Key Resolutions of the United Nations General Assembly 1946-1996 Dietrich Rauschnig, Katja Wiesbrock, Martin Lailach, 1997-08-28 Key resolutions from the first fifty years of the United Nations General Assembly Beyond UN Subcontracting Thomas G. Weiss, 2016-07-27 Beyond UN Subcontracting sheds light through a series of post Cold War case studies on whether one United Nations efforts both to devolve responsibility for security to regional institutions and the delivery of some of their services to international nongovernmental organisations are a step toward or away from better global governance The cases are designed to explore patterns of interaction and to provide lessons for the future Beyond the Limits to Growth Hiroshi Komiyama, 2014-02-18 At a time when contemporary challenges seem to many to be insurmountable this book offers an optimistic view of the future and provides a road map for societies to get there Drawing upon extensive research and many years as a thought leader in environmental and sustainability issues in Japan and internationally Hiroshi Komiyama analyzes the most pressing challenges to the attainment of sustainability of economically advanced nations and argues forcefully for Japan to lead them out of the present dilemma through active promotion of creative consumer and societal demand He shows how an active industry government academic partnership can provide the environment needed to promote such new creative demand and illustrates its potential through presentation of a Platinum Society Network that was launched on a regional basis in Japan in 2010 to facilitate the solution of common issues through the exchange of information and ideas What is perhaps most surprising about the text is its unwavering optimism supported by hard evidence history and insightful observation Problems arising from new paradigms of the 21st century what the author refers to as exploding knowledge limited Earth resources and aging societies thwart sustainable development in advanced and developing countries alike All countries will struggle with issues that evolve from these paradigms including diminishing resources expanding budget deficits and growing global environmental problems This window on potential practical pathways and solutions should be of interest to all those engaged in seeking ways to meet these contemporary challenges The Third U.N. Law of the Sea Conference Herman T. Franssen, United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, William W. Woodhead, 1978 Establishing Continental Shelf Limits Beyond 200 Nautical Miles by the Coastal State Signe Veierud Busch, 2016-10-05 In Establishing Continental Shelf Limits Beyond 200 Nautical Miles by the Coastal State A Right of Involvement for Other States Signe Veierud Busch undertakes a study of all coastal State submissions to the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf and asks under which circumstances and to what extent States other than the coastal State may intervene in the process of establishing final and binding continental shelf limits After analysing relevant provisions in the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea and the Commission's Rules of Procedure compared with the practice of States and the Commission Busch raises the overall question if the possibility for other States to block the work of the Commission may in fact be undermining the mandate and functions of the Commission

Beyond Treaties: Rethinking Legal Mechanisms for International Climate Governance Törkan Gülce Budak,2025-04-05 This open access book examines the implications of the shift towards minilateralism for international climate law analysing how climate related trade measures and Paris Agreement compatible platforms may enhance global climate governance The landscape of international climate change law is evolving from a traditional consensus based treaty model characterized by comprehensive yet often slow moving agreements toward a more pragmatic approach known as minilateralism In this emerging paradigm smaller groups of countries negotiate and implement trade measures aimed at mitigating climate impacts An exemplary case is the European Green Deal which introduces climate related trade measures as a key instrument for achieving sustainability goals within and beyond Europe Additionally countries are exploring minilateral cooperation platforms within the Paris Agreement framework to further their climate objectives. The central questions to be addressed in this book are twofold. First, how can the design of the minilateral schemes comply with the Paris Agreement's international cooperation common but differentiated responsibilities and respective capacities and market-based mechanisms principles? Second, to what extent does the climate-related trade measures conform with the WTO regime, particularly with the non-discrimination principles of the trade law, namely most-favoured-nation and national treatment?

Beyond states Raphaëla Schweiger, 2023-03-07. This book investigates the role and influence of non-state actors, NSAs and local authorities in the process leading to the adoption of the 2018 Global Compact for Migration (GCM), the first intergovernmental negotiation of its kind at the UN. The research draws upon methods initially applied to assess global climate negotiations and for the first time analyzes the influence of NSAs and local authorities in an international negotiation on migration. It builds on an assessment of the state of the art on global migration governance, adding new perspectives and insights. The analysis of the influence of NSAs and local authorities is backed by an online survey of participating stakeholders, interviews with key actors and hundreds of other primary sources obtained from the process. The author finds that the UN system's willingness to onboard NSAs was key to creating the GCM as it stands today. While the research finds little direct influence from NSAs during the negotiations, the first draft of the GCM was very much informed by their input. Local authorities, still new to the global stage, made the case for their further inclusion in global migration governance.

