Three An Unfinished Woman Pentimento Scoundrel Time By Lillian Hellman:

Three Lillian Hellman, 1979 Portraits and recollections marked by the playwright's characteristic wit candor and intelligence are presented exactly as first published Lillian Hellman Dorothy Gallagher, 2014-01-28 Glamorous talented audacious Lillian Hellman knew everyone did everything had been everywhere By the age of twenty nine she had written The Children's Hour the first of four hit Broadway plays and soon she was considered a member of America's first rank of dramatists a position she maintained for more than twenty five years Apart from her literary accomplishments eight original plays and three volumes of memoirs Hellman lived a rich life filled with notable friendships controversial political activity travel and love affairs most importantly with Dashiell Hammett But by the time she died the truth about her life and works had been called into question Scandals attached to her name having to do with sex with money and with her own veracity Dorothy Gallagher confronts the conundrum that was Lillian Hellman a woman with a capacity to inspire outrage as often as admiration Exploring Hellman's leftist politics her Jewish and Southern background and her famous testimony before the House Un American Activities Committee Gallagher also undertakes a new reading of Hellman's carefully crafted memoirs and plays in which she is both revealed and hidden Gallagher sorts through the facts and the myths arriving at a sharply drawn portrait of a woman who lived large to the end of her remarkable life and never backed down from a fight

Conversations with Lillian Hellman Lillian Hellman, 1986 From six decades 26 interviews with the renowned playwright that show her pungency directness honesty wit Includes three previously unprinted interviews from television broadcasts with Dan Rather Bill Moyers Marilyn Berger A Companion to the Historical Film Robert A. Rosenstone, Constantin Parvulescu, 2015-12-02 Broad in scope this interdisciplinary collection of original scholarship on historical film features essays that explore the many facets of this expanding field and provide a platform for promising avenues of research Offers a unique collection of cutting edge research that questions the intention behind and influence of historical film Essays range in scope from inclusive broad ranging subjects such as political contexts to focused assessments of individual films and auteurs Prefaced with an introductory survey of the field by its two distinguished editors Features interdisciplinary contributions from scholars in the fields of History Film Studies Anthropology and Cultural and Literary Studies Telling Lies in Modern American Autobiography Timothy Dow Adams, 2017-10-10 All autobiographers are unreliable narrators Yet what a writer chooses to misrepresent is as telling perhaps even more so as what really happened Timothy Adams believes that autobiography is an attempt to reconcile one's life with one's self and he argues in this book that autobiography should not be taken as historically accurate but as metaphorically authentic Adams focuses on five modern American writers whose autobiographies are particularly complex because of apparent lies that permeate them In examining their stories Adams shows that lying in autobiography especially literary autobiography is not simply inevitable Rather it is often a deliberate highly strategic decision on the author's part Throughout his analysis Adams's standard is not literal accuracy but personal authenticity He attempts to resolve some of the paradoxes of recent autobiographical theory by looking at the classic question of design and truth in autobiography from the underside with a focus on lying rather than truth Originally published in 1990 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

American Women Writers, 1900-1945 Laurie Champion, 2000-09-30 Women writers have been traditionally excluded from literary canons and not until recently have scholars begun to rediscover or discover for the first time neglected women writers and their works This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries on 58 American women authors who wrote between 1900 and 1945 Each entry is written by an expert contributor and discusses a particular author's biography her major works and themes and the critical response to her writings The entries close with extensive primary and secondary bibliographies and the volume concludes with a list of works for further reading The period surveyed by this reference is rich and diverse Modernism and the Harlem Renaissance two major artistic movements occurred between 1900 and 1945 and the entries included here demonstrate the significant contributions women made to these movements The volume as a whole strives to reflect the diversity of American culture and includes entries for African American Native American Mexican American and Chinese American women It includes well known writers such as Willa Cather and Eudora Welty along with more neglected ones such as Anita Scott Coleman and Sui Sin Far

