Archaeology And Capitalism Archaeology And Capitalism:

Archaeology and Capitalism Yannis Hamilakis, Philip Duke, 2016-06-03 The contributors to this volume focus on the inherent political nature of archaeology and its relationship to power and explore how archaeologists can become more overtly agents of social change for individuals and communities

The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Sarah K. Croucher, Lindsay Weiss, 2011-08-10 The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Postcolonial Historical Archaeologies explores the complex interplay of colonial and capital formations throughout the modern world The authors present a critical approach to this topic trying to shift discourses in the theoretical framework of historical archaeology of capitalism and colonialism through the use of postcolonial theory This work does not suggest a new theoretical framework as such but rather suggests the importance of revising key theoretical terms employed within historical archaeology arguing for new engagements with postcolonial theory of relevance to all historical archaeologists as the field de centers from its traditional locations Examining case studies from North America South America the Caribbean Africa Australia the Middle East and Europe the chapters offer an unusually broad ranging geography of historical archaeology with each focused on the interplay between the particularisms of colonial structures and the development of capitalism and wider theoretical discussions Every author also draws attention to the ramifications of their case studies in the contemporary world With its cohesive theoretical framework this volume is a key resource for those interested in decolonizing historical archaeology in theory and praxis and for those interested in the development of modern global dynamics

Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism Mark P. Leone, Parker B. Potter, 1999-01-31 A collection of essays which focus on capitalism its terminology theory and the material record Contents Setting some terms for historical archaeologies of capitalism Why should historical archaeologists study capitalism The logic of question and answer and the challenge of systemic analysis historical archaeology and identity in modern America The contested commons archaeologies of race repression and resistance in New York City Ex Occidente Lux An archaeology of later capitalism in nineteenth century west Archaeology and the challenges of capitalist farm tendency in America A bold and gorgeous front The contradictions of African America and consumer culture Ceramics from Annapolis Maryland A measure of time routines and work discipline HIsotrical archaeology capitalism

Archaeology and the Capitalist World System Aron L. Crowell, 2013-11-11 This fascinating monograph employs a world system model as the basis for archaeological investigation of Russian America that relates local findings to global patterns Author Aron Crowell examines Russian Spanish and American historical sources along with the archaeological evidence to uncover a preliterate culture that left no written record of its contact with European colonial powers Crowell s particular subject is the indigenous Qikertarmiut people of Kodiak Island off the coast of Alaska The special case of this tribe serves as a microcosm of the history of colonialism demonstrating how early European capitalism impacted and in some cases destroyed indigenous societies

The Archaeology of Improvement in Britain, 1750-1850 Sarah Tarlow, 2007-04-30 In this innovative 2007 study Sarah Tarlow shows how the archaeology of this period manifests a widespread and cross cutting ethic of improvement Theoretically informed and drawn from primary and secondary sources in a range of disciplines the author considers agriculture and the rural environment towns and buildings such as working class housing and institutions of reform From bleach baths to window glass rubbish pits to tea wares the material culture of the period reflects a particular set of values and aspirations Tarlow examines the philosophical and historical background to the notion of improvement and demonstrates how this concept is a useful lens through which to examine the material culture of later historical Britain

International Handbook of Historical Archaeology Teresita Majewski, David Gaimster, 2009-06-07 In studying the past archaeologists have focused on the material remains of our ancestors Prehistorians generally have only artifacts to study and rely on the diverse material record for their understanding of past societies and their behavior Those involved in studying historically documented cultures not only have extensive material remains but also contemporary texts images and a range of investigative technologies to enable them to build a broader and more reflexive picture of how past societies communities and individuals operated and behaved Increasingly historical archaeology refers not to a particular period place or a method but rather an approach that interrogates the tensions between artifacts and texts irrespective of context In short historical archaeology provides direct evidence for how humans have shaped the world we live in today Historical archaeology is a branch of global archaeology that has grown in the last 40 years from its North American base into an increasingly global community of archaeologists each studying their area of the world in a historical context Where historical archaeology started as part of the study of the post Columbian societies of the United States and Canada it has now expanded to interface with the post medieval archaeologies of Europe and the diverse post imperial experiences of Africa Latin America and Australasia The 36 essays in the International Handbook of Historical Archaeology have been specially commissioned from the leading researchers in their fields creating a wide ranging digest of the increasingly global field of historical archaeology The volume is divided into two sections the first reviewing the key themes issues and approaches of historical archaeology today and the second containing a series of case studies charting the development and current state of historical archaeological practice around the world This key reference work captures the energy and diversity of this global discipline today

The Cambridge Companion to Historical Archaeology Dan Hicks, Mary C. Beaudry, 2006-10-26 An introduction to the ways in which archaeologists study the recent past c AD 1500 to the present

Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism Mark P. Leone, Jocelyn E. Knauf, 2015-05-27 This new edition of Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism shows where the study of capitalism leads archaeologists scholars and activists Essays cover a range of geographic colonial and racist contexts around the Atlantic basin Latin America and the Caribbean North America the North Atlantic Europe and Africa Here historical archaeologists use current capitalist theory to show the results of creating social classes employing racism and beginning and expanding the global processes of resource exploitation Scholars in this volume also do not avoid the present condition of people discussing the lasting effects of capitalism's methods resistance to them their archaeology and their point to us now Chapters interpret capitalism in the past the processes that make capitalist expansion possible and the worldwide sale and reduction of people Authors discuss how to record and interpret these This book continues a global historical archaeology one that is engaged with other disciplines peoples and suppressed political and economic histories Authors in this volume describe how new identities are created reshaped and made to appear natural Chapters in this second edition also continue to address why historical archaeologists study capitalism and the relevance of this work expanding on one of the important contributions of historical archaeologies of capitalism critical archaeology

The Archaeology of Market Capitalism Gaye Nayton, 2011-04-13 The area claimed by the British Empire as Western Australia was primarily colonized through two major thrusts the development of the Swan River Colony to the southwest in 1829 and the 1863 movement of Australian born settlers to colonize the northwest region The Western Australian story is overwhelmingly the story of the spread of market capitalism a narrative which is at the foundation of modern western world economy and culture Due to the timing of settlement in Western Australia there was a lack of older infrastructure patterns based on industrial capitalism to evoke geographical inertia to modify and deform the newer system in many ways making the systemic patterns which grew out of market capitalist forces clearer and easier to delineate than in older settlement areas However the struggle between the forces of market capitalism settlers and indigenous Australians over space labor physical and economic resources and power relationships are both unique to place and time and universal in allowing an understanding of how such complicated regional interregional and global forces shape a settler society Through an examination of historical records town layout and architecture landscape analysis excavation data and material culture analysis the author created a nuanced understanding of the social economic and cultural developments that took place during this dynamic period in Australian history In examining this complex settlement history the author employed several different research methodologies in parallel to create a comprehensive understanding of the area Her research techniques will be invaluable to researchers struggling to understand similarly complex sociocultural evolutions throughout the globe

An Archaeological Study of Rural Capitalism and Material Life Mark D. Groover, 2006-04-11 Historical archaeology has largely focused on the study of early military sites and homes of upper class Research on lower classes was viewed as a supplement to local histories documenting political military and financial leaders of the 18th and 19th centuries An Archaeological Study of Rural Capitalism and Material Life will be of interest to historical archaeologists cultural anthropologists social historians and historical sociologists especially researchers studying the influence of globalization and economic development upon rural regions like Appalachia

Companion to Social Archaeology Lynn Meskell, Robert W. Preucel, 2008-04-15 The Companion to Social Archaeology is the first scholarly work to explore the encounter of social theory and archaeology over the past two decades Grouped into four sections Knowledges Identities Places and Politics each of which is prefaced with a review essay that contextualizes the history and developments in social archaeology and related fields Draws together newer trends that are challenging established ways of understanding the past Includes contributions by leading scholars who instigated major theoretical trends     Archaeology of Culture Contact and Colonialism in Spanish and Portuguese America Pedro Paulo A. Funari, Maria Ximena Senatore, 2014-11-11 The volume contributes to disrupt the old grand narrative of cultural contact and colonialism in Spanish and Portuguese America in a wide and complete sense This edited volume aims at exploring contact archaeology in the modern era Archaeology has been exploring the interaction of peoples and cultures from early times but only in the last few decades have cultural contact and material world been recognized as crucial elements to understanding colonialism and the emergence of modernity Modern colonialism studies pose questions in need of broader answers This volume explores these answers in Spanish and Portuguese America comprising present day Latin America and formerly Spanish territories now part of the United States The volume addresses studies of the particular features of Spanish Portuguese colonialism as well as the specificities of Iberian colonization including hybridism religious novelties medieval and modern social features all mixed in a variety of ways unique and so different from other areas particularly the Anglo Saxon colonial thrust Cultural contact studies offer a particularly in depth picture of the uniqueness of Latin America in terms of its cultural mixture This volume particularly highlights local histories revealing novelty diversity and creativity in the conformation of the new colonial realities as well as presenting Latin America as a multicultural arena with astonishing heterogeneity in thoughts experiences practices and material worlds     Capitalism and Cloves Sarah K. Croucher, 2014-10-29 This study of nineteenth century clove plantations on Zanzibar provides an important contribution to debates in global historical archaeology Broadening plantation archaeology beyond the Atlantic World this work addresses plantations run by Omani Arab colonial rulers of Zanzibar Drawing on archaeological and historical data this book argues for the need to examine non Western contexts of colonialism and capitalism as coeval with those in the North Atlantic World This work explores themes of capitalism colonialism plantation landscapes African Diaspora communities gender and sexuality locally produced and imported goods in historic contexts and Islamic historical archaeology     Archaeology Outside the Box Hans Barnard, 2023-05-15 Archaeology Outside the Box makes contemporary archaeology germane to the general public as well as to researchers in other disciplines In thirty one richly illustrated chapters a wide variety of projects is presented by an international group of anthropologists archaeologists architects and artists These aim to broaden the applicability of archaeology by reflecting on archaeological remains in novel ways or by addressing contemporary concerns with archaeological theory and research methods Demonstrating the fascinating and pertinent nature of archaeology the authors go far beyond its definition as a discipline that unearths objects of ancient material culture Many chapters also provide arguments relevant to the soul searching discussions currently taking place within archaeology worldwide and accelerated by the Black Lives Matter movement and the recent Covid 19 pandemic     A

