not to be discussed in public But the last few years have seen a new willingness among advocates and allies of all ages to speak openly about periods Slowly around the globe people are recognizing the basic fundamental human right to address menstruation in a safe and affordable way free of stigma shame or barriers to access Menstruation Matters explores the role of law in this movement It asks what the law currently says about menstruation spoiler alert not much and provides a roadmap for legal reform that can move society closer to a world where no one is held back or disadvantaged by menstruation Bridget J Crawford and Emily Gold Waldman examine these issues in a wide range of contexts from schools to workplaces to prisons to tax policies and more Ultimately they seek to transform both law and society so that menstruation is no longer an obstacle to full participation in all aspects of public and private life Report on Post-arrest Drug Trafficking.
