Re-imagining educational leadership Brian J. Caldwell, 2006-07-01

Re-imagining Educational Leadership will challenge policymakers at all levels to re-imagine educational leadership. It will help reshape educational leadership in school systems around the world at a time when policymakers seem to be losing faith in what schools can accomplish.

Part A: Re-imagining the Self-Managing School reports what has happened in schools that became self-managing in the 1990s. Author Brian Caldwell describes how best practice has far outstripped the initial vision. Deeper exploration of the new image of the self-managing school led to the formulation in Part B: The New Enterprise Logic of Schools, the first element of which is the student is the most important unit of organisation, not the classroom, not the school and not the system.

Part C: Exhilarating Leadership counters the negative headlines about leadership in schools that is too often portrayed as mission impossible. Illustrations from schools that had been transformed or were on the way to transformation reveal that leadership can be exhilarating even under the most challenging circumstances. This book shares a genuine optimism that educational leadership is mission possible at a time when many have doubt Reforms and Issues in School Mathematics in East Asia ,2010-01-01 Worldwide efforts to improve students learning of mathematics have turned educational researchers attention to some high achieving education systems especially those in East Asia including Chinese Mainland Hong Kong Japan Singapore South Korea and Taiwan However there is much less sharing and learning of educational policy and practices that goes beyond one or two such high achieving education systems At this time when educational changes and reforms for improving students learning of mathematics are also underway within these high achieving education systems in East Asia it becomes timely and important for the world to learn why and how relevant changes take place across these selected education systems This book has put together a set of papers that individually presents issues on the changing mathematics curriculum and teacher education in the six high achieving education systems in East Asia Collectively the book extends beyond what we can learn about exemplary practices in individual education systems in East Asia It helps us develop a better understanding of the interplay between various measures for the pursuit of excellence in mathematics curriculum and teacher education on the one hand and the different system contexts on the other The intended readers of the book include education policy makers curriculum developers researchers teachers teacher educators and anyone else interested in school mathematics curriculum and teacher education The annual report of Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills 2010/11 Great Britain: Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills,2011-11-22 Ofsted today publishes the Annual Report 2010 11 drawing on over 31 000 inspection visits across the schools early years children s social care and learning and skills sectors in England Launched by Her Majesty s Chief Inspector Miriam Rosen this in depth analysis provides an insight into the quality of those services for children and learners what is working well and what needs to improve The report highlights how an inadequate inspection judgement whether for a children s home or a school a college or a nursery can be an important catalyst for change For example the total number of schools in a category of concern that is judged to be in special measures or being given a notice to improve reduced from 553 at the end of last year to 451 at the end of August 2011 Over a fifth of schools judged inadequate at their previous inspection were found to be good or better when inspected again this year In addition schools are now emerging from special measures faster than the previous year after an average of 18 months rather than 20 In inspections of local authorities children s social care where Ofsted completed the second full year of unannounced inspection of contact referral and assessment arrangements weaknesses identified the previous year had been addressed in the great majority of cases
