Act And Being Towards A Theology Of The Divine Attributes:

Act and Being Colin E. Gunton, 2002 The doctrine of the divine absolutes is a central component of university courses in modern Christian doctrine and in this book Gunton brings a unique combination of theology and philosophy to bear on the main issues This book addresses the thorny question of the defining characteristics of the deity or what God is After 2000 years there is little clarity about this and it is this clarity which Gunton provides He discusses the nature of theological language the difference the Trinity makes to discussion of the divine absolutes and the relationship between Greek and Hebrew understandings of the topic The most coherent picture of the divine absolutes to have been published in recent times this should be useful reading for all serious students of Christian doctrine and systematic theology Recent Developments in Trinitarian Theology Marc Vial, 2014-06-13 Recent Developments in Trinitarian Theology explores the major renaissance that Trinitarian theology has undergone in recent decades Remarkably all the main Christian denominations have participated in this and contemporary Trinitarian theology is a discussion that often crosses over confessional boundaries English language theology plays an important role in the renewal of Trinitarian theology and that role is the focus of this symposium Its purpose is twofold to gather in an international setting leading thinkers to present the major developments in Trinitarian theology and to show how Trinitarian theology can contribute to new thinking in several contemporary systematic and critical fields including political theology and the theology of religions Human Experience and the Triune God Bernhard Nausner, 2008 The overarching aim of this work is to develop a new account of the doctrine of the Trinity The author proposes that such an approach is overdue because contemporary trinitarian theology pays insufficient attention to the fact that theology as linguistic discourse is inescapably embedded in human experience Hence the critical analysis of existing trinitarian constructions Gunton LaCugna Moltmann is impressively sharp In response Nausner develops an interstitial methodology working between experience and revelation refusing both revelational and experiential positivisms In dialogue with contemporary novels the human sciences Frankl Weizsäcker philosophy Levinas and biblical narratives he offers an imaginative original and contemporary way of conceiving the doctrine of the Trinity in relation to human life

Canadian Pentecostals, the Trinity, and Contemporary Worship Music Michael A. Tapper, 2017-05-08 This volume offers a landmark analysis of the trinitarian impulses in contemporary worship music used by the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada PAOC It considers whether the lyrics from the most commonly used PAOC songs are consistent with this Evangelical group's trinitarian statement of faith Colin Gunton's trinitarian theology provides the theological rationale for eight original and qualitative content analyses of these songs Three major areas are considered the doctrine of God human personhood and cosmology Making use of Gunton's notions of relationality particularity and perichoresis along with several key Pentecostal scholars this book serves as a helpful descriptive and prescriptive theological resource for the dynamic practice of a trinitarian faith Wrath Among the Perfections of God's Life Jeremy J. Wynne, 2013-02-14 Late modern theology is marked by persistent and widespread uncertainty as to how the wrath of God can be taken up as a legitimate theme within dogmatics Rather than engage the most fundamental task of clarifying the inner logic by which God's identity is revealed in scripture privilege has been ceded either to cultural and textual criticism to ostensibly self-evident moral sensibilities or to the thematization of religious experience The present work sets out to rectify this misstep The result is a rigorous proposal for understanding wrath expressly within the doctrine of God as a redemptive mode of divine righteousness

Ecumenical Perspectives on the Filioque for the 21st Century Myk Habets, 2014-06-19 The volume presents a range of theological standpoints regarding the filioque With some contributors arguing for its retention and others for its removal still others contest that its presence or otherwise in the Creed is not what is of central concern but rather that how it should be understood is of ultimate importance What contributors share is a commitment to interrogating and developing the central theological issues at stake in a consideration of the filioque thus advancing ecumenical theology and intercommunal dialogue without diluting the discussion Contributors span the Christian traditions Roman Catholic Protestant Eastern Orthodox and Pentecostal Each of these traditions has its own set of theological assumptions methods and politics many of which are on display in the essays which follow Nonetheless it is only when we bring the wealth of learning and commitments from our own theological traditions to ecumenical dialogue that true progress can be made It is in this spirit that the present essays have been conceived and are now presented in this form

Evangelical Theological Method Stanley E. Porter, Steven M. Studebaker, 2018-07-10 How should one approach the task of theology This Spectrum volume brings together five evangelical theologians with distinctly different approaches to the theological task who present their own approach and respond to each of the other views Emerging from this theological conversation is an awareness of our methodological commitments and the benefits that each can bring to the theological task