The United Nation's Convention on the Law of the Sea (Treaty Doc. 103-39) United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 2008.

Sovereignty and the Limits of International Law Todd Berry, 2023-11-29. The inspiration for this book comes from negotiations that are taking place under the auspices of the United Nations by an intergovernmental conference for a new International Legally Binding Instrument (ILBI) under the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS) on the conservation and sustainable use of marine biological diversity of Areas Beyond National Jurisdiction (ABNJ). The proposed ILBI is attempting to fill existing gaps under international law over marine biodiversity and Marine Genetic Resources (MGR) in ABNJ. One way it is attempting to do this is by having an Access and Benefit Sharing (ABS) schema over these resources in ABNJ that the United Nations Convention on Biological Diversity (CBD) and its Nagoya Protocol (NP) do not currently cover. These existing frameworks that regulate genetic resources are grounded in the notion of sovereignty. Effectively, States have sovereign rights over their biological resources. The ILBI, however, is attempting to regulate marine biodiversity and MGR in ABNJ. Thus, the notion that negotiators representing nation States under the auspices of the United Nations can regulate ABNJ is paradoxical: are these areas beyond nation States' jurisdiction or not? Implicitly, the negotiators are acting as though they have sovereignty over resources located in what has been historically a sovereign free space. Thus, the purpose of this book is to investigate this paradox. Essentially, this book critiques the notion that ABNJ can actually be regulated under the auspices of the United Nations by nation State negotiators.

Beyond Ecological Economics and Development Luis Valenzuela, María del Valle Barrera, 2023-08-25

The interrelationship among development environment and human needs is one of the key issues being faced by the world today. The Chilean economist Manfred Max Neef was a leading thinker on this dynamic and this book provides both an introduction to and an analysis of his work and ideas. Arranged in three main sections: Human needs and wellbeing, Development growth and sustainability, and Methodology of economics, the chapters in this book contribute to ongoing debates on issues as important as human development, the limits of economic growth, deep ecology, sustainable consumption, entrepreneurship, climate change, interdisciplinarity, and the methodology and practice of economics. The contributors to this volume provide a broad range of different critical perspectives on these issues and the chapters are arranged in dialogue with each other to provide the reader with a rounded view of the legacy of Max Neef. This book is vital reading for all those interested in ecological economics, environmental economics, development economics, methodology, and philosophy of economics and heterodox economics.

Challenges and Opportunities in Regional Governance of Ocean Ecosystems Lucia Fanning, Sebastian Unger, Robin Mahon, 2022-09-19

Moving Beyond Boundaries in Disability Studies Michele Moore, 2013-09-13. What challenges are posed by changing transnational trends, agendas, and movements that affect disabled people's lives and what can disabled people, their representative organisations, and their governments do to advance the agenda for self-determination and inclusion? This book draws together the writing of academics and activists to depict the experience and perspective of disabled people in relation to a range of contemporary social changes, with a focus firmly on ways in which disabled people and their allies can act to counter disabling policies and practices. Throughout the book, there is an emphasis on disabled people's own voices and activism as the critical driver of theoretical critique and practical change. Chapters address a wide range of cultural, institutional, and personal arenas to explore and contest the boundaries that disabled people seek to move beyond: from cross-border labour movements in Korea to experience of day services in England; from continuing and long-lasting realities of wars in Lebanon, Cambodia, and Somalia to the beauty of harmony in Navajo traditions; for understanding disability from collective activism to individual participation in the Olympics. This book is recommended reading for students, researchers, and activists interested in Disability Studies and is directly relevant to policy makers and practitioners in a position to reshape rights spaces and innovations in response to the priorities disabled people feel and articulate are important for their lives. It was originally published as a special issue of Disability Society.

The Top Books of the Year Beyond Limitations Keys For United Nations The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide.
