Architecture According To Pigeons:

Architecture According to Pigeons Speck Lee Tailfeather, 2013-10-28 Hello I am Speck Come along come along Architecture According to Pigeons is a fun lively introduction for children to world s most beautiful buildings In this delightful book Speck Lee Tailfeather reveals that he and his fellow pigeons are in fact great aficionados of architecture Speck delivers his account of a journey around the globe offering a bird s eye view of the Colosseum the Taj Mahal Golden Gate Bridge the Sydney Opera House the Eiffel Tower Frank Lloyd Wright s Fallingwater and dozens of other buildings to delight children and parents alike

Animal Architecture Paul Dobraszczyk, 2023-05-17 A provocative call for architects to remember and embrace the nonhuman lives that share our spaces A spider spinning its web in a dark corner Wasps building a nest under a roof There s hardly any part of the built environment that can t be inhabited by nonhumans and yet we are extremely selective about which animals we keep in or out This book imagines new ways of thinking about architecture and the more than human and asks how we might design with animals and the other lives that share our spaces in mind Animal Architecture is a provocative exploration of how to think about building in a world where humans and other animals are already entangled whether we acknowledge it or not

Planning to Build with an Architect Joan Stoltman, 2018-07-15 Finally there s a book that provides a chance for young readers to really understand and be inspired by the physical structures that surround them every day In this volume readers discover that someone meticulously designs all the little details that make each building in their town or city unique Packed with activities to do at home the text cultivates interest and exploration into the world of engineering and architecture through bold graphics full color photography age appropriate language and hard concepts made tangible

Subnature David Gissen, 2012-03-20 We are conditioned over time to regard environmental forces such as dust mud gas smoke debris weeds and insects as inimical to architecture Much of today s discussion about sustainable and green design revolves around efforts to clean or filter out these primitive elements While mostly the direct result of human habitation these subnatural forces are nothing new In fact our ability to manage these forces has long defined the limits of civilized life From its origins architecture has been engaged in both fighting and embracing these so called destructive forces In Subnature David Gissen author of our critically acclaimed Big and Green examines experimental work by today s leading designers scholars philosophers and biologists that rejects the idea that humans can somehow recreate a purely natural world free of the untidy elements that actually constitute nature Each chapter provides an examination of a particular form of subnature and its actualization in contemporary design practice The exhilarating and at times unsettling work featured in Subnature suggests an alternative view of natural processes and ecosystems and their relationships to human society and architecture R Sie n s Mosquito Bottleneck house in Trinidad uses a skin that actually attracts mosquitoes and moves them through the building while keeping them separate from the occupants In his building designs the architect Philippe Rahm draws the dank air from the earth and the gasses and moisture from our breath to define new forms of spatial experience In his Underground House Mollier House and Omnisport Hall Rahm forces us to consider the odor of soil and the emissions from our body as the natural context of a future architecture Cero 9's design for the Magic Mountain captures excess heat emitted from a power generator in Ames Iowa to fuel a rose garden that embellishes the industrial site and creates a natural mountain rising above the city's skyline Subnature looks beyond LEED ratings green roofs and solar panels toward a progressive architecture based on a radical new conception of nature

A History of the World with the Women Put Back In Kerstin Lücker, Ute Daenschel, 2019-09-16 Who says that daughters cannot be heroic Once upon a time history was written by men for men and about men Women were deemed less important their letters destroyed their stories ignored Not any more This is the story of women who went to war women who stopped war and women who stayed at home The rulers The fighters The activists The writers This is the story of Wu Zetian who as Chinese Emperor helped to spread Buddhism in China This is the story of Genghis Khan's powerful daughters who ruled his empire for him This is the story of Christine de Pizan one of the earliest feminist writers This is the story of Victoria Woodhull who ran for president before she could even vote for one This is the story of the world with the women put back in

The Allegorical Architectural Machine Daniel K. Brown, Michael Chapman, 2024-10-28 The intersection of architecture and the machine has a history that stretches back to the Industrial Revolution however the machine has recently begun to appear in new ways in speculative architectural drawing and modelling This issue of AD considers the influence of the machine as an allegorical device for exploring alternative architectural practices and includes a cross section of viewpoints from emerging and established international practitioners and academics Allegory a technique native to literature provides a critical method through which machine typologies can contribute to deeper architectural narratives offering new lenses for challenging or reassembling conventional modes of thought An allegorical architectural project can unveil a story that enhances our awareness of something important

This AD reveals how engagement with the machine as an allegorical device in architectural discourse provides an avenue for architecture to provoke new ideas in response to current environmental political economic cultural and social issues At the forefront of this discussion it extends the criticality of the topic within the broader spectrum of history theory philosophy allegory and new technologies Contributors Daniela Atencio and Claudio Rossi Peter Baldwin Brian Cantley Kirill Chelushkin Giuliano Fiorenzoli Marissa Lindquist Bea Martin Derek Hales Wes Jones Brian M Kelly Tom Kundig and Caleb White Featured architects and designers Jones Partners Architecture Olson Kundig Adolfo Luis Moure Strangis and Liam Young