Historical Archaeology of the Modern World Charles E. Orser Jr.,2013-06-29 This unique book offers a theoretical framework for historical archaeology that explicitly relies on network theory Charles E Orser Jr demonstrates the need to examine the impact of colonialism Eurocentrism capitalism and modernity on all archaeological sites inhabited after 1492 and shows how these large scale forces create a link among all the sites Orser investigates the connections between a seventeenth century runaway slave kingdom in Palmares Brazil and an early nineteenth century peasant village in central Ireland Studying artifacts landscapes and social inequalities in these two vastly different cultures the author explores how the archaeology of fugitive Brazilian slaves and poor Irish farmers illustrates his theoretical concepts His research underscores how network theory is largely unknown in historical archaeology and how few historical archaeologists apply a global perspective in their studies A Historical Archaeology of the Modern World features data and illustrations from two previously unknown sites and includes such intriguing findings as the provenance of ancient Brazilian smoking pipes that will be new to historical archaeologists

Archaeology for Today and Tomorrow Craig N. Cipolla,Rachel J. Crellin,Oliver J. T. Harris,2023-12-04 Archaeology for Today and Tomorrow explores how cutting edge archaeological theories have implications not only for how we study the past but also how we think about and prepare for the future Ranging from how we understand migration or political leadership to how we think about violence or ecological crisis the book argues that archaeology should embrace a future oriented attitude Behind the traditional archaeological gaze on the past is a unique and useful collection of skills tools and orientations for rethinking the present and future Further it asserts that archaeological theory is not only vital for how we conduct our work as archaeologists and how we create narratives about the past but also for how we think about the broader world in the present and crucially how we envision and shape the future Each of the chapters in the book links theoretical approaches and global archaeological case studies to a specific contemporary issue It examines such issues as human movement violence human and non human relations the Anthropocene and fake news to showcase the critical contributions that archaeology and archaeological theory can make to shaping the world of tomorrow An ideal book for courses on archaeology in the modern world and public archaeology it will also appeal to archaeology students and researchers in general and all those in related disciplines interested in areas of critical contemporary concern

Archaeology as Political Action Randall H. McGuire,2008-04-03 It is rare to read an archaeological book that has the capacity to inspire as this one has Mark P Leone author of The Archaeology of Liberty in an American Capital Archaeology as Political Action is a highly original work that will be important for archaeologists and others concerned with processes of social change in the world today and more importantly with making a difference Thomas C Patterson coeditor of Foundations of Social Archaeology This powerful statement by a leading archaeological thinker has profound implications for rigorous archaeological interpretation community collaboration and political intervention Stephen W Silliman coeditor of Historical Archaeology

Maritime Archaeology and Social Relations Virginia Dellino-Musgrave,2006-11-22 This book analyses

British action in the Southern hemisphere in the late 18th century examining two Royal Navy ships one off the Argentinean coast and one off the Southeast Australian coast The author goes beyond a descriptive analysis of wrecks by treating them and their cargoes as embodiments of 18th century social relations The book challenges traditional approaches providing a perspective that emphasises the richness diversity and complexity of British action

Archaeology of Capitalism Matthew Johnson, 1996-01-30 An Archaeology of Capitalism offers an account of landscape and material culture from the later Middle Ages to the beginnings of the Industrial Revolution In tracing some of the roots of modernity back to the transformation of the countryside this book seeks an innovative understanding of the transition between feudalism and capitalism and does so through a unique synthesis of archaeology economic social and cultural history historical geography and architectural history Medieval and early modern archaeology has in the past focused on small scale empirical contributions to the study of the period The approach taken here is both wider ranging and more ambitious The author breaks down the dividing lines between archaeological and documentary evidence to provide a vivid reconstruction of pre industrial material life and of the social and mental processes that came together in the post medieval period in the transition towards modernity Matthew Johnson is careful to avoid a simplifying evolutionary explanation but rather sees the period in terms of a diversity of social and material practices evident in material traces traces that survive and that when reused in different contexts came to mean different things

Marxist Archaeology Today, 2023-09-14 This volume gathers papers written by archaeologists utilising the methods of historical materialism attesting not only to what Marxism has contributed to archaeology but also to what archaeology has contributed and can contribute to Marxism as a method for interpreting the history of humanity The book's contributors consider the question of what archaeology can contribute to a historical perspective on the overcoming of present day capitalism synthesising developments in world archaeology and supplying concrete case studies of the archaeology of the Americas Europe and the Near East Contributors are Guillermo Acosta Ochoa Marcus Bajema Bernardo Gandulla Alex Gonzales Panta Pablo Jaruf Vicente Lull Savas Michael Matsas Rafael Mic Ianir Milevski Patricia Perez Martinez Cristina Rihuete Herrada Roberto Risch Steve Roskams Henry Tantale n Marcelo Vitores and LouAnn Wurst
