Sensory Tourism Ian S. Jenkins, Robert S. Bristow, 2024-11-13 Tourism offers countless global locations providing a multitude of sensory experiences These include commercialised tourism products such as saunas and floatation tanks through to natural phenomenon such as mountains and wilderness destinations Consequently sensory elements are a curious concept within tourism because every destination provides a sensory experience of one kind or another The first of its kind this book examines holidays and tourism through sensory perceptions which either encourage or deter consumers It studies sensoryscapes and how they effect and affect tourism at destinations and be linked with the development of tourist niches reflecting the segmenting of the mass market tourism into smaller segments Finally it reflects on how with increased urbanisation there a growing need is to find quiet spaces free from urban or anthropogenic noise such as silent retreats and dark sky meditation holidays Escape has always been one of the main components of tourism development together with attraction to spatial locations that match tourists needs It will be of interest to those studying tourism management as well as wider social science disciplines MotorBoating ,1950-05 Ghost Hunter's Guide to New Orleans Jeff

Covered Wagon Women Marsha E. Montoya, David Duniway, Kenneth L. Holmes, 1999-04-01 The overland trails in the 1860s witnessed the creation of stage stations to facilitate overland travel These stations placed every twenty or thirty miles ensured that travelers would be able to obtain grain for their livestock and food for themselves They also sped up the process of mail delivery to remote Western outposts Tragically the easing of overland travel coincided with renewed conflicts with the Cheyenne and other Plains Indians The massacre of Black Kettle's people at Sand Creek instigated two years of bloody reprisals and counterreprisals Amid this turmoil and change these daring women continued to build on the example set by earlier women pioneers As Harriet Loughary wrote upon her arrival in California after two thousands of miles in an ox team making an average of eighteen miles a day enduring privations and dangers When we think of the earliest pioneers we feel an untold gratitude towards them
