race gender sexuality class or ability have access to the basic resources required to flourish      No Alternative Rosalynn A. Vega, 2018-11-14 Recent anthropological scholarship on new midwifery centers on how professional midwives in various countries are helping women reconnect with nature teaching them to trust in their bodies respecting women's choices and fighting for women's right to birth as naturally as possible In No Alternative Rosalynn A Vega uses ethnographic accounts of natural birth practices in Mexico to complicate these narratives about new midwifery and illuminate larger questions of female empowerment citizenship and the commodification of indigenous culture by showing how alternative birth actually reinscribes traditional racial and gender hierarchies Vega contrasts the vastly different birthing experiences of upper class and indigenous Mexican women Upper class women often travel to birthing centers to be delivered by professional midwives whose methods are adopted from and represented as indigenous culture while indigenous women from those same cultures are often forced by lack of resources to use government hospitals regardless of their preferred birthing method Vega demonstrates that women's empowerment having a choice is a privilege of those capable of paying for private medical services albeit a dubious privilege as it puts the burden of correctly producing future members of society on women's shoulders Vega's research thus also reveals the limits of citizenship in a neoliberal world as indigeneity becomes an object of consumption within a transnational racialized economy      Postcolonial Literature Pramod K. Nayar, 2008      The Postcolonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 2024-07-11 The most comprehensive collection of postcolonial writing theory and criticism this third edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to include 125 extracts from key works in the field Leading as well as lesser known figures in the fields of writing theory and criticism contribute to this inspiring body of work that includes sections on nationalism hybridity diaspora and globalisation As in the first two editions this new edition of The Postcolonial Studies Reader ranges as widely as possible to reflect the remarkable diversity of work in the discipline and the vibrancy of anti imperialist and decolonising writing both within and without the metropolitan centres This volume includes new work in the field over the decade and a half since the second edition was published Covering more debates topics and critics than any comparable book in its field The Postcolonial Studies Reader provides the ideal starting point for students and issues a potent challenge to the ways in which we think and write about literature and culture      Postcolonial African Writers Siga Fatima Jagne, Pushpa Naidu Parekh, 2012-11-12 This reference book surveys the richness of postcolonial African literature The volume begins with an introductory essay on postcolonial criticism and African writing then presents alphabetically arranged profiles of some 60 writers including Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Doris Lessing Tsitsi Dangarembga Tahbar Ben Jelloun among others Each entry includes a brief biography a discussion of major works and themes that appear in the author's writings an overview of the critical response to the author's work and a bibliography of primary and secondary sources These profiles are written by expert contributors and reflect many different perspectives The volume concludes with a selected general bibliography of the most important critical works on postcolonial African literature      Sexuality and War Evelyne Accad, 1990-12-01 A courageous analysis of Arab writers addressing the connections between masculinity violence and nationalism Robin Morgan Ms Rarely have sexuality and war been treated with such poignancy and historical concreteness The force of these often intertwined phenomena endemic to the human condition are considered with incisive and wrenching specificity from within one of the most baneful convergences of sexuality and war in recent history Djelal Kadir editor World Literature Today Personal powerful passionate uncensored Fedwa Malti Douglas The Journal of Women s History A welcome departure from stereotypical nationalist conceptions from which no solutions to the current impasse can possibly emerge Joel Benin The Middle East Report Accad s extraordinary pacifism is deeply compelling to women as it is deeply challenging to men Andrea Dworkin A splendid book Drawing on interviews with Lebanon s village women and her close readings of Lebanon s contemporary novelists Accad manages to pull back the veil that has shrouded so many conventional nationalisms revealing their roots in men s effort to control women s sexuality Cynthia Enloe author of Does Khaki Become You Extraordinary in weaving together literature feminist theory and theories of war and violence Her analysis of the relationships between sexuality war and nationalism is stunning in its frankness and importance Berenice A Carroll Purdue University It is in the women s writings on the Lebanese civil war that Accad discerns alternative visions that could shape a non violent reality Miriam Cooke The Middle East Studies This book should remind us how patriarchies can operate similarly in societies we most often define through difference Accad s forthright critically respectful caring treatment of Lebanese lives and worlds resonates as we engage with the longterm repercussions of the Gulf War Marilyn Booth Women s Review of Books This compelling book offers an exploration of the indissoluble link between war and sexuality based on over twelve years of interviews by the well known Lebanese expatriate teacher critic and writer Evelyne Accad explores what she calls the indissoluble link between war and sexualtiy She refers to sexuality as the physical and psychological relations of men and women and examines Middle Eastern customs involved in defining such relationships She argues that many of the problems faced by societies at war stem from the way male sexuality is viewed and imposed and from the oppression of women within cultural parameters For twelve years Professor Accad interviewed women throughout the Middle East about their sexuality and relationships with men On the basis of these interviews and a close study of six novels written by both men and women on the subject of the Lebanese war she explores the connection between sexualtiy and war and contrasts the reactions of male authors with those of their female counterparts Each author views war as having roots in sexuality Evelyne Accad concludes that there is a need for a new rapport between men and women women and women and men and men there is a ned for relationships based on trust recognition of the other tenderness equal sharing and love devoid of jealousy and possession Since the personal is the political changes in relationships traditionally based on domination oppression and power games will inevitably rebound in other spheres of life      Love Anna G. unique timely book of original essays sets the stage for a new materialist feminist debate on the analysis ethics and politics of love The contributors raise questions about social power and domination situating their research in a materialist feminist perspective that investigates love historically in order to understand changing ideologies representations and practices The essays range from studies of particular representations and examples of love feminist translation mass media images and internet love blogs to feminist theories of love and marriage to ethical and political theories describing critiquing or advocating the use of love in groups as a radical force They break new ground in bringing together questions of gendered interests in love temporal dimensions of loving practices and the politics of love in radical transformations of society The Post-colonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 1995 The Post Colonial Studies Reader is the most comprehensive selection of key texts in post colonial theory and criticism yet compiled This collection covers a huge range of topics featuring nearly ninety of the discipline's most widely read works The Reader's 90 extracts are designed to introduce the major issues and debates in the field of post colonial literary studies This field itself however has become so varied that no collection of readings could encompass every voice which is now giving itself the name post colonial The editors in order to avoid a volume which is simply a critical canon have selected works representing arguments with which they do not necessarily agree but rather which above all stimulate discussion thought and further exploration Post colonial theory has occurred in all societies into which the imperial force of Europe has intruded though not always in the official form of theoretical text Like the description of any other field the term has come to mean many things but this volume hinges on one incontestable phenomenon the historical fact of colonialism and the palpable consequences to which this phenomenon gave rise The topic involves talk about experience of various kinds migration slavery suppression resistance representation difference race gender place and reaction to the European influence and about the fundamental experiences of speaking and writing by which all these come into being In compiling this reader the editors have sought to stimulate people to ask How might a genuinely post colonial literary enterprise proceed The fourteen sections include Issues and Debates Universality and Difference Textual Representation and Resistance Postmodernism and Post Colonialism Nationalism Hybridity Ethnicity and Indigeneity Feminism and Post Colonialism Language The Body and Performance History Place Education and Production and Consumption Contributors include many of the leading post colonial theorists and critics such as Franz Fanon Chinua Achebe Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o Homi Bhabha Derek Walcott Edward Said and Trinh T Minh-ha in addition to a number of the discourse's newer voices The Post Colonial Studies Reader will prove an authoritative compilation representing an invaluable contribution to the study of post colonial theory and criticism Snapping Beans Jayme N.