The Gospel in the Western Context Gert-Jan Roest, 2018-10-02 In The Gospel in the Western Context Gert-Jan Roest focuses on discerning a Western contextual gospel an endeavour that is very relevant to the current state of Christianity in the postmodern and post Christendom West After giving an in depth analysis and synthesis of how Hendrikus Berkhof and Colin Gunton read the Western context and contextualize their Christology he develops a gospel centred model for reading the context Meanwhile he makes a creative and much needed attempt to connect the two disciplines of systematic theology and missiology and convincingly shows that both disciplines cannot only enrich one another but also can give church practitioners insight and wisdom for their tasks Trinitarian Theology after Barth Myk Habets, Phillip Tolliday, 2012-05-31 Drawing together scholars whose essays exhibit work after Barth in engaging the doctrine of the Trinity and its related themes Barth's thought as evidenced amongst his most expert commentators allows for a variety of interpretations the details of which are being hammered out on the pages of academic journals and volumes such as this one It is this variety of responses to and interpretations of Barth's theology that gives such vibrancy to the essays in this volume by seasoned Barth scholars and voices new to the conversation The End of the Timeless God R. T. Mullins, 2016 This book considers two approaches to the philosophy of time presentism and eternalism A Soul Framed in Christ Frank L. Bartoe, 2021-11-30 There is a particular pressing question that seems to permeate the whole of Charnock's works If the greatest or highest degree of excellence is found in this imitable perfection of God this conformity to holiness then what does this conformity look like in the soul that has been regenerated This book undertakes a detailed analysis of the various components of Charnock's doctrine of regeneration more specifically the continuity in his thought working out the reality that is contained within the highest degree of excellence that is found in the imitable perfection of God Charnock brings the whole of that image of God renewed in the soul under the microscope of Scripture to reveal the details found in the conformity to that vital principle holiness John Calvin and Evangelical Theology Sung Wook Chung, 2009-01-01 This latest offering by noted theologian Sung Wook Chung examines the ways in which John Calvin continues to impact the global evangelical movement in the twenty first century This useful collection is perhaps most distinguished by the diversity of its contributors Literally spanning the globe the group of scholars whose work is included represents a wealth of viewpoints from various traditions including Dutch neo Calvinism the French Reformed tradition Scottish American Presbyterianism Anglicanism Congregationalism the Baptist tradition Calvinist Dispensationalism Asian Reformed tradition African American Reformed tradition and Latin American Evangelicalism Together they offer an enlightening glimpse into the historical Calvin and project that understanding on the evangelical movement of the future Flourishing Neil Messer, 2013-12-20 We use such words as health disease and illness all the time without stopping to consider exactly what we understand by them Yet their meanings are far from straightforward and disagreements over them have important practical consequences in health care and bioethics In this book Neil Messer develops a distinctive and innovative theological account of these concepts He engages in earnest with debates in the philosophy of medicine and disability studies and draws on a wide array of theological resources including Barth Bonhoeffer Aquinas and recent disability theologies By enabling us to understand health in the wider perspective of the flourishing and ultimate destiny of human beings Messer's Flourishing sheds new light on a range of practical bioethical issues and dilemmas

God of Salvation Murray A. Rae, 2016-04-15 The theology of salvation stands at the heart of the Christian faith Very often the structure of Christian salvation is seen in terms of a single theme such as atonement for sins forgiveness liberation or friendship with God It is easy to reduce soteriology to a matter of merely personal experience or to see salvation as just a solution to a human problem This book explores a vital yet often neglected aspect of Christian confession the essential relationship between the nature of salvation and the character of the God who saves In what ways does God's saving outreach reflect God's character How might a Christian depiction of salvation best bear witness to these features What difference might it make to start with the identity of God as encountered in the gospel then view everything else in the light of that In addressing these questions this book offers fresh appraisals of a range of major themes in theology the nature of creaturely existence the relationship between divine purposes and material history the holiness love and judgement of God the atoning work of Jesus Christ election justification and the nature of faith salvation outside the church human and non human ends the nature of eschatological fellowship with God In looking at these issues in the light of God's identity the authors offer a stimulating and tightly argued reassessment of what a Christian theology of salvation ought to resemble and ask what the implications might be for Christian life and witness in the world today

God's Being in Reconciliation Adam J. Johnson, 2012-03-01 A survey of unity and diversity in Christ's saving work read and interpreted through the lense of the theology of Karl Barth Infinite Risk Theology Stefano Salemi, 2025-03-19 Could God's Son incarnate sin Could the tomb have remained closed Could the story have gone differently More precisely could God's Son be eternally separated from the Father's communion and eventually die and go out of existence Mainstream theology often argued for Christ's impossibility to change immutability be separated from the triune God indivisibility and sin impeccability Consequently there was no potential risk to his life his death on the cross could not affect in any form his divine life Would the cross not need instead a risk to be a sacrifice Here is where the question finds its raison d'être Could God's Son risk his eternal existence losing himself forever with all humankind This question is rarely considered or often neglected in Christological debates Ellen G White a woman among the most prolific nineteenth century authors and a prominent Adventist theologian delves into what she calls the infinite risk the potential reality of the death of God the Son Drawing on her extensive writings this book analyses White's Christology Incarnational model and views of the Godhead and of what could have happened at the cross cutting new paths in the comprehension of God's love while challenging conventional theological paradigms
