The Notebook Trilogy Agota Kristof, 2016-03-29 The child says That s the only difference between the dead and those who go away isn t it Those who aren t dead will return Lucas says But how do we know they aren t dead when they re away We can t know Claus and Lucas are twins Their new life begins when they are left with their grandmother the Witch in a village in an occupied country It s wartime All their actions are based on the necessity to survive They create an exercise regime to toughen up and record the results in a notebook Their angelic looks are deceiving They are implacable dangerously ethical their code of life demands that they help a deserter or blackmail a priest or come to the aid of a prostitute or assist in a suicide What motivates them is a deeply embedded morality of absolute need The trilogy The Notebook 1986 The Proof 1988 and The Third Lie 1991 follows their stories from the Second World War through the years of communism and into a fractured Europe In what could be seen as an allegory of post war Europe Claus and Lucas locked in a tortuous bond become separated and are isolated in different countries They yearn to be connected again but perspectives shift memories diverge identity becomes unstable Written in Kristof s spare direct style The Notebook Trilogy is an exploration of the aftereffects of trauma and of the nature of storytelling Kristof s language is both accessible and matter of fact as well as odd and unsettling The novels explore truth and lies shaped by a breathtaking artistic vision that is shocking fascinating and utterly memorable

TRILOGY THE NOTEBOOK THE PROOF THE THIRD AGOTA KRISTOF, 2022-06 Three Novels Agota Kristof, Alan Sheridan, 1997 Temporality in Life As Seen Through Literature Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2007-05-09 Temporality pervades the dynamic joint of existence and the human being as such As human beings unfold through onto-poiesis each move of which punctuates the temporality of life they whose life experience deliberation planning reflection and dreaming are permeated by temporal motivations and concerns feel that they are engaged in the spinning of a common thread Attributing to that involvement universal laws constant existential validity and power they absolutise hypostasise its rule as a cosmic human factor time Yet today technologies are transforming the temporality of our existence by accelerating intensifying expanding our partaking in the world of life Human communal and social involvement is being challenged in its personal significance to the core of our being What happens to time A basic reinvestigation of the nature of temporality is called for Human creative endeavor especially literature may initiate it Having the human subject the creator at its center literature is essentially engaged in temporality whether that of the mind or of the world of life through the creative process of writing stage directing or the reader s and viewer s reception Out of the cross motivations that the creative mind filters in its temporal synthesis in touch with all the perspectives of existence there surges the deepest significance of life in humanity and culture But first of all life comes to light as timing itself in its logos Tymieniecka The Monstrosity of Christ Slavoj Zizek, John Milbank, 2011-02-25 A militant Marxist atheist and a Radical Orthodox Christian theologian square off on everything from the meaning of theology and Christ to the war machine of corporate mafia What matters is not so much that

He is endorsing a demythologized disenchanted Christianity without transcendence as that he is offering in the end despite what he sometimes claims a heterodox version of Christian belief John Milbank To put it even more bluntly my claim is that it is Milbank who is effectively guilty of heterodoxy ultimately of a regression to paganism in my atheism I am more Christian than Milbank Slavoj Žižek In this corner philosopher Slavoj Žižek a militant atheist who represents the critical materialist stance against religion's illusions in the other corner Radical Orthodox theologian John Milbank an influential and provocative thinker who argues that theology is the only foundation upon which knowledge politics and ethics can stand In The Monstrosity of Christ Žižek and Milbank go head to head for three rounds employing an impressive arsenal of moves to advance their positions and press their respective advantages By the closing bell they have not only proven themselves worthy adversaries they have shown that faith and reason are not simply and intractably opposed Žižek has long been interested in the emancipatory potential offered by Christian theology And Milbank seeing global capitalism as the new century's greatest ethical challenge has pushed his own ontology in more political and materialist directions Their debate in The Monstrosity of Christ concerns the future of religion secularity and political hope in light of a monstrous event God becoming human For the first time since Žižek's turn toward theology we have a true debate between an atheist and a theologian about the very meaning of theology Christ the Church the Holy Ghost Universality and the foundations of logic The result goes far beyond the popularized atheist theist point counterpoint of recent books by Christopher Hitchens Richard Dawkins and others Žižek begins and Milbank answers countering dialectics with paradox The debate centers on the nature of and relation between paradox and parallax between analogy and dialectics between transcendent glory and liberation Slavoj Žižek is a philosopher and cultural critic He has published over thirty books including Looking Awry The Puppet and the Dwarf and The Parallax View these three published by the MIT Press John Milbank is an influential Christian theologian and the author of Theology and Social Theory Beyond Secular Reason and other books Creston Davis who conceived of this encounter studied under both Žižek and Milbank

Bicultural Literature and Film in French and English Peter I. Barta, Phil

Powrie, 2015-12-22 This book focuses on literature and cinema in English or French by authors and directors not working in their native language Artists with hybrid identities have become a defining phenomenon of contemporary reality following the increased mobility between civilisations during the postcolonial period and the waves of emigration to the West Cinema and prose fiction remain the most popular sources of cultural consumption not least owing to the adaptability of both to the new electronic media This volume considers cultural products in English and French in which the explicitly multi focal representation of authors' experiences of their native languages/cultures makes itself conspicuous The essays explore work by the peripheral and those without a country while problematising what might be meant by the widely used but not always well defined term bicultural The first section looks at films by such well known filmmakers working in France as Bouchareb Kechiche Legzouli and Dridi as well as the animated feature Persepolis Here the focus is on the representation of human experience in spatial terms exploring the appropriation of territory cohabited by local people newcomers and their children haunted by the cultural memories of distant places The second part is devoted to multicultural authors whose native language was English Russian Polish Hungarian or Spanish Beckett Herzen Voeikova Triolet Conrad Hoffmann Kristof Dorfman and their creative engagement with difference A study of the emergence of multilingual writing in Montaigne and an autobiographical essay by Elleke Boehmer on growing up surrounded by English Dutch Afrikaans and Zulu frame the volume's chapters The collection relishes the freedom provided by liberation from the confines of one language and culture and the delight in creative multilingualism This book will be of significant interest to those studying the subject of biculturalism as well as the fields of comparative literature and cinema American Book Publishing Record ,1985
