbook of Caribbean Archaeology provides an overview of archaeological investigations in the insular Caribbean understood here as the islands whose shores surround the Caribbean Sea and the islands of the Bahama Archipelago Though these islands were never isolated from the surrounding mainland their histories are sufficiently diverse to warrant their identification as distinct areas of culture Over the past 20 years Caribbean archaeology has been transformed from a focus on reconstructing culture histories to one on the mobility and exchange expressed in cultural and social dynamics This Handbook brings together for the first time examples of the best research conducted by scholars from across the globe to address the complexity of the Caribbean past The Handbook is divided into five sections Part I Islands of History and the Precolonial History of the Caribbean Islands provides an introduction to Caribbean Archaeology and its history The papers in the following Ethnohistory section address the diversity of cultural practices expressed in the insular Caribbean and develop historical descriptions in concert with archaeological evidence in order to place language social organization and the native Ta nos and Island Caribs in perspective The following section Culture History provides the latest research on specific geographical locations and cross cultural engagements from Jamaica and the Bahama archipelago to the Saladoid and the Isthmo Antillean Engagements Creating History the fourth section includes papers on specific issues related to the field such as Zooarchaeology Rock Art and DNA analysis among others The final section World History centers on the consequences of European colonization

Encyclopedia of Caribbean Archaeology Basil A. Reid, R. Grant Gilmore III, 2014-03-04 A sweeping overview of the scholarly information available on archaeology in the Caribbean tackling the usual questions of colonization adaptation and evolution while embracing such newer aspects as geoinformatics and archaeometry

Historical Archaeologies of the Caribbean Todd M. Ahlman, Gerald F. Schroedl, 2019-11-12 New perspectives on Caribbean historical archaeology that go beyond the colonial plantation Historical Archaeologies of the Caribbean Contextualizing Sites through Colonialism Capitalism and Globalism addresses issues in Caribbean history and historical archaeology such as freedom frontiers urbanism postemancipation life trade plantation life and new heritage This collection moves beyond plantation archaeology by expanding the knowledge of the diverse Caribbean experiences from the late seventeenth through the mid nineteenth centuries The essays in this volume are grounded in strong research programs and data analysis that incorporate humanistic narratives in their discussions of Amerindian freedmen plantation institutional military and urban sites Sites include a sample of the many different types found across the Caribbean from a variety of colonial contexts that are seldom reported in archaeological research yet constitute components essential to understanding the full range and depth of Caribbean history Contributors examine urban contexts in Nevis and St John and explore the economic connections between Europeans and enslaved Africans in urban and plantation settings in St Eustatius The volume contains a pioneering study of frontier exchange with Amerindians in Dominica and a synthesis of ceramic exchange networks among enslaved Africans in the Leeward Islands Chapters on military forts in Nevis and St Kitts call attention to this often neglected aspect of the Caribbean colonial landscape Contributors also directly address culture heritage issues relating to community participation and interpretation On St Kitts the legacy of forced confinement of lepers ties into debates of current public health policy Plantation site studies from Antigua and Martinique are especially relevant because they detail comparisons of French and British patterns of African enslavement and provide insights into how each addressed the social and economic changes that occurred with emancipation Contributors Todd M Ahlman Douglas V Armstrong Samantha Rebovich Bardoe Paul Farnsworth Jeffrey R Ferguson R Grant Gilmore III Diana Gonz lez Tennant Edward Gonz lez Tennant Barbara J Heath Carter L Hudgins Kenneth G Kelly Eric Klingelhofer Roger H Leech Stephan Lenik Gerald F Schroedl Diane Wallman Christian Williamson

Myths and Realities of Caribbean History Basil A. Reid, 2009-04-12 This book seeks to debunk eleven popular and prevalent myths about Caribbean history Using archaeological evidence it corrects many previous misconceptions promulgated by history books and oral tradition as they specifically relate to the pre Colonial and European contact periods It informs popular audiences as well as scholars about the current state of archaeological historical research in the Caribbean Basin and asserts the value of that research in fostering a better understanding of the region's past Contrary to popular belief the history of the Caribbean did not begin with the arrival of Europeans in 1492 It actually started 7 000 years ago with the infusion of Archaic groups from South America and the successive migrations of other peoples from Central America for about 2 000 years thereafter In addition to discussing this rich cultural diversity of the Antillean past Myths and Realities of Caribbean History debates the misuse of terms such as Arawak and Ciboneys and the validity of Carib cannibalism allegations on specific topics of interest to today's historical archaeologists offering perspectives on the current state of research and collectively outlining future directions for the field. The broad range of topics covered in this volume allows for specificity within individual chapters while building to a cumulative overview of the field of historical archaeology as it stands and where it could go next. Archaeological research is discussed in the context of current sociological concerns; different approaches and techniques are assessed and potential advances are posited. This is a comprehensive treatment of the sub-discipline engaging key contemporary debates and providing a series of specially commissioned geographical overviews to complement the more theoretical explorations. This book is designed to offer a starting point for students who may wish to pursue particular topics in more depth as well as for non archaeologists who have an interest in historical archaeology. Archaeologists, historians, preservationists and all scholars interested in the role historical archaeology plays in illuminating daily life during the past five centuries will find this volume engaging and enlightening.

