Psychology: a Crash Course Paul Carslake,Razwana S. Quadir (author),2019-07-30 The way humans think and behave is endlessly fascinating and often surprising Professional psychologists spend their working lives analyzing individuals mental processes and responses Their subject is a science but their practice and approach are governed by ethics and morality We may all consider ourselves to be incidental psychologists in our daily interactions confident of our ability to judge character read body language or to get to know someone only to find ourselves confounded by seemingly unpredictable actions Why do entirely good people sometimes do bad things Is personality inherited or learned Is there really such a thing as being normal Psychology A Crash Course looks at how these and many other questions have exercised the minds of those leading the way in psychology for more than 100 years It s a story of bold thinking ingenious experiments and sometimes startling conclusions that will make you stop and think
