Applied Studies In Climate Adaptation:

Applied Studies in Climate Adaptation Jean P. Palutikof, Sarah L. Boulter, Jon Barnett, David Rissik, 2014-12-31 The book advances knowledge about climate change adaptation practices through a series of case studies. It presents important evidence about adaptation practices in agriculture, businesses, the coastal zone, community services, disaster management, ecosystems, indigenous populations and settlements, and infrastructure. In addition to 38 case studies across these sectors, the book contains horizon scoping essays from international experts in adaptation research including Hallie Eakin, Susanne Moser, Jonathon Overpeck, Bill Solecki, and Gary Yohe. Australia's social ecological systems have a long history of adapting to climate variability and change, and in recent decades has been a world leader in implementing and researching adaptation, making this book of universal relevance to all those working to adapt our environment and societies to climate change.

Climate Change Adaptation in the Built Environment Chamindi Malalgoda, Dilanthi Amaratunga, Richard Haigh, Shavindree Nissanka, Nishara Fernando, Ruben Paul Borg, Mo Hamza, 2025-05-02 Global climate change is one of the greatest environmental threats facing humanity, and it is affecting every country on every continent. Recent evidence confirms a close liaison between climate change-induced hazards and the built environment, as the built environment demonstrates a high fragility and vulnerability to hazardous situations. The impact of climate change is particularly pertinent to the built environment given the life expectancy of buildings and the fact that it is essential to adapt the existing built environment to deal with a climate that may be significantly different from that in which it evolved. Coastal regions are highly vulnerable to climate change because, in addition to changes in temperature, precipitation, and more frequent flooding, they will be affected by rising sea levels, wave heights, and accelerated coastal erosion. The built environment exerts considerable influence over coastal communities, local climate, and environment. Coastal areas also tend to be highly populated with many vulnerable urban centres located near the coastal belt. In addressing such challenges, it is important to better understand the impacts of climate change on the built environment and to develop tangible climate adaptation measures for the built environment.

Innovation in Climate Change Adaptation Walter Leal, 2016-01-16 This book introduces innovative approaches to pursue climate change adaptation and to support the long-term implementation of climate change policies. Offering new case studies and data, as well as projects and initiatives implemented across the globe, the contributors present new tools, approaches, and methods to pursue and facilitate innovation in climate change adaptation.

Environmental Studies and Climate Change R C Sobti, Sandeep K. Malhotra, Kamal Jaiswal, Sanjeev Puri, 2022-12-13 Currently, anthropogenic activities have caused unprecedented destruction of the environment at alarming rates, leading to undesirable alterations in air, land, and water. The process of environment degradation has been accelerated by industrial processes which result in waste, as well as overconsumption of natural resources. The ecological balance has been disturbed, and resources have shrunk. All this has resulted in climate change, which has emerged as a major concern in the 21st century. Changes in the environment are driven by demand for energy water and food to raise the standard of living These are also responsible for climate change with contributions from deforestation and CO₂ emissions from fossil fuels such as coal and petroleum The present volume discusses some of the main issues regarding environmental degradation and the causes as well as the impact of climate change which is impacting the ecosystem The effects of various pollutants causes of climate change with case studies on geochemistry and glaciers etc and measures to reduce the impact on biodiversity health etc are discussed in detail in its chapters In a nutshell this volume discusses in detail the following issues Anthropogenic and natural factors in environmental degradation Climate change history causes and threats to abiotic and biotic systems Case studies on the impact of climate change and living systems Mitigation and preparedness for the future Forum for Applied Research and Public Policy

Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC provides a comprehensive assessment of the scientific literature relevant to climate change impacts adaptation and vulnerability The report recognizes the interactions of climate ecosystems and biodiversity and human societies and integrates across the natural ecological social and economic sciences It emphasizes how efforts in adaptation and in reducing greenhouse gas emissions can come together in a process called climate resilient development which enables a liveable future for biodiversity and humankind The IPCC is the leading body for assessing climate change science IPCC reports are produced in comprehensive objective and transparent ways ensuring they reflect the full range of views in the scientific literature Novel elements include focused topical assessments and an atlas presenting observed climate change impacts and future risks from global to regional scales Available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Climate Change Adaptation and Development Tor Håkon Inderberg, Siri Eriksen, Karen O'Brien, Linda Sygna, 2014-11-20 Climate change poses multiple challenges to development It affects lives and livelihoods infrastructure and institutions as well as beliefs cultures and identities There is a growing recognition that the social dimensions of vulnerability and adaptation now need to move to the forefront of development policies and practices This book presents case studies showing that climate change is as much a problem of development as for development with many of the risks closely linked to past present and future development pathways Development policies and practices can play a key role in addressing climate change but it is critical to question to what extent such actions and interventions reproduce rather than address the social and political structures and development pathways driving vulnerability The chapters emphasise that adaptation is about much more than a set of projects or interventions to reduce specific impacts of climate change it is about living with change while also transforming the processes that contribute to vulnerability in the first place This book will help students in the field of climate change and development to make sense of adaptation as a social process and it will provide practitioners policymakers and researchers working at the interface between climate change and development with useful insights for approaching adaptation as part of a larger transformation to sustainability