Communities in Contact Corinne Lisette Hofman, Anne van Duijvenbode, 2011. Communities in Contact represents the outcome of the Fourth International Leiden in the Caribbean symposium entitled From Prehistory to Ethnography in the Circum Caribbean. The contributions included in this volume cover a wide range of topics from a variety of disciplines: archaeology, bioarchaeology, ethnohistory and ethnography revolving around the themes of mobility and exchange, culture contact and settlement and community. The application of innovative approaches and the multi-dimensional character of these essays have provided exciting new perspectives on the indigenous communities of the Circum Caribbean and Amazonian regions throughout prehistory until the present.

Blood is Thicker Than Water Alistair J. Bright, 2011. This study represents a contribution to the pre-Colonial archaeology of the Windward Islands in the Caribbean. The research aimed to determine how the Ceramic Age c. 400 BC–AD 1492 Amerindian inhabitants of the region related to one another and others at various geographic scales with a view to better understanding social interaction and organisation within the Windward Islands as well the integration of this region within the macro region. This research approached the study of intra and inter island interaction and social development through an island by island study of some 640 archaeological sites and their ceramic assemblages. Besides providing insight into settlement sequences, patterns and micro mobility through time, it also highlighted various configurations of sites spread across different islands that were united by shared ceramic decorative traits. These configurations were more closely examined by taking recourse to graph theory. By extending the comparative scope of this research to the Greater Antilles and the South American mainland, possible material cultural influences from more distant regions could be suggested. While Windward Island communities certainly developed a localised material cultural identity, they remained open to a host of wide-ranging influences outside the Windward Island micro region. As such, rather than representing a cultural backwater operating in the periphery of a burgeoning Taíno empire, it is argued that Windward Island communities actively and flexibly realigned themselves with several mainland South American societies in Late Ceramic Age times c. AD 700–1500, forging and maintaining significant ties and exchange relationships Alistair Bright was a member of the Caribbean Research Group at Leiden University from 2003 to 2010 and participated in numerous archaeological surveys and excavations in the Caribbean during that time His research interests include the archaeology ethnohistory and ethnography of the Caribbean and South America as well as the archaeology of island societies throughout the world in general Ancient Borinquen Peter E. Siegel, 2005-09-07 Publisher description Sea and Land Philip D. Morgan, John Robert McNeill, Matthew Mulcahy, Stuart B. Schwartz, 2022 The first comprehensive environmental synthesis of the Caribbean region written by eminent scholars of the topic The Caribbean Before Columbus William F. Keegan, Corinne L. Hofman, 2017 The Caribbean before Columbus is a new synthesis of the region's insular history based on the authors 55 years of research in the Bahamas Lesser and Greater Antilles The presentation operates on multiple scales and individual sites highlight specific issues For the first time complete histories are elucidated through an emphasis on cultural diversity The Archaeology of Slavery Lydia Wilson Marshall, 2015 The Archaeology of Slavery grapples with both the benefits and complications of a comparative approach to the archaeology of slavery Contributors from different archaeological subfields including American African prehistoric and historical consider how to define slavery identify it in the archaeological record and study slavery as a diachronic process that covers enslavement to emancipation and beyond Themes include how to define slavery how to identify slavery archaeologically enslavement and emancipation and the politics and ethics of slavery related research Bibliographic Index, 2010 The Archaeology of Caribbean and Circum-Caribbean Farmers (6000 BC - AD 1500) Basil Reid, 2018-05-16 Comprising 17 chapters and with a wide geographic reach stretching from the Florida Keys in the north to the Guianas in the south this volume places a well needed academic spotlight on what is generally considered an integral topic in Caribbean and circum Caribbean archaeology The book explores a variety of issues including the introduction and dispersal of early cultivars plant manipulation animal domestication dietary profiles and landscape modifications Tried and true and novel analytical techniques are used to tease out aspects of the Caribbean and circum Caribbean database that inform the complex and often subtle processes of domestication under varying socio environmental conditions Contributors discuss their findings within multiple constructs such as neolithisation social interaction trade mobility social complexity migration colonisation and historical ecology Multiple data sources are used which include but are not restricted to rock art cooking pits and pots stable isotopes dental calculus and pathologies starch grains and proxies for past environmental conditions Given its multi disciplinary approaches this volume should be of immense value to both researchers and students of Caribbean archaeology biogeography ethnobotany zooarchaeology historical ecology agriculture environmental studies history and other related fields Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism Mark P. Leone, Jocelyn E. Knauf, 2015-05-27 This new edition of Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism shows where the study of capitalism leads archaeologists scholars and activists Essays cover a range of geographic colonial and racist contexts around the Atlantic basin Latin America and the Caribbean North

America the North Atlantic Europe and Africa Here historical archaeologists use current capitalist theory to show the results of creating social classes employing racism and beginning and expanding the global processes of resource exploitation Scholars in this volume also do not avoid the present condition of people discussing the lasting effects of capitalism s methods resistance to them their archaeology and their point to us now Chapters interpret capitalism in the past the processes that make capitalist expansion possible and the worldwide sale and reduction of people Authors discuss how to record and interpret these This book continues a global historical archaeology one that is engaged with other disciplines peoples and suppressed political and economic histories Authors in this volume describe how new identities are created reshaped and made to appear natural Chapters in this second edition also continue to address why historical archaeologists study capitalism and the relevance of this work expanding on one of the important contributions of historical archaeologies of capitalism critical archaeology
