Satellite Ministries Febe Armanios, 2025 In 1981 a satellite television station called Star of Hope began broadcasting from Israeli occupied South Lebanon Backed by American missionaries Israeli politicians and Lebanese Catholic leaders the channel aired Western entertainment and Christian content using a repurposed ABC Monday Night Football truck situated on the Israel Lebanon border Later renamed Middle East Television METV its programming included American soap operas sports and evangelical content alongside innovative Arabic Christian televangelism It was a station of enormous consequence METV spurred the growth of competing Christian broadcasters and reshaped the Middle East s media and religious landscape over the next four decades Yet it was of course controversial its foreign imperialist and proselytizing approach to media was a source of curiosity and consternation in the region and occasionally around the world Through extensive fieldwork and archival research Febe Armanios explores how Western evangelicals and indigenous Christians harnessed terrestrial and satellite technologies to promote Christian television in the Middle East The fifteen channels analyzed in this study fall into three main categories Western backed conservative outlets with a charismatic and apocalyptic outlook middle ground channels that sought to balance their international sponsors expectations with local interests and grassroots initiatives rooted in ancient church traditions The histories and programming strategies of primarily Arabic but also Turkish and Persian Christian channels reveal how media producers forged unexpected political alliances pursued sectarian objectives and navigated various transnational influences Satellite Ministries explores how modern expressions of faith technology and political power intersected and clashed across the Global South and beyond In this groundbreaking work Armanios presents a crucial examination of this unique and little known media landscape The Law and Religious Market Theory Jianlin Chen,2017-10-12 A fresh descriptive and normative perspective on law and religion supported by comparative case studies of Greater China

Becoming Nonviolent Peacemakers Eli Sasaran McCarthy,2012-07-11 Why do many U S residents Catholics and Catholic leaders among them too often fall short of adequately challenging the use of violence in U S policy The opportunities and developments in approaches to peacemaking have been growing at a significant rate However violent methods continue to hold significant sway in U S policy and society as the commonly assumed way to peace Even when community organizers policymakers members of Catholic leadership and academics sincerely search for alternatives to violence they too often think about nonviolence as primarily a rule or a strategy Catholic Social Teaching has been moving toward transcending the limits of these approaches but it still has significant room for growth In order to contribute to this growth and to impact U S policy McCarthy draws on Jesus Gandhi Ghaffar Khan and King to offer a virtue based approach to nonviolent peacemaking with a corresponding set of core practices This approach is also set in conversation with aspects of human rights discourse to increase its possible impact on U S policy As a whole Becoming Nonviolent Peacemakers offers an important challenge to contemporary accounts of peacemaking in the U S

Peacemakers in Action David Little,2007 Peacemakers in Action explores the conflicts and the stories of 15 individuals identified by the Tanenbaum Center for Interreligious Understanding from regions as far flung as West Papua Indonesia the Middle East Northern Ireland Nigeria El Salvador and South Africa

Interreligious Curriculum for Peace Education in Nigeria Isaiah Ekundayo Dada, 2019-04-18 Nigeria a country under a military regime for several years transitioned to a civilian regime in May 1999 Since this change violent conflicts between Christians and Muslims have continued to erupt They constitute one of the gravest dangers facing Nigeria a country with a population of 189 million people What have Nigerian religious leaders done about this situation especially in educational circles Have they received formal educational training to understand the causes of this violence and especially how to provide alternatives for more peaceful relations within Nigeria Does the current educational system in Nigeria provide the main ingredients for the promotion of a culture of peace The absence and neglect of interreligious peace education as part of a peace education core program and the lack of an interreligious curriculum for peace education in the training of religious leaders are the two problems contributing towards the lack of effectiveness of religious leaders in promoting less violent and more peaceful living The solution to the problem is proposed in this book entitled Interreligious Curriculum for Peace Education in Nigeria The book develops a one year curriculum building on Yoruba Islamic Christian conceptions of peace and teaches how to create safe caring spiritual peaceful and successful interfaith relationships between all Nigerian religious communities In the long term the book helps to educate religious leaders to contribute in themselves and with the help of their respective religious communities to reducing the growing religious violence in Nigeria      Ending Holy Wars Isak Svensson,2012

Ending Holy Wars explores how religious dimensions affect the possibilities for conflict resolution in civil war This is the first book that systematically tries to map out the religious dimensions of internal armed conflicts and explain the conditions under which religious dimensions impede peaceful settlement It draws upon empirical work on global data based on the Uppsala Conflict Data Program UCDP and complements this quantitative data with several smaller case studies Sri Lanka Philippines and Indonesia The book shows how religious identities and incompatibilities influence the likelihood of agreements and the mechanisms through which parties and third party mediators have been able to overcome religious obstacles to negotiated settlements These findings pave the way for a discussion on how conflict theory can better incorporate religious dimensions as well as how policy can be designed to manage religious dimensions in armed conflicts
