Re-imagining Language and Literature for the 21st Century, 2005-01-01 In 28 essays selected from the proceedings of the XXII International Congress of FILLM held at Assumption University Bangkok scholars and teachers of languages and literatures have noted bemoaned and analyzed the waning influence of the humanities to varying degrees. They have raised questions, offered solutions and vigorously defended their languages and literatures often in no uncertain terms not as a politically correct thing to do but as a human obligation. The papers presented here are true to the spirit of the Congress from the moment of the keynote address to what followed in a spontaneous outbreak of voices from scholars of more than 70 universities throughout the world. For the first time in an international congress, scholars have described with great sensitivity many languages and literatures often considered the periphery in a sincere attempt to understand the other, thus making a passionate plea for inclusion in the umbrella of the world's languages and literatures. With contributions by keynote speaker and authority on Comparative Literature Gayatri Spivak, USA and plenary speakers Vridhagiri Ganeshan, India; Roger Sell, Finland; Antoine Compagnon, France; and Chetana Nagavajara, Thailand, this volume is of immense interest to scholars and teachers of languages and literatures the world over. Encyclopedia of the American Novel, Abby H. the secrets of her father's experience in the Pacific Theater in this graceful understated World War II memoir for fans of The Things They Carried The New York Times Book Review Louise Steinman's American childhood in the fifties was bound by one unequivocal condition Never mention the war to your father That silence sustained itself until the fateful day Steinman opened an old ammunition box left behind after her parents' death In it she discovered nearly 500 letters her father had written to her mother during his service in the Pacific War and a Japanese flag mysteriously inscribed to Yoshio Shimizu Setting out to determine the identity of Yoshio Shimizu and the origins of the silken flag Steinman discovered the unexpected a hidden side of her father the green soldier who achingly left his pregnant wife to fight for his life in a brutal 165 day campaign that changed him forever Her journey to return the souvenir to its owner not only takes Steinman on a passage to Japan and the Philippines but also returns her to the age of her father's innocence where she learned of the tender and expressive man she'd never known Steinman writes with the same poignant immediacy her father did in his letters Together their stories in The Souvenir create an evocative testament to the ways in which war changes one generation and shapes another Heritage, 1994 The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Guiyou Huang, 2006-08-08 The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Amerasia Journal, 1995
