Preaching Power Charles A. Witschorik, 2013-10-21 This book uses a gender perspective to examine sermons and other officially endorsed discourses of the Catholic Church in eighteenth and nineteenth century Mexico City Analyzing the different ways that over time gendered images metaphors and hagiographical examples were used in sermons and other documents the book examines how the church negotiated challenges to its cultural and ideological hegemony Beginning with sermons from the early eighteenth century the author follows the evolution of church discourses as preachers reveled in Baroque analogies embraced ideals of the Enlightenment targeted women s alleged moral vices at times of political crisis and ultimately turned to notions of women as the devout sex in order to combat incipient liberalism Put another way liberals after independence were not the only ones to assert a kind of republican motherhood preachers countered with a vision of Catholic motherhood that had great resonance in Mexico even into the twentieth century

La Madre Del Maíz Gilbert R. Cruz,2012 The story of Guadalupe conforms to Mary s maternal duty The maternal duty of Mary towards men in no way obscures or diminishes this unique mediation of Christ rather shows its power For all the influences of Blessed Virgin Mary on men originate not from necessity but from divine pleasure They flow from the abundance of the merits of Christ rest on his mediation depend entirely on it and draw its power from it In no way do they impede the immediate union of the faithful with Christ Rather they foster it Source Dogmatic Constitution of the Church in The Role of the Blessed Virgin Mary Mother of God in the Mystery of Christ in his Church Documents of the Vatican II 1963 1965

Mesoamerican Memory Stephanie Wood,Amos Megged,2012-11-08 Euro Americans see the Spanish conquest as the main event in the five century history of Mesoamerica but the people who lived there before contact never gave up their own cultures Both before and after conquest indigenous scribes recorded their communities histories and belief systems as well as the events of conquest and its effects and aftermath Today the descendants of those native historians in modern day Mexico and Guatemala still remember their ancestors stories In Mesoamerican Memory volume editors Amos Megged and Stephanie Wood have gathered the latest scholarship from contributors around the world to compare these various memories and explore how they were preserved and altered over time Rather than dividing Mesoamerica s past into pre contact colonial and modern periods the essays in this volume emphasize continuity from the pre conquest era to the present underscoring the ongoing importance of indigenous texts in creating and preserving community identity history and memory In addition to Nahua and Maya recollections contributors examine the indigenous traditions of Mixtec Zapotec Tarascan and Totonac peoples Close analysis of pictorial and alphabetic manuscripts and of social and religious rituals yields insight into community history and memory political relations genealogy ethnic identity and portrayals of the Spanish invaders Drawing on archaeology art history ethnology ethnohistory and linguistics the essays consider the function of manuscripts and ritual in local regional and now national settings Several scholars highlight direct connections between the collective memory of indigenous communities and the struggles of contemporary groups Such modern documents as land titles for example gain legitimacy by referring to ancestral memory Crossing disciplinary methodological and temporal boundaries Mesoamerican Memory advances our understanding of collective memory in Mexico and Guatemala Through diverse sources pictorial and alphabetic archaeological archival and ethnographic readers gain a glimpse into indigenous remembrances that without the research exhibited here might have remained unknown to the outside world John Gaw Meem at Acoma Kate Wingert-Playdon, 2012-11-15 Built by Spanish Franciscan missionaries in the seventeenth century the magnificent mission church at Acoma Pueblo in west central New Mexico is the oldest and largest intact adobe structure in North America But in the 1920s in danger of becoming a ruin the building was restored in a cooperative effort among Acoma Pueblo which owned the structure and other interested parties Kate Wingert Playdon s narrative of the restoration and the process behind it is the only detailed account of this milestone example of historic preservation in which New Mexico s most famous architect John Gaw Meem played a major role Espíritu Santo de Zúñiga Tamra Lynn Walter, 2010-01-01 San Antonio Conservation Society Citation 2009 In the early part of the eighteenth century the Spanish colonial mission Esp ritu Santo de Z iga was relocated from far south Texas to a site along the Guadalupe River in Mission Valley Victoria County This mission along with a handful of others in south Texas was established by the Spaniards in an effort to Christianize and civilize the local Native American tribes in the hopes that they would become loyal Spanish citizens who would protect this new frontier from foreign incursions With written historical records scarce for Esp ritu Santo Tamra Walter relies heavily on material culture recovered at this site through a series of recent archaeological investigations to present a compelling portrait of the Franciscan mission system By examining findings from the entire mission site including the compound irrigation system quarry and kiln she focuses on questions that are rarely if ever answered through historical records alone What was daily life at the mission like What effect did the mission routine have on the traditional lifeways of the mission Indians How were both the Indians and the colonizers changed by their frontier experiences and what does this say about the missionization process Walter goes beyond simple descriptions of artifacts and mission architecture to address the role these elements played in the lives of the mission residents demonstrating how archaeology is able to address issues that are not typically addressed by historians In doing so she presents an accurate portrait of life in South Texas at this time This study of Mission Esp ritu Santo will serve as a model for research at similar early colonial sites in Texas and elsewhere Carnival and Other Christian Festivals Max Harris, 2010-01-01 With a riotous mix of saints and devils street theater and dancing and music and fireworks Christian festivals are some of the most lively and colorful spectacles that occur in Spain and its former European and American possessions That these folk celebrations with roots reaching back to medieval times remain vibrant in the high tech culture of the twenty first century strongly suggests that they also provide an indispensable vehicle for expressing hopes fears and desires that people can articulate in no other way In this book Max Harris explores and develops principles for understanding the folk theology underlying patronal saints day festivals feasts of Corpus Christi and Carnivals through a series of vivid first hand accounts of these festivities throughout Spain and in Puerto Rico Mexico Peru Trinidad Bolivia and Belgium Paying close attention to the signs encoded in folk performances he finds in these festivals a folk theology of social justice that however obscured by official rhetoric by distracting theories of archaic origin or by the performers own need to mask their resistance to authority is often in articulate and complex dialogue with the power structures that surround it This discovery sheds important new light on the meanings of religious festivals celebrated from Belgium to Peru and on the sophisticated theatrical performances they embody

