Subject Catalog, 1979 Library of Congress, 1979 Analog Science Fiction/science Fact John Wood Campbell (Jr.), 1979 Alien Nation John Gill, Jens Hoffmann, Gilane Tawadros, 2006 Alien Nation explores the ways the metaphor of the alien little green man has been used to process the reality of the alien illegal or otherwise. If the cinema of the 1950s and 60s sublimated the fear of atomic catastrophe or communist attack into interplanetary drama the more recent work collected here uses elements of that retro sci fi world as powerful metaphors for our deep seated fears of the Other the foreigner the increasingly frequently decried invasion of immigrants or just the presence of people of different skin colors and beliefs. Among the 12 international contemporary artists showcased are Laylah Ali Kori Newkirk and Yinka Shonibare. They and their compatriots explore themes of otherness and difference in film sculpture painting photography and installation. Their interplanetary visitors which might be built from Christmas ornaments like Marepe's untitled creature or sewn from African cloth like Shonibare's Dysfunctional Family are illustrated alongside film stills and posters from the 1950s and 60s a glossary of alien names from those films several thoughtful essays and interviews with the participating artists. A timely ambitious and thought provoking exploration of the complex relationship between fiction race and contemporary art

Frankenstein's Daughters Jane L. Donawerth, 1997-04-01 Women Science fiction authors past and present are united by the problems they face in attempting to write in this genre an overwhelmingly male dominated field. Science fiction has been defined by male centered scientific discourse that describes women as alien others rather than rational beings. This perspective has defined the boundaries of science fiction resulting in women writers being excluded as equal participants in the genre. Frankenstein's Daughters explores the different strategies women have used to negotiate the minefields of their chosen career they have created a unique utopian science formulated by and for women with women characters taking center stage and actively confronting oppressors. This type of depiction is a radical departure from the condition where women are relegated to marginal roles within the narratives. Donawerth takes a comprehensive look at the field and explores the works of authors such as Mary Shelley Marion Zimmer Bradley Ursula K Le