Canty, 2024-08-01 Snapping Beans offers a collective narrative of Southern queer lesbian women and gender nonconforming persons Throughout the text the American South acts as both a region and a main character one that can shame and condemn but also serve as a site of reconciliation Blending autoethnography and oral histories Jayme N Canty explores how both geographic location and social spaces such as the Church intersect with categories such as race gender and sexuality to shape and mark identity Just as the intergenerational practice of snapping beans provides an opportunity to slow down Cauty enables readers to make space and to hear a new Southern narrative Filled with both hurt and healing Snapping Beans chronicles a multivocal journey of coming out ultimately revealing a South where Black queer lesbians not only live but also more importantly thrive

Dialogues Across Diasporas Marion Rohrleitner, Sarah E. Ryan, 2013 Dialogues Across Diasporas focuses on the shared historical legacies of members of the Africana and Latina diasporas and the cultural impact of the African diaspora in the Americas This book seeks to emphasize connections rather than divisions among different migratory ethnic communities via a reconfiguration of borders and ethnic identities This collection of essays has three major goals first to foreground shared themes and strategies in the literary productions of women of Africana and Latina o descent second to highlight the importance of the arts for community activism within shared diasporic spaces and third to illustrate the potential of artistic and activist collaborations among women from both groups across disciplinary political national and ethnic divides Dialogues across Diasporas is divided into three sections The first section provides a theoretical overview of diasporic migrations politics and identities It argues that diverse diasporas can unite around shared political and cultural experiences such as converting contested spaces into communities and resisting rhetorics of exclusion The second section demonstrates the diverse ways in which migratory women and daughters of the diaspora frame their histories lived experiences and different forms of knowledge via poetry short stories academic essays and other art forms The third section focuses on women s activism suggesting opportunities for collaboration among and between diverse diasporic communities

Words of Fire Beverly Guy-Sheftall, 2011-07-26 In this pathbreaking collection of articles Dr Beverly Guy Sheftall has taken us from the early 1830s to contemporary times Only since the seventies have black women used the term feminism And yet it is that concept that she uses to bring into the same frame the ideas and analyses of Maria Stewart Sojourner Truth and Frances W E Harper of the early nineteenth century and the work of women such as the late Audre Lorde Barbara Smith and bell hooks who stand on the threshold of the twenty first century She has refused to cut off contemporary African American women from the long line of sisters who have righteously struggled for the liberation of African American women from the dual oppressions of racism and sexism From the epilogue by Johnnetta B Cole President Spelman College The indefatigable Beverly Guy Sheftall has put together a breathtaking sweep of African American feminist thought in one indispensable volume Elizabeth Spelman Professor of Philosophy Smith College

Mary Magdalene, La Malinche, and the Ethics of Interpretation Jennifer Vija Pietz, 2022-11-08 By comparing the intersecting histories of interpretation of Mary Magdalene a first century disciple of Jesus and La Malinche a sixteenth century Mesoamerican woman enslaved by the Spanish conquistadores Jennifer Vija Pietz critically evaluates the use of past lives to address contemporaneous concerns She demonstrates how the earliest sources portray each woman as an agent in the foundation of a new community Magdalene s proclamation of Jesus's resurrection helped form the first Christian community while La Malinche's role as interpreter between Spanish and native people during the Conquest helped establish modern Mexico. Pietz then argues that over time various interpreters turn these real women into malleable icons that they use to negotiate changing conceptions of communal identity and norms. Strikingly popular portraits develop of both women as archetypal whores who represent transgression, portraits that some women have experienced as harmful. Although other interpreters present contrary portraits of Magdalene and La Malinche as admirable emblems of female empowerment, Pietz argues that the tendency to turn real people into icons risks producing stereotypes that can obscure past lives and negatively affect people in the present. In response, she posits strategies for developing historically plausible and ethically responsible interpretations of people of the past.