The Islamic Design Module in Latin America John F. Moffitt, 2004-07-15 This study analyzes the distinctive look of Hispanic architecture Its triangulate format originated in Islamic Spain was based on workshop techniques once used by journeyman designers and simple artisans Spain was the only European transatlantic colonial power to have once been occupied by Islamic overlords Spain s conquistadors took their traditional building methods to Latin America Formal analyses of the facades of various Latin American churches reveal them to reiterate procedures worked out in Andalusia by Islamic builders in the ninth and tenth centuries Though widely separated by time and place both share a proportionate system determining abstract ratios in both cases this regulating format was derived from manipulations of the Pythagorean triangles This trazado regulador is only expressed in ratios with no numbers and is illustrated here with 85 visual examples including measured drawings of Egyptian Greek Roman and medieval European prototypes Grounded in historical and physical data the research is partially drawn from four practical builders manuals two seventeenth century Spanish ones and two Mexican ones from ca 1640 and 1800 In an appendix Viollet le Duc a major nineteenth century architect explains architectural proportionality and the design function of the Pythagorean Triangle

Cody Barteet,2019-06-11 This book investigates the Casa de Montejo and considers the role of the building's Plateresque facade as a form of visual rhetoric that conveyed ideas about the individual and communal cultural identities in sixteenth century Yucatán. This contextualization allows for an examination of the architectural rhetoric of the facade the design of which visualizes the contestations of autonomy and authority occurring among the colonial peoples.

The Dominicans in the Americas and the Philippines (c. 1500-c. 1820) David T. Orique, Rady Roldán-Figueroa, Cynthia Folquer, 2024-08-06 The Dominicans in the Americas and the Philippines c. 1500 c. 1820 is part of a renewal of interest in the global history of the Dominican Order. Many of the essays were carefully selected among some of the papers presented at the III International Conference on the History of the Order of Preachers in the Americas a gathering that stands in continuity with the conferences of Mexico 2013 and Bogotá 2016. This book the contributors of which are active researchers specializing in the history of the Order of Preachers in Latin America is organized in four parts: Women and the Order of Preachers; Benditos Bienes Libraries and Material Patrimony; Missions Devotional and Daily Life; and The Order of Preachers and Their Writings. Contributions deal with different subfields including art history gender studies history of the book and intellectual history more broadly. Additionally it contains a chapter examining the historiography of the Order of Preachers in Latin America. Covering the time range from 1510 to the early nineteenth century the book fills a gap in the historiography of the Order of Preachers in the Americas especially in English language scholarly literature. Students of Latin American history the history of Christianity and the history of global Catholicism will surely find the volume to be of great interest.

The Intersection of Sacredness and Archaeology Donna L. Gillette, Thomas L. Sanders, 2024-10-01 At the point of the often contentious intersection of sacred site preservation and resource development archaeology has a unique and valuable role. Archaeology has been criticized as a destroyer of sacred sites through the unbridled pursuit of knowledge through excavation or aiding unbridled development by failing to identify sacred sites. However archaeology can act as a mitigator between the conflicting goals of preservation and development while giving the indigenous a voice. At the heart of this mitigation is understanding the sacred how it might be physically manifested how those of diverse cultures understand it and how it is effected by the laws and norms of diverse cultures. The purpose of this book is to enhance the discussion surrounding contemporary human interaction with our natural and cultural landscape. Its first goal is make this discussion more productive and less contentious by presenting and thus recognizing the cultural ways of knowing and perspectives of indigenous people. Its second goal is to foster the preservation of our sacred landscape. As more and more of our physical landscape is being altered worldwide through rapid growth and development the cultural landscape is also being changed and challenged. These changes often reflect the interests of some members of society while the interests of others including those of Native and Indigenous communities and many archaeologists environmentalists and others who understand the importance of knowing the past are disregarded The latter group is dedicated toward preserving special places and continuing to provide for Native people the ability to celebrate their traditions and focusing on defining the sacred landscape
