Women in American Operas of the 1950s Monica A. Hershberger, 2023 The first feminist analysis of some of the most performed works in the American opera canon emphasizing the voices and perspectives of the sopranos who brought these operas to life In the 1950s composers and librettists in the United States were busy seeking to create an opera repertory that would be deeply responsive to American culture and American concerns They did not break free however of the age old paradigm so typically expressed in European opera that is of women as either saintly and pure or sexually corrupt with no middle ground As a result in American opera of the 1950s women risked becoming once again opera's inevitable victims Yet the sopranos who were tasked with portraying these paragons of virtue and their opposites did not always take them as their composers and librettists made them Sometimes they rewrote through their performances the roles they had been assigned Sometimes they used their lived experiences to invest greater authenticity in the roles With chapters on The Tender Land Susannah The Ballad of Baby Doe and Lizzie Borden this book analyzes some of the most performed yet understudied works in the American opera canon It acknowledges Catherine Clement's famous description of opera as the undoing of women while at the same time illuminating how singers like Beverly Sills and Phyllis Curtin worked to resist such undoing years before the official resurgence of the American feminist movement In short they ended up helping to dismantle powerful gendered stereotypes that had often reigned unquestioned in opera houses until then

Neo-Victorian Lesbians on Screen Sarah E. Maier, Rachel M. Friars, 2025-09-09 In Neo-Victorian Lesbians on Screen Maier and Friars argue that the on screen portrayal of lesbians situated in the long nineteenth century across various countries is at the very least a dual task the imperative project of revoicing lesbian silence and female companionship is complicated by the lack of and/or complex representation of such women in the past The adaptations with varying degrees of success carefully manipulate the gaze of the viewer to illustrate both how crucial the act of looking proves to be for lesbian attachment in these films and how the viewer's own gaze changes the way the lesbian is represented Maier and Friars consider the adaptations awareness of the audience and the ways in which the films implicitly acknowledge the stakes behind bringing the lesbian to life as it were in visual media Because screen adaptations disrupt historical distance by literally picturing Victorian subjects via a medium they did not have film adaptations of novels and biofictions and original screenplays are challenged by the lesbian subject's vivid presence on screen The lesbian is no longer a contained neo Victorian presence in the othered nineteenth century but her very existence on screen signals her effervescent modernity which filmmakers alternately embrace or reject Dramatic Revisions of Myths, Fairy Tales and Legends Verna A.

Foster,2012-10-10 These new essays explore the ways in which contemporary dramatists have retold or otherwise made use of myths fairy tales and legends from a variety of cultures including Greek West African North American Japanese and various parts of Europe The dramatists discussed range from well established playwrights such as Tony Kushner Caryl Churchill and Timberlake Wertenbaker to new theatrical stars such as Sarah Ruhl and Tarell Alvin McCraney The book contributes to the current discussion of adaptation theory by examining the different ways and for what purposes plays revise mythic stories and characters The essays contribute to studies of literary uses of myth by focusing on how recent dramatists have used myths fairy tales and legends to address contemporary concerns especially changing representations of women and the politics of gender relations but also topics such as damage to the environment and political violence

Neo-Victorian Biofiction ,2020-09-07 This volume explores the many paradoxes of neo Victorian biofiction a genre that yokes together the real and the imaginary biography and fiction and generates oxymoronic combinations like creative facts fictional truth or poetic truthfulness Contemporary biofictions recreating nineteenth century lives demonstrate the crucial but always ethically ambiguous revision and supplementation of the historical archive Due to the tension between ethical empathy and consumerist voyeurism between traumatic testimony and exploitative expos the epistemological response is per force one of hermeneutic suspicion and iconoclasm In the final account this volume highlights neo Victorianism's deconstruction of master narratives and the consequent democratic rehabilitation of over looked microhistories Lethal

Imagination Michael A. Bellesiles,1999-03 Examining the role of violence in America's past this collection of essays explores its history and development from slave patrols in the colonial South to gun ownership in the 20th century The contributors focus not only on individual acts such as domestic violence murder duelling frontier vigilantism and rape but also on group and state led acts such as lynchings slave uprisings the establishment of rifle clubs legal sanctions of heterosexual aggression and invasive medical experiments on women's bodies The Mystery Fancier (Vol. 8 No. 3) May-June 1984 Arthur

