Life and Times of Michael K J.M. Coetzee, 2015-05-28 In a South Africa torn by civil war Michael K sets out to take his mother back to her rural home On the way there she dies leaving him alone in an anarchic world of brutal roving armies Imprisoned Michael is unable to bear confinement and escapes determined to live with dignity Life and Times of Michael K goes to the centre of human experience the need for an interior spiritual life for some connections to the world in which we live and for purity of vision This is a truly astonishing novel I finished Life Times of Michael K in a state of elation for all the misery and suffering it contains I cannot recommend it highly enough Evening Standard Life & Times of Michael K J. M. Coetzee, 1983 Coetzee here tells the story of a handicapped young man who has worked as a municipal gardener in Cape Town His mother is dying and she wishes to return to her birthplace out in the veldt Without the required transit passes mother and son set out on a journey that will end in death for her and in a new but temporary life on an abandoned farm for him His respite in isolation and peace does not last long however grotesque reality soon returns to trouble this quiet new world Against the solitude of this private drama Coetzee paints an eloquent and pained picture of his homeland and of the bureaucrats doctors army deserters and camp guards who reveal the stress and gualms of their existence and who uneasily sense that there is no conclusion to their troubles and no future for their lives Life and Times of Michael K by J. ethical undertaking It discusses Coetzee s complex relation to apartheid and post apartheid South Africa the land of his birth and evaluates his complicated responses to the literary canon Coetzee emerges as both a modernist and a highly self aware postmodernist a champion of the truths of aliterary enterprise conducted unrelentingly in the mode of self confession Contributors Chris Ackerley Derek Attridge Carrol Clarkson Simone Drichel Johan Geertsema David James Michelle Kelly Sue Kossew MikeMarais James Meffan Tim Mehigan Chris Prentice Engelhard Weigl Kim L Worthington Tim Mehigan is Professor of Languages in the Department of Languages and Cultures at the University of Otago New Zealand and Honorary Professor in the Department of Languages and Comparative Cultural Studies at the University of Queensland Australia

Secretary of the Invisible Mike Marais, 2009 How do individuals who are part of a community respond to the stranger as a stranger i e without simply positioning this outsider in opposition to the community in which they are located How may individuals receive something unknown and therefore surprising into their world without compromising it by identifying it in the terms of that world In this study Mike Marais traces the various ways in which Coetzee's fiction from Dusklands through to Slow Man repeatedly poses such questions of hospitality It is shown that the form of ethical action staged in Coetzee s writing is grounded not in the individual s willed and rational achievement but in his or her invasion and possession by the strangeness of the stranger This ethic of hospitality Marais argues has a strong aesthetic dimension for Coetzee the writer is inspired to write by being acted upon by a force from beyond the phenomenal world. The writer is a secretary of the invisible She or he is responsible to and for the invisible Marais maintains that this understanding of writing as an involuntary response to that which exceeds history is evident from the first in Coetzee's fiction In readings of the novels of the apartheid era he traces this writer's rueful ironic awareness of the limited even incidental form of political engagement that may emanate from such an aesthetic He then goes on to argue that if it is the writer s obligation to render visible the invisible writing must be a task that can never be completed What is more such writing is thus bound to be iterative in form With this in mind he traces the structural similarities between Coetzee's writing of the apartheid period and his post apartheid and Australian writing arguing that the later texts are self reflexively aware of their endlessly repetitive nature These contentions are developed incrementally through close readings of the individual novels that focus on recurring metaphors of hospitality visitor the stranger the house the castaway the invisible the dream and the child The Cambridge Companion to J.M. Coetzee Jarad Zimbler, 2020-04-30 Presents lucid and exemplary critical essays introducing readers to J M Coetzee's works Life & Times of Michael K.J. M. Coetzee, 1985 Michael K. a young South African becomes practices horizons and relations unwillingly and unwittingly involved in a war in South Africa after he loses his gardening job in Capetown and embarks on an odyssey to return his dying mother to her homeland I.M. Coetzee and the Paradox of Postcolonial Authorship Jane Povner.2016-05-06 In her analysis of the South African novelist J M Coetzee's literary and intellectual career Jane Poyner illuminates the author's abiding preoccupation with what Poyner calls the paradox of postcolonial authorship Writers of conscience or conscience stricken writers of the kind Coetzee portrays whilst striving symbolically to bring the stories of the marginal and the oppressed to light always risk reimposing the very authority they seek to challenge From Dusklands to Diary of a Bad Year Poyner traces how Coetzee rehearses and revises his understanding of the ethics of intellectualism in parallel with the emergence of the new South Africa She contends that Coetzee's modernist aesthetics facilitate a more exacting critique of the problems that encumber postcolonial authorship including the authority it necessarily engenders Poyner is attentive to the ways Coetzee's writing addresses the writer's proper role with respect to the changing ethical demands of contemporary political life Theoretically sophisticated and accessible her book is a major contribution to our understanding of the Nobel Laureate and to postcolonial studies Garden Plots Shelley Saguaro, 2006 Focusing on a range of twentieth century texts and including relevant twenty first century writing Garden Plots explores the ways in which gardens in fiction represent more than just a familiar theme Bound up with wider aesthetic and ideological issues gardens like literary forms are subject to transformations. The term plots is a keyword in this approach It refers to garden plots literary plots and more generally the plotting that is political polemical and subversive Each of the six chapters includes four texts that are familiar and representative Authors include Virginia Woolf Eudora Welty Carol Shields J M Coetzee Toni Morrison Leslie Marmon Silko Jamaica Kincaid and Philip K Dick J.M. Coetzee and the Ethics of Power Emanuela Tegla, 2016-01-12 For I was not as I liked to believe the indulgent pleasure loving opposite of the cold rigid Colonel I was the lie that Empire tells itself when times are easy he the truth that Empire tells when harsh winds blow Thus the Magistrate confesses in Coetzee's 1980 novel Waiting for the Barbarians The present study looks closely into the unsettling effects Coetzee's novels have on the reader and explores the interconnectedness between stylistic choices and moral insights Its overall aim is to disclose the effectiveness of Coetzee's narrative strategies to prompt the reader to engage in self questioning and radical revisions of personal and social moral assumptions This is an original and ground breaking study of Coetzee's work Dr Tegla's insightful close readings highlight the ways in which Coetzee fictionalizes a variety of moral dilemmas In particular she shows how he turns narrative into an instrument for moral discernment Her narratological approach advances our understanding of his achievements and I can state without reservation that this book will be referred to as a landmark in Coetzee criticism Richard Bradford Research Professor and Senior Distinguished Research Fellow Nadine Gordimer Dominic Head, 1994-11-10 The award to Nadine Gordimer of the Nobel Prize for University of Ulster Literature in 1991 was an affirmation of her distinctive contribution to twentieth century fiction and to the creation of a literature that challenges apartheid In this study which may be used as an introduction as well as by those already familiar with Gordimer's work Dominic Head discusses each of her novels in detail paying close attention to the texts both as a reflection of events and situations in the real world and as evidence of her constant rethinking of her craft Head shows how Gordimer's concerns apparent in her earliest novels are developed through increasing stress on the politics of textuality and he pursues the implications of this development to consider how Gordimer's later work contributes to postmodernist fiction and to a recentering of political engagement in an era of uncertainty