Unfriendly Witnesses Milly S. Barranger, 2008-06-10 Unfriendly Witnesses Gender Theater and Film in the McCarthy Era examines the experiences of seven prominent women of stage and screen whose lives and careers were damaged by the McCarthy era witch hunts for Communists and Communist sympathizers in the entertainment industry Judy Holliday Anne Revere Lillian Hellman Dorothy Parker Margaret Webster Mady Christians and Kim Hunter The effects on women of the anti Communist crusades that swept the nation between 1947 and 1962 have been largely overlooked by cultural critics and historians who have instead focused their attention on the men of the period Author Milly S Barranger looks at the gender issues inherent in the investigations and at the destructive impact the investigations had on the lives and careers of these seven women and on American film and theater and culture in general Issues of gender and politics surface in the women's testimony before the committeemen labeled unfriendly because the women refused to name names Unfriendly Witnesses redresses the absence of women's histories during this era of modern political history and identifies the enduring strains of McCarthyism in postmillennial America Barranger recreates the congressional and state hearings that addressed the alleged Communist influence in the entertainment industry and examines in detail the cases of these seven women including the appearance of actress Judy Holliday before the committee of Senator Pat McCarran who aimed to limit the immigration of Eastern Europeans actress Anne Revere and playwright Lillian Hellman appearing before the House Un American Activities Committee sought the protections of the Fifth Amendment with different outcomes of writer Dorothy Parker who testified before a New York state legislative committee investigating contributions to front groups and of director Margaret Webster before Senator Joseph McCarthy's subcommittee whose aim was the indictment of Senator J William Fulbright and the U S State Department None escaped subsequent blacklisting denial of employment and notations in FBI files that they were threats to national security Unfriendly Witnesses is enhanced by nine illustrations and extensive excerpts from Red Channels The Report of Communist Influence in Radio and Television originally published in 1950 at the height of the Red Scare and which listed 151 allegedly subversive writers directors and performers Barranger includes the complete entries from Red Channels for the seven women she discusses which include the subversive affiliations that prompted the women's interrogation by the government

Just Words Alan Ackerman, Associate Professor of English University of Toronto Alan Ackerman, 2011-06-28 In an appearance on The Dick Cavett Show in 1980 the critic Mary McCarthy glibly remarked that every word author Lillian Hellman wrote was a lie including and and the Hellman immediately filed a libel suit charging that McCarthy's comment was not a legitimate conversation on public issues but an attack on her reputation This intriguing book offers a many faceted examination of Hellman's infamous suit and explores what it tells us about tensions between privacy and self expression freedom and restraint in public language and what can and cannot be said in public in America

Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition Volume one examines the film as film volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film volume three draws on the history of film and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors sources and historical information as well as an index of authors titles and film personalities

Borderlines Gunnthórunn Gudmundsdóttir, 2016-08-09 Borderlines Autobiography and Fiction in Postmodern Life Writing locates and investigates the borderlines between autobiography and fiction in various kinds of life writing dating from the last thirty years This volume offers a valuable comparative approach to texts by French English American and German authors to illustrate the different forms of experimentation with the borders between genres and literary modes Gudmundsdóttir tackles important contemporary concerns such as autobiography's relationship to postmodernism by investigating themes such as memory and crossing cultural divides the use of photographs in autobiography and the role of narrative in life writing This work is of interest to students and scholars of comparative literature postmodernism and contemporary life writing

Touching the World Paul John Eakin, 1992-04-15 Paul John Eakin's earlier work Fictions in Autobiography is a key text in autobiography studies In it he proposed that the self that finds expression in autobiography is in fundamental ways a kind of fictive construct a fiction articulated in a fiction In this new book Eakin turns his attention to what he sees as the defining assumption of autobiography that the story of the self does refer to a world of biographical and historical fact Here he shows that people write autobiography not in some private realm of the autonomous self but rather in strenuous engagement with the pressures that life in culture entails In so demonstrating he offers fresh readings of autobiographies by Roland Barthes Nathalie Sarraute William Maxwell Henry James Ronald Fraser Richard Rodriguez Henry Adams Patricia Hampl John Updike

James McConkey and Lillian Hellman In the introduction Eakin makes a case for reopening the file on reference in autobiography and in the first chapter he establishes the complexity of the referential aesthetic of the genre the intricate interplay of fact and fiction in such texts In subsequent chapters he explores some of the major contexts of reference in autobiography the biographical the social and cultural the historical and finally underlying all the rest the somatic and temporal dimensions of the lived experience of identity In his discussion of contemporary theories of the self Eakin draws especially on cultural anthropology and developmental psychology Women, Autobiography, Theory Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 1998 The first comprehensive guide to the burgeoning field of women's autobiography Essays from 39 prominent critics and writers explore narratives across the centuries and from around the globe A list of more than 200 women's autobiographies and a comprehensive bibliography provide invaluable information for scholars teachers and readers