Centrality of Crime Fiction in American Literary Culture Alfred Bendixen,Olivia Carr Edenfield,2017-06-26 This collection of essays by leading scholars insists on a larger recognition of the importance and diversity of crime fiction in U S literary traditions Instead of presenting the genre as the property of Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler this book maps a larger territory which includes the domains of Mark Twain F Scott Fitzgerald William Faulkner Richard Wright Flannery O Connor Cormac McCarthy and other masters of fiction The essays in this collection pay detailed attention to both the genuine artistry and the cultural significance of crime fiction in the United States It emphasizes American crime fiction s inquiry into the nature of democratic society and its exploration of injustices based on race class and or gender that are specifically located in the details of American experience Each of these essays exists on its own terms as a significant contribution to scholarship but when brought together the collection becomes larger than the sum of its pieces in detailing the centrality of crime fiction to American literature This is a crucial book for all students of American fiction as well as for those interested in the literary treatment of crime and detection and also has broad appeal for classes in American popular culture and American modernism Did Lizzie Borden Axe for It? David Rehak,2005 One Thursday morning August 1892 in the safe and sleepy mill town of Fall River Massachusetts Andrew and Abby Borden were savagely hacked to death in their home Their upstanding and respectable younger daughter Lizzie was suspected and tried for their murders but was acquitted of the crime Fall River Massachusetts is a port town on Mount Hope Bay at the mouth of the Taunton River The city has numerous historical buildings and tourists come to see the famous battleship USS Massachusetts from World War 2 The ancient Indian name for the area is Quequechan which means falling water In 1656 the community was established by settlers hailing from Plymouth Colony In 1811 the first cotton mill was established and in time the city became well known for its textile mills which brought it prosperity well into the 1920s It was these mills in large part that made Lizzie Borden s father Andrew a rich man by 1892 David Rehak spent eight years four years of study two years of research and two more years of writing and revision in the production of this book He became intrigued with Lizzie Borden after viewing an A E television biography on her in 1996 According to Mr Rehak Lizzie was an average unremarkable woman and the most extraordinary criminal or criminal suspect in history She was a tiny grain of sand an absolute nobody who no one took much notice of and if she had not been accused of murder she would have lived a low profile life and vanished from the world s memory like the flame of a candle But after she was accused of murder she became an unforgettable symbol and legend an absolute somebody The debate on whether Lizzie Borden was innocent or guilty brings out passionate feelings and disagreements in every sort of person In fact during the trial according to the New York Times it was estimated that about nineteen hundred marriages ended in divorce because of the intense difference of opinion between husbands and wives that the controversy created Included in this book are strikingly rare new and unpublished revelations about Lizzie's private life The book also contains photographs cartoons original artwork quotes and poetry most of which are rare and never before seen Did Lizzie Borden take an axe and kill her parents The divide between those who believe she did the crime and those who don't sometimes runs deep This book reveals certain probabilities that should not be suppressed or ignored probabilities that deserves scholarly and thoughtful consideration

Narrating the News Karen Roggenkamp, 2005 Due to a burgeoning print marketplace during the late nineteenth century urban newspapers felt pressure to create entertaining prose that appealed to readers drawing on popular literary genres such as travel adventures detective tales and historical romances as a way of framing the news for readers Using current events for their source documents reporters fashioned their own dramas based on those that readers recognized from a broadly drawn literary culture The desire to spin attractive popular tales sometimes came at the expense of factual information This novel commercialized and sensationalistic style of reporting called new journalism was closely tied to American fiction In Narrating the News Karen Roggenkamp examines five major stories featured in three respected New York newspapers during the 1890s the story of two antebellum hoaxes Nellie Bly's around the world journey Lizzie Borden's sensational trial Evangelina Cisneros's rescue from her Spanish captors and the Janet Cooke Jimmy's World scandal to illustrate how new journalism manipulated specific segments of the literary marketplace on vital topics in literary and cultural studies gender expansionism realism and professionalization Unlike previously published studies of literature and journalism which focus only on a few canonical figures Roggenkamp looks at part of the history of mass print communications more generally exposing the competitive and reinforcing interplay between specific literary genres and their journalistic revisions Narrating the News provides an original significant contribution to the fields of literature journalism history and cultural studies
