Journey by Moonlight Antal Szerb, 2002-01-01 Antal Szerb is one of the great European writers Ali Smith A novel to love as well as admire always playful and ironical full of brilliant descriptions bon mots and absurd situations Guardian A major modern classic the turbulent story of a businessman torn between middle class respectability and sensational bohemia Mihály and Erzsi are on honeymoon in Italy Mihály has recently joined the respectable family firm in Budapest but as his gaze passes over the mysterious back alleys of Venice memories of his bohemian past reawaken his old desire to wander When bride and groom become separated at a provincial train station Mihály embarks on a chaotic and bizarre journey that leads him finally to Rome where he must reckon with both his past and his future In this intoxicating and satirical masterpiece Szerb takes us deep into the conflicting desires of marriage and shows how adulthood can reverberate endlessly with the ache of youth Part of the Pushkin Press Classics series timeless storytelling by icons of literature hand picked from around the globe Translated by Len Rix Antal Szerb was born in Budapest in 1901 Though of Jewish descent he was baptised at an early age and remained a lifelong Catholic He rapidly established himself as a formidable scholar through studies of Ibsen and Blake and histories of English Hungarian and world literature He was a prolific essayist and reviewer ranging across all the major European languages Debarred by successive Jewish laws from working in a university he was subjected to increasing persecution and finally murdered in a forced labour camp in 1945 Pushkin Press publishes his novels The Pendragon Legend Oliver VII and his masterpiece Journey by Moonlight as well as the historical study The Queen's Necklace and Love in a Bottle and Other Stories Traveler and the Moonlight, 2016-02-12 Special 70th Anniversary American Edition A new translation by writer and poet Peter Hargitai Writer and poet Peter Hargitai working on an English translation of Utas's holdvilg Traveler and the Moonlight in 1988 met with Szerb's widow Klara curious to know whether there had been real life models for the novel's characters particularly for Tams and Eva who intrigued him above all the others In answer Klara Szerb pointed out a framed photograph on a bookshelf a youngish man with a pale aristocratic melancholy face This is Tams Mrs Szerb said My husband's beloved schoolmate And Eva Who is Eva I asked She held up that very picture This is also Eva Tams and Eva are one and the same Klara Szerb went on to insist that Hargitai keep the secret of Tams and Eva's single biographical precedent until after her death And there we have a clue not only to the mysterious androgyny of Tams and Eva and to the sexually unconventional nature of Mihály's relationship with them but also perhaps to an unresolved chapter from Szerb's past one that held mysteries potent enough to give rise to a novel Julie Orringer Author of The Invisible Bridge I hope The Traveler reaches thousands and thousands of readers Elie Wiesel Distinguished Nobel Laureate Jews in an Illusion of Paradise Norman Simms, 2017-03-07 The focus of this volume is on essential themes images and generic patterns beginning with a Talmudic legend about four scholars They by means of daring mystical interpretations of Scripture entered a Paradise representing different means of imaginative reading perception memory and application of the law One of them died one

went mad another became a heretic and the other came back as a traditional exegete and teacher Based on that legend this book examines a small group of late 19th and early 20th century European Jewish intellectuals and artists in the light of their dreams writings and moments of crisis These men and women comedians in both the sense of stage actors and clowns or witty performers believed they had entered a new secular and tolerant society but discovered that there was no escape from their Jewish heritage and way of seeing the world This monograph looks into the imperfect mirror of cultural experience discovers a hazy world of illusions dreams and nightmares on the other side of the looking glass and sometimes constructs a midrashic conceit of the comical and grotesque screen between them      Unpacking My Library Leah Price, 2011-11-29 As words and stories are increasingly disseminated through digital means the significance of the book as object whether pristine collectible or battered relic is growing as well Unpacking My Library Writers and Their Books spotlights the personal libraries of thirteen favorite novelists who share their collections with readers Stunning photographs provide full views of the libraries and close ups of individual volumes first editions worn textbooks pristine hardcovers and childhood companions In her introduction Leah Price muses on the history and future of the bookshelf asking what books can tell us about their owners and what readers can tell us about their collections Supplementing the photographs are Price's interviews with each author which probe the relation of writing to reading collecting and arranging books Each writer provides a list of top ten favorite titles offering unique personal histories along with suggestions for every bibliophile Unpacking My Library Writers and Their Books features the personal libraries of Alison Bechdel Stephen Carter Junot Díaz Rebecca Goldstein and Steven Pinker Lev Grossman and Sophie Gee Jonathan Lethem Claire Messud and James Wood Philip Pullman Gary Shteyngart and Edmund White      Modern Hungarian Culture and the Classics Péter Hajdu, 2024-07-11 Péter Hajdu examines the cultivation of the Classics as an intellectual framework and crucial ingredient of the western aspect of Hungarian national identity This book approaches the relationship of modern Hungarian culture to classical heritage from the various viewpoints of identity politics education translation history scholarship and its impact on literature When the Hungarian nation building project developed ideas of national identity it necessarily incorporated the historical narrative according to which the Hungarians arrived at their current homeland in the Middle Ages and only later did it adopt European culture The duplicity of a mostly imagined Asian pagan barbaric or nomadic culture and a Western Christian civilized identity deeply rooted in European culture has played and continues to play a role in the Hungarian discourse Hajdu also studies the gradual disappearance of classics from the Hungarian school education since the 19th century which has been accompanied by fervid political debates However over this period translations of classical texts paradoxically became more frequent and popular with the decline of a classical education even though fewer readers had access to the original texts Despite this change the translation strategies tended to remain school bound The knowledge of classical literature still leaves traces on Hungarian literature which Hajdu explores using examples from nineteenth century novels and contemporary poetry This book sheds
