Life Course Perspectives on Military Service Janet May Wilmoth, Andrew S. London, 2013 This edited volume provides a comprehensive and critical review of what we know about military service and the life course what we don't know and what we need to do to better understand the role of military service in shaping people's lives It demonstrates that the military like colleges and prisons is a key social institution that engages individuals in early adulthood and shapes processes of cumulative disadvantage over the life course The chapters provide topical syntheses of the vast but diffuse research literatures on military service and the life course

while the volume as a whole helps to set the agenda for the next generation of data collection and scholarship Chapter authors pay particular attention to how the military has changed over time how experiences of military service vary across cohorts and persons with different characteristics how military service affects the lives of service members spouses children and families and the linkages between research and policy