Indian Architectural Theory and Practice Vibhuti Chakrabarti, 2013-01-11 In this ground breaking study the traditional Indian science of architecture and house building Vastu Vidya is explored in terms of its secular uses at the levels of both theory and contemporary practice Vastu Vidya is treated as constituting a coherent and complete architectural programme still of great relevance today Chakrabarti draws on an impressive amount of textual material much of it only available in Sanskrit and presents several extremely valuable illustrations in support of the theories expounded Each chapter deals with one architectural aspect and chapters are divided into three sections For each aspect the first section explains the prescriptions of the traditional texts the second section deals with the rather arbitrary use of that aspect by contemporary Indian architects trained in the western manner but striving to relate to Indian roots while the last section in each chapter explores the selected use of that particular aspect by contemporary Vastu pundits with their disregard for architectural idiom

The Hand that Feeds Alexander Mullan,Riley Smallman,Herre de Bondt ,Juliette Waterman,2025-05-13 Food plays a major part in shaping human animal relations from nurturing farm and zoo animals to bringing wild birds into suburban gardens Food mediated interactions create personal interspecies bonds enrich and alter environments change species distributions enable new relationships and reconfigure social perspectives but also lead to many concerns over health and disease for example as well as conflicts over spaces and resources However previous attention has almost exclusively focused on the purpose driven utilitarian and economic aspects of feeding rather than the affective and emotional encounters that motivate many feeding practices Presenting new research and interdisciplinary case studies The Hand that Feeds considers animal feeding from historic to modern times The volume explores the nuances and complexity of non utilitarian feeding relationships across urban and rural divides in the wild on the farm at the zoo and in the garden and how our feeding relationships have altered animal distributions and behaviours The authors scrutinise contrasts between which species are promoted and which are persecuted and how the species we choose to feed reflects broader world views and cultural values Ultimately this volume engages in the discussion of how we feed why we feed which animals we deem worthy of feeding and the widespread impacts of feeding relations Praise for The Hand that Feeds An innovative and exciting collection of studies exploring the cultural phenomenon of animal feeding Drawing on cutting edge approaches and case studies from wild raptors to livestock and zoo animals The Hand that Feeds has started a new conversation on this fundamental relationship between other species and ourselves Aleks Pluskowski University of Reading This fascinating book explores the how why and consequences of people feeding other species drawing on perspectives from the historical life and social sciences Different voices bring diverse observations and viewpoints to a refreshingly lively and informative discussion of a topic that is anything but simple Terry O Connor University of York This is a fantastic interdisciplinary collection interrogating how human animal relations are mediated by food Food can be an enticement a medicine or a poison it can be a vehicle for protection and bonding or distance and killing Dolly J rgensen University of Stavanger

The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities Kathrin Maurer, 2023-10-03 A comprehensive overview of how civilian drones sense the world and how they build the aesthetic imaginaries of our communities Drone technology has garnered critical attention across many fields from engineering to the humanities While the first wave of drone scholarship was key in initiating the debate on drones it also privileged the idea of the scopic regime a militarized regime of hypervisuality in its analyses of the connection between vision and power The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities broadens the drone spectrum of perception by acknowledging its creative life affirming possibility with the notion of the sensorium The sensorium of the drone is a multimedia synesthetic sensing assemblage in which the human agent is enmeshed with the drone Drone sensoria can sense in many more ways than the scopic regime with sound touch smell temperature and movement In The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities Kathrin Maurer shows how drone sensoria can change our understanding of human communities by constructing imaginaries of social communities based on decentralized and fluid sensing processes Maurer takes an aesthetic approach to technology working with two understandings of aesthetics One understanding refers to aesthetics as a way of experiencing and it explores how the drone human assemblage perceives the world The other refers to aesthetic mimetic representation and focuses on how aesthetic drone imaginaries in literature popular culture visual arts and films negotiate the sensorial technology of the drone Bringing together key ideas in technology studies studies of aerial views visual and aesthetic studies posthuman sensing machine human interaction and communities The Sensorium of the Drone and Communities sheds a welcome and necessary light on this technology's creative potential as well as its dangers and risks American Pigeon Journal, 1992 Heterotopia, Radical Imagination, and Shattering Orders Paula Arcari, 2024-12-13 This volume takes ending the oppression of other animals seriously and confronts the question What would happen to all the animals by showcasing real promissory and imagined counter sites or heterotopia where animals happen in different ways free of anthropocentric orders of value and purpose Rejecting persistent understandings of the oppression of nonhuman animals across the entire breadth of the Animal Industrial Complex A IC as either non-existent unproblematic and/or fundamentally unalterable open to merely being reduced in scale or made less harmful the collection offers readers a variety of pathways towards radically disordered ways of thinking about and relating to other animals Over 14 chapters authors describe more liberatory relational reconfigurations playing out in the present and undertake conceptual imaginative and embodied explorations of liberatory futures The chapters are united by a common commitment to heterotopic disturbance to contesting and subverting the anthropocapitalocentric space in which we live Each chapter approaches this subversion in its own way using prefiguration restorying speculation radical imagination and combinations thereof to disturb or shatter orders explore the kinds of liberation and resistance their disturbance demonstrates demands or embodies and ultimately illustrate exactly what would or could happen to all the animals

Heterotopia Radical Imagination and Shattering Orders will appeal to scholars students and individuals interested not only in challenging normalised binaries hierarchies and orders of value both human and nonhuman but in creating and realising liberatory alternatives Scholar activists activists professionals working in animal advocacy and anyone undertaking activities aimed at radically changing how other animals are understood and used will also find inspiration new insights and information that enhance their current methods and approaches Some readers may also find simply confirmation and comfort in the knowledge that so many others are working in solidarity with the disordered belief that shattering the A IC is possible
