The book cover features three young women standing in front of a dark wood-paneled wall. The woman on the left has long, wavy blonde hair and is wearing a dark blue, short-sleeved dress. The woman in the center has long, dark hair and is wearing a light-colored, short-sleeved top with a buttoned placket. The woman on the right has dark hair pulled back and is wearing a black top with a grey underlayer. They all have serious expressions. The title 'LEGACY' is prominently displayed in a white serif font within a dark blue rectangular box in the lower center. Below it, the subtitle 'A PRIVATE NOVEL' is written in a smaller, white sans-serif font, with 'PRIVATE' enclosed in a dark blue box.

Wager, 2009-03-06 With its focus on dangerous determined femmes fatales hardboiled detectives and crimes that almost but never quite succeed film noir has long been popular with moviegoers and film critics alike Film noir was a staple of classical Hollywood filmmaking during the years 1941 1958 and has enjoyed a resurgence in popularity since the 1990s Dames in the Driver's Seat offers new views of both classical era and contemporary noirs through the lenses of gender class and race Jans Wager analyzes how changes in film noir's representation of women's and men's roles class status and racial identities mirror changes in a culture that is now often referred to as postmodern and postfeminist Following introductory chapters that establish the theoretical basis of her arguments Wager engages in close readings of the classic noirs The Killers Out of the Past and Kiss Me Deadly and the contemporary noirs L.A. Confidential Mulholland Falls Fight Club Twilight Fargo and Jackie Brown Wager divides recent films into retro noirs made in the present but set in the 1940s and 1950s and neo noirs made and set in the present but referring to classic noir narratively or stylistically Going beyond previous studies of noir her perceptive readings of these films reveal that retro noirs fulfill a reactionary social function looking back nostalgically to outdated gender roles and racial relations while neo noirs often offer more revisionary representations of women though not necessarily of people of color Sequels Janet G. Husband, Jonathan F. Husband, 2009-07-30 A guide to series fiction lists popular series identifies novels by character and offers guidance on the order in which to read unnumbered series Legacy Kate Brian, 2012-10-11 Everyone at Easton Academy is struggling to recover from the death of Cheyenne Martin especially the girls of Billings Hall With Cheyenne gone they need to elect a new leader and who better than Reed Brennan the ultimate Billings Girl Reed revels in her new found status but she knows that Billings leaders have a tainted legacy Now that Reed has everything she's ever wanted she's got everything to lose And she's about to find out just how tough it is at the top The Shakespeare Legacy Jean Wilson, 1995 Framing First Contact Kate Elliott, 2020-10-29 Representations of first contact the first meetings of European explorers and Native Americans have always had a central place in our nation's historical and visual record They have also had a key role in shaping and interpreting that record In Framing First Contact author Kate Elliott looks at paintings by artists from George Catlin to Charles M Russell and explores what first contact images tell us about the process of constructing national myths and how those myths acquired different meanings at different points in our nation's history First contact images with their focus on beginnings rather than conclusive action or determined outcomes might depict historical events in a variety of ways Elliott argues that nineteenth century artists responding to the ambiguity and indeterminacy of the subject used the visualized space between cultures meeting for the first time to address critical contemporary questions and anxieties Taking works from the 1840s through the 1910s as case studies paintings by Robert W Weir Thomas Moran and Albert Bierstadt along with Catlin and Russell Elliott shows how many first contact representations especially those commissioned and conceived as official history speak blatantly of conquest racial superiority and imperialism Yet others communicate more nuanced messages that might surprise contemporary viewers Elliott suggests it was the very openness of the subject of first contact that allowed artists consciously or not to speak of contemporary issues beyond imperialism and conquest Uncovering those issues Framing First Contact forces us to think about why we tell the stories we do and why those stories matter
