Shifting Burdens Shahra Razavi,2002 Details the effects of structural adjustment policies imposed on agriculture and their effect on gender relations within rural areas in the developing world Empirically grounded case studies from India Mexico South Africa Uganda and Vietnam Over the past ten years neoliberal policy shifts in rural development across the globe have reduced the role of government consigning the costs of services to the rural poor themselves But what are the gender effects of this change The contributors unravel the ways in which economic and social structures institutions and policy outcomes are mediated by gender as a social relationship and consider the degree to which a diversified livelihoods strategy touted as the means by which rural families are struggling to improve their standard of living accurately describes what is taking place on the ground

The Local Relevance of Human Rights Koen De Feyter,Stephan Parmentier,Christiane Timmerman,George Ulrich,2011-09-08 Do human rights offer real protection when disadvantaged groups invoke them at the local level in an attempt to improve their living conditions If so how can we make sure that the experiences of those invoking human rights at the local level have an impact on the further development of human rights at national and other levels so that the local relevance of human rights increases Since the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights UDHR on 10 December 1948 numerous international documents have reaffirmed human rights as global norms This book examines what factors determine whether appeals to human rights that emanate from the local level are successful and whether the UDHR adequately responds to threats as currently defined by relevant groups or whether a revision of some of the ideas included in the UDHR is needed in order to increase its contemporary relevance

Making It Better Lorraine Greaves ,Ann Pederson ,Nancy Poole ,2014 In this innovative collection leading thinkers in clinical medicine sociology epidemiology kinesiology education and public policy reveal how health promotion is failing communities by failing women Despite a longstanding consensus that social inequalities shape global patterns of illness and opportunities for health mainstream health promotion frameworks continue to ignore gender at relational household community and state levels Exploring the ways in which gendered norms affect health and social equity for all human beings Making It Better invites us to rethink conventional approaches to health promotion and to strive for transformative initiatives and policies Offering practical tools and evidence based strategies for moving from gender integration to gender transformation this anthology is required reading for policymakers health promotion and healthcare practitioners researchers community developers and social service providers
